NEW PLANS FOR MASONIC CLUB MADE

Reorganization and Also Change in Finance System Decided on by Directors

Directors of the Masonic Club of Los Angeles have decided to terminate the life of the organization and to seek a reorganization of its membership—after liquidation of the present organization's indebtedness—into another club under a different name, it was announced yesterday. Officials in announcing the decision to close up the affairs of the club said that a committee of three of its membership has been chosen as receiver.

Louis G. Campbell, on the staff of the Attorney-General; Frank Barnes, secretary of Barker Bros., and A. H. Bradford, president of the Western Refining Company, were named as the committee to accomplish the liquidation.

Bruce Findlay, secretary of the club, yesterday said that the organization had been under a financial strain for some months and that recently a campaign had been under way to obtain 3000 additional members. When this plan failed, Mr. Findlay said, a decision was made for reorganization. A part of this plan will include a refund of membership fees paid by new members obtained during the campaign, he explained.

The Masonic Club of Los Angeles was organized in 1922 and had its first quarters in the Alexandria. Five years ago it moved to its present location at 623 South Grand avenue, where it occupied two floors. According to the plan of reorganization, an effort will be made to recruit from the old membership the nucleus for a new club which will buy the furnishings, valued at $25,000, for enough to pay off debts amounting to $24,500.

COUNTY FIRE WARDEN GETS NEW EQUIPMENT

A request of Fire Warden Turner for $18,000 worth of new equipment for the County Fire Department was granted yesterday by the Board of Supervisors. Prevailing high winds and a low humidity have made the present season most hazardous and the equipment is needed for protection, the warden declared.

NEGRO WRITES SONG

Intended to serve as an aid in stamping out Communistic tendencies, especially among members of the Negro race, a patriotic song has just been written and published by Hilton A. Phillips, Negro songwriter of 1346 Newton street. It is entitled "Viva L'Old Glory." The first copies came from the press yesterday. Phillips proposes to give the piece nation-wide circulation.

Amtorg Soviet Link Admitted

Congressional Committee Batters Through Legal Fencing of Russians

Communist Corporation Given $80,000,000 in American Credit

NEW YORK, July 22. (Exclusive) Despite the formidable protecting defenses set up by their expensive American lawyers, interpreters and aides, two important men of Amtorg, the soviet trading corporation in New York, were hanging on the words of Congressional committee investigating Communist activities in America.

Peter Bogdanov, head of Amtorg Inc., who holds 16,600 shares of stock as trustee for a soviet government-owned bank in Moscow, and Saul Ghael, a naturalized Russian citizen of the United States, who is vice-president of Amtorg, battled Russian circumlocution and evasion against American directness and persistence in the hearings. In the end it was just too bad for the Russians.

CREDIT EXTENDED

Admission that Amtorg is controlled by the Bank of Foreign Trade of the Soviet Union, that this bank is under the domination of the soviet government and that credits totalling $80,000,000 had been granted to the corporation by banks in the United States, were wrung reluctantly from Ghael and Bogdanov at times almost before the embarrassment by the involved and obscure answers of the witnesses. Chairman Hamilton Fish, Jr., of New York, and his two most militant committeemen, John F. Nelson of Maine and Carl G. Bachmann of West Virginia, forced the main witnesses to bow to the line of questioning. The committee, after a long debate, made a concession and permitted Bogdanov to give testimony by affirmation rather than under oath. Bogdanov told the committee that inasmuch as the words of the customary oath contained a reference to God, it would in his case place no additional compulsion on him to speak the truth than if he took no oath.

RED PLEDGE ADMITTED

Bogdanov insisted his affiliation with the Communist party had nothing to do with his refusal to take the oath and was emphatic in his statement he is here under no orders from the Communist committee. He described Amtorg as a commission house doing export and import business between Russia and the United States, but conceded that the soviet has a trade monopoly in Russia.

After admitting that every member is pledged to carry out the program of the Communist party, Bogdanov refused to reply to a question whether two paragraphs of the party program do not require "as a first and absolute condition that

President Terms it Basis for Additional Cuts in World Arms

Naval Treaty Expected to Wipe Out All Fears of Imperialism

WASHINGTON, July 22. (AP)—In the historic East Room of the White House President Hoover today signed the London naval treaty.

Ratification by Great Britain and Japan and the depositing of all three signatures in London remain to be accomplished to bring into full effect the covenant limiting for the first time all categories of fighting vessels for the three great naval powers.

Earlier the Chief Executive had said in a statement that the treaty, which was ratified yesterday by the Senate, will "secure the full defense of the United States" and will lay "the foundation upon which further constructive reduction in world arms may be accomplished in the future."

NATIONAL ATTITUDE

"With the ratification by the other governments," Mr. Hoover said, "the treaty will translate an emotion deep in the hearts of millions of men and women into a practical fact of government and international relations. . . . We should by this act of willingness to join with others in limiting armament, have dismissed from the mind of the world any notion that the United States entertains ideas of aggression, imperial power or exploitation of foreign nations."

Four of the American delegates to the London conference, Vice-President Curtis and two members of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, stood at the elbow of the Chief Executive as he affixed his signature to the treaty which had its beginning less than a year ago in a conference between himself and Prime Minister MacDonald at the Presidential camp in Virginia.

PERSONNEL OF GROUP

Flanking Mr. Hoover on the right and left stood Secretary Stimson and Secretary Adams, both delegates to the conference. About him were grouped the Vice-President, Senators Robinson, Democrat, Arkansas, and Reed, Republican, Pennsylvania, two other delegates to the conference; Chairman Borah of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee and Senator Swanson of Virginia, ranking Democrat on the committee.

The other three delegates of this country, Ambassadors Dawes, Morrow and Gibson, were unable to be present but to them were transmitted the personal congratulations of the President at the adoption by this country of the treaty which they helped negotiate.

In signing the treaty, Mr. Hoover used the same gold pen used by the American representatives in signing the covenant at London. He was dressed in white flannel trousers and a blue double-breasted coat.

LEADER OF HOBOES DIES IN HOSPITAL

James E. How, Grandson of Noted Engineer, Chose Life of Vagrant

STAUNTON (Va.) July 22. (Exclusive)—James Eads How, "millionaire hobo," died in a local hospital this afternoon of pneumonia "evidently superinduced by starvation," according to his physician.

How was 56 years of age, a member of one of the wealthiest and most distinguished families of St. Louis, where he was born. His grandfather was the distinguished engineer, James Eads, who built the bridge over the Mississippi River at St. Louis.

The body was sent to Washington, where it will be met by a brother, Louis How. In accordance with How's wishes it will be cremated.

How arrived in Staunton last Friday evidently in a weak and enfeebled condition and registered at a hotel. For several days he appeared in the lobby and dining-room a few times, and according to hotel employees, "did not eat enough to keep a bird alive." This was explained by How as due to the fact that he was a vegetarian, owing to stomach trouble.

When he did not leave his room Monday hotel employees investigated and found the man ill. He was moved to the hospital this morning.

Born in society, How elected to spend most of his years in the companionship of hobos and at nearly all hobo "conventions" it was How who filled the role of chairman.

Curfew Law on Planes Adopted

NEW YORK, July 22. (Exclusive) Nassau county, Long Island, today established a curfew law for night airplane flights.

Dist.-Atty. Edwards announced that henceforth until September 1 night flying will be limited to 11 p.m. and after that date only until 10 p.m. Mr. Edwards's decision followed a flood of complaints from residents of Nassau county that their slumbers were so affected by the noise of the airplanes that they were incompetent for business the next day.

Spain Boosts Tariff Rates

MADRID, July 22. (AP)—With the object of stabilizing the peseta the Berengur Cabinet will publish in the official Gazette tomorrow a new tariff schedule increasing duties on numerous articles manufactured in the United States.

Among the articles affected are automobiles, sewing machines, bicycles, motorcycles, pneumatic tires, razor blades, paints, silks and hams.

KHJ ASKS PERMIT FOR 50,000 WATTS

WASHINGTON, July 22. (AP)—Don Lee, Inc., applied to the Federal Radio Commission today for permission to increase the power of stations KFRC, San Francisco, and KHJ at Los Angeles from 1000 to 50,000 watts.

STORMS BREAK HEAT WAVE

Midwest and East Get Relief from Sun's Blaze But Several Die in Cooling Tempests

BY JOHN F. GALLAGHER
"Times" Staff Correspondent

CHICAGO, July 22. (Exclusive)—While fairly comfortable summer weather prevailed today over the Middle West and East following a record-breaking heat wave, the rain and windstorms which alleviated the torridity today claimed several lives and did considerable damage in both sections. Eight victims of Monday's heat died in New York, bringing that city's total number of deaths in two days to thirty-nine.

The drought in Indiana where rain fell in only the northern part of the State Monday, continued today in the central and southern portions and was recorded by the Indiana Weather Bureau as the worst since 1878.

DROUGHT SERIOUS

The agricultural department of Purdue University said the Hoosier corn crop will be extremely small but predicted recovery of fall clover, new alfalfa and soy beans, provided there is more rain. Creeks and wells are drying up and Indiana dairymen are reported as slaughtering many cattle for market to forestall their dying from thirst.

Damage by a violent windstorm accompanied by hail which struck portions of Central Illinois Monday evening was appraised today. Heaviest loss was reported at Foosland, northwest of Champaign, where the ten-minute blow uprooted trees, tore off chimneys and shattered plate glass windows.

In the vicinity of Ivesdale and Bement corn was knocked flat. At Sidney, southwest of Champaign, the wind unroofed the postoffice and the plant of the Sidney Times. A farm hand was struck by lightning near Fithian.

CORN CROP CUT

A possible loss of 50,000,000 bushels in the prospective yield of corn is estimated by a semiofficial Washington source. South of Springfield, Ill., this authority estimated the corn yield will be reduced twenty bushels per acre, due to the lack of moisture.

Intermittent showers broke the grip of New York's hot spell this afternoon but not in time to save the lives of at least eight persons who were prostrated by the intense heat Monday. All through the eastern part of the United States the same story was being repeated, varying only in degree. The heat wave is making a last stand in Virginia, where temperatures remain above 100 deg.

Following the showers came storms which took a toll of life.

At New Brunswick, N. J., a heavy wind resembling a tornado killed one woman in the collapse of a two-family house and tore the roofs from several buildings. In Baltimore and Boston lightning struck homes and set fires, killing two persons. In Jamaica, L. I., a bolt struck the steeple of Grace Episcopal Church and started a small fire. Several bricks were thrown into the street but no one was hurt.

HOOVER OFFERS CHILE HEAT TRADE FOR COLD

WASHINGTON, July 22. (AP)—Exchange of some of the Capitol's heat for the coolness of Chile would be considered a fair trade by President Hoover.

He was called on long-distance telephone today by William S. Culbertson, Ambassador to Chile, to exchange greetings with President Ibanez.

When the Ambassador remarked it was very cold down there with the winter months upon them, Mr. Hoover replied he should like to make a trade for some of the coolness.

Later he talked with President Ibanez.

PLEA MADE FOR LIQUOR SUBSTITUTE

Biritish Leader Asserts Alcohol Injurious in Reaction on Drinker

LONDON, July 22. (AP)—Viscount D'Abernon, chairman of the wartime liquor control board, today told the Royal Commission on Licensing the world greatly needs a substitute for alcohol as a beverage.

The Viscount told the Royal Commission, which is investigating the liquor question in Great Britain, "in view of the fact alcohol does badly what it sets out to do, that it is not a true stimulant, and the result it brings is not exempt from disagreeable and injurious reaction, I continue to believe in the eventual concoction of some preferable substitute.

"A vast fortune," he said, "would reward the discoverer, upon whom also would descend the gratitude of humanity."

The beverage would have to be something attractive to the palate and would have to appeal to the drinkers more than liquor does at present, he added.

Hines Sworn in as Chief Over Soldier Affairs

WASHINGTON, July 22. (AP)—Brig.-Gen. Frank P. Hines took the oath of office today as administrator of veterans' affairs and designated Edward W. Morgan as acting commissioner of pensions, Col. George E. Ijams as director of the Veterans' Bureau and Gen. George H. Wood as president of the board of managers of the National Soldiers' Homes.

Agencies dealing with veterans' affairs were consolidated by Congress at the recommendation of President Hoover.

The three officials designated today continue at the head of agencies which were co-ordinated under the new arrangement.

Two Killed in Engine Blast

SCRANTON, (Pa.) July 22. (AP)—An engineer and fireman were killed when the "puller" engine of the Lackawanna Limited passenger train of the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western Railroad exploded at Lehigh Summit, about twenty miles from here, late today.

The dead are John Lynch, engineer, and Ray Whitman, fireman, both of Scranton.

PEN ENDS FILM WAR

Talkie Patents Pact Signed

Germans and Americans Will Divide World Into Three Zones of Activity

Rights Will be Exchanged and New Apparatus Will Unite Best Ideas

(Copyright, 1930, by Chicago Tribune.)

PARIS, July 22. (Exclusive)—Complete accord was reached and an agreement was signed today between the German and American electrical and film interests for an exchange of patents and rights for talkies throughout the world. The exchange of signatures followed months of negotiations under the chairmanship of Will Hays, who will sail for New York tomorrow on the Ile De France.

The globe has been split up into three spheres by agreement; one where the German apparatus alone is to be marketed, one where American machines will be solely utilized, and the rest of the world, where both nations' products will be used interchangeably. The American interests, besides obtaining rights in the United States and its possessions and all parts of the British empire except England, have also obtained hegemony over Russia and India.

MATTER OF CREDIT

The allocation of Russia to America has created considerable surprise because of the closer co-operation between Russian and German industry, but this is explained by the fact that the Reich manufacturers cannot afford to finance the installation of sound picture machines throughout Russia with long-time credit.

Germany will obtain an exclusive market in Austria, Hungary, Scandinavia, Switzerland, Holland and the Little Entente countries, excepting Poland. The large European nations, England, France, Italy, Spain, and South America and Africa, will be divided between the two groups.

NEW MACHINES PLANNED

Besides the interchange of patents and rights, the agreement provides for the construction of new apparatus embodying the best features of both German and American machines, which will be available for installation in all countries. This will enable American talkies to utilize certain German ideas which have proven successful for sound pictures, and certain synchronous improvements which the Berlin laboratories have worked out.

The gold pen used to sign the accord was presented to Will Hays in recognition of his conciliatory attitude as honorary chairman of the conference, which overcame several obstacles which seemed at one time to be leading to a rupture in the negotiations.

AMERICANS ACCUSED OF BRITISH FILM PLOT

(Copyright, 1930, by Chicago Tribune.)

LONDON, July 22, (Exclusive)—That American film producers in England are deliberately making low grade films in order to stamp British films as "bad and wicked" was the startling charge made in the House of Commons today by a Liberal member, Geoffrey Mander, in asking leave to introduce a bill to amend the cinema films act of 1927. This act, he declared, not only failed in its purpose but also hampered the production of films in England.

Under his bill it is proposed to raise the percentage of the quota so that it would not be worth while for Americans to continue this practice.

Mr. Mander told the House that the distribution of films in England is very largely in the hands of American interests, who use their power for the deliberate object of hindering the development of the British film industry.

SCORE DEAD IN TEMBLOR AT NAPLES

Italian Earthquake Does Much Damage and Takes Lives of Nineteen

NAPLES (Italy) July 23. (Wednesday) (AP) — Sharp earth shocks in this region this morning caused deaths estimated at nineteen, injured scores of others and caused much damage to property.

The deaths resulted from the crumbling of houses, three being killed at Naples, ten at Barile, two at Atella and four in country houses near Atella.

Chinese Pirates Plunder Vessel

HONGKONG, July 22. (AP)—The Chinese steamer Helikon was seized and plundered by pirates and fifteen passengers and members of the crew kidnaped and held for ransom Saturday while en route from here to Saigon.

After being in the hands of pirates for forty-eight hours the ship escaped and returned here, its officers relating a tale of piracy and robbery unequaled for years along the China coast.

Will Rogers Remarks:

BEVERLY HILLS, July 22. [To the Editor of The Times:] The Senate adjourned, and here is what happened in twelve hours. Weather turned cool, market picked up, fish started biting, old man 97 years of age whipped his son, 57, for using profanity, girl posing as Indian princess (and by the way there is no such thing as an American Indian princess) well, she said she was a parachute jumper, got up there, got scared to jump and the pilot kicked her out. I nominate him for the Nobel prize. Marconi father of a baby. Hunter boys, endurance flyers, arrived here. They laid over in Riverside sixty miles away last night to rest up for trip in.

RECALL WINS IN DETROIT

Citizens Vote to Oust Mayor

Bowles, in Office Half-Year, Loses, 120,863 to 89,907, in Heavy Turnout

Executive Seeks Re-election; Lawlessness Condoned, Foes Had Charged

DETROIT, July 23 (Wednesday.) (AP)—Gerald (Jerry) Buckley, radio announcer for radio station WMBC was shot and killed by an unidentified assailant at 1:45 a.m. today in the lobby of the La Salle Hotel.

Buckley had delivered addresses on political subjects and described vice conditions in Detroit.

DETROIT, July 22. (AP)—The voters of Detroit today recalled Mayor Bowles by a majority of 30,956 votes out of 210,770 cast from the office he has held for six months.

The vote was the largest ever polled in a special election here and was only 43,000 less than cast in the regular election when Bowles went into office with a majority of less than 9000.

Complete returns from the city's 852 precincts showed 120,863 votes for the recall and 89,907 against.

The Mayor made no statement.

RE-ELECTION SOUGHT

As the result of today's election, the first recall in the city's history, the Mayor becomes a candidate for re-election at another election to be held within thirty days, in the meantime retaining the office.

Bowles was elected last November by a majority of approximately 8500 after a campaign in which he was supported by the Anti-Saloon League and similar organizations as a "reform candidate."

Today's election was the first in the history of any municipality of Detroit's population class in which a Mayor was subjected to a recall fight.

The recall proponents made charges the Mayor had "tolerated

REVEL ENDS IN TRAGEDY

Scores Perish at Rhine Festival

Pontoon Bridge Collapses and Plunges Eighty Into River

Forty Bodies Recovered and Only Seven Rescued; Coblenz Stunned

COBLENZ (Germany.) July 22. (AP)—Tragedy came swiftly tonight to end this city's gay celebration of the evacuation of the Rhineland by foreign troops, in which President Von Hindenburg today was the central figure.

While fireworks were flashing from the historic castle of Ehrenbreitstein across the Rhine River, a pontoon bridge across the Moselle gave way under a crowd of about eighty persons, precipitating them all into the water.

ONLY SEVEN RESCUED

Only seven had been rescued by midnight. All the rest were missing or dead. The bodies of forty were recovered from the water, which was about twenty feet deep. Dredging operations were immediately undertaken by torchlight.

Coblenz was thrown into consternation by the news of the disaster. The bridge was a frail structure, not available for heavy traffic. Thousands of persons had tramped across it on their way back from the banks of the Rhine.

VON HINDENBURG NOTIFIED

When it gave way, the eighty persons were watching the dying flare of the illumination at the castle.

President Von Hindenburg was informed of the disaster. It appears doubtful whether he will continue his program of visits in the Rhineland. He was scheduled to go on to Treves and Aix-La-Chapelle.

VETERANS' SOCIETIES SALUTE OLD LEADER

COBLENZ (Germany) July 22. (AP) President Von Hindenburg late this afternoon motored to the summit of historic Ehrenbreitstein fortress, across the Rhine from Coblenz, to attend the liberation festivities centering about him as the revered head of the nation.

Veterans' societies and sports organizations paraded before him as he took their salute.

Fascists Fight Reds in Berlin

BERLIN, July 22. (AP)—A campaign of violence started in the southern part of Berlin today when the Fascists began tearing down posters put up by Communists.

As fast as the bill posters pasted up the placards their opponents obliterated them.

When this had happened a few times the Communists expressed resentment. In the resulting conflict one Communist and two bystanders were wounded by flying bullets.

MAYOR WALKER PUTS FOOT DOWN ON FRAUD

NEW YORK, July 22. (AP)—Mayor Walker has warned city department heads corruption, irregularity and dishonesty will not be tolerated in his administration. The warning was uttered in an address to executives and deputies of the city's thirty-eight departments which was broadcast over three radio systems last night.

MIXED INFANTS EXAMINED

Scientists, Babies and Parents Put in Hectic Day Trying to Unwind Nursery Tangle

CHICAGO, July 22. (Exclusive)—It was a busy day for the 3-week-old Watkins and Bamberger offspring today, what with having their fontanels (soft spots) pricked for blood tests, their fingerprints made, their craniums measured, their knees hammered for reflexes, and their pictures made under blinding lights.

It was a busy day also for their puzzled parents, who hovered in doorways worriedly watching the man from Vienna gurgle and try to open the tiny fists to make finger prints, as the babies screamed, and other men who endeavored to be charming to the infants as they thumped and tapped, measured and examined them.

TESTS STRENUOUS

What with spending the morning in making tests and most of the afternoon in posing for the talkies, it was rather wearing on all concerned, including the eight doctors, scientists and criminologists who are in the process of deciding whose baby is whose.

The scene of the investigations and its attending problems was the private office of Dr. Arnold H. Kegel, health commissioner.

At the end of the day, Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Bamberger and Mr. and Mrs. William Watkins returned to their separate establishments each with one of the infants. Both babies were born in Englewood Hospital June 30 and it was not until they were at home that it was found the Watkins baby was labeled Bamberger, and vice versa.

The eminent scientists, doctors, investigators and jurist who are to render a decision as to the babies' paternity will meet Thursday morning to do so. Today's events indicated they may have some little difficulty in reaching a decision.

In a report of three typewritten pages, Dr. Gerhardt Von Bonin, anthropologist of the University of Illinois college of medicine, who measured the shape of the faces and heads of parents and infants, concluded finally that the babies have at present the wrong parents.

Dr. Ferdinand Watzek, director of the scientific crime detection laboratory of Northwestern University, formerly of Vienna, will have to spend an additional day and a half in analyzing the babies' fingerprints, comparing them with those of the four parents involved.

REFLEXES COMPARED

"Oh, such work this is," Dr. Watzek exclaimed as he wiped the perspiration off his face and bent with a microscope over his results. Then, dashing back to the baby who, with one fist clenched tightly, defied him to open it, he began to gurgle soothingly. But the infants, who are the youngest Dr. Watzek ever has fingerprinted, declined to be soothed.

Dr. Harold S. Hulbert, psychiatrist, who joined the conference today, reported that he had found that when hit upon the knee with a rubber hammer, the supposed baby Bamberger and Mrs. Bamberger had shown "lively reflexes," and that the supposed baby Watkins's and Mrs. Watkins's reflexes were "normal."

COUNT REVEALS ARIZONA GAINS

Census Discloses 421,641 Population

White Residents Increase 18 Per Cent

Of State's Total 27,134 Are Indians

PHOENIX, July 22. (AP)—Orme Lewis, census supervisor, today announced the final tabulations of census figures for Arizona, placing this State's population at 421,641, including 27,134 Indians. The white population of 394,507 is an increase of 18 per cent over 1920.

Maricopa county, in which Phoenix is located, led the fourteen counties in population gain with 150,800, an increase of 61,224 over the 1920 figure of 89,576. Maricopa has 2175 Indians.

Pima county, in which Tucson is the principal city, enumerated 36,-123 inhabitants, an increase of 59 per cent over the 34,680 persons counted in 1920.

Of the 9921 inhabitants of Apache county this year, 1975 are white persons and 7946 are Indians. Apache showed a decrease of 3279 from its 1920 population of 13,196.

Following are the official figures by counties:

Maricopa	150,809	89,576

NATION'S POPULATION CALCULATED AS 122,957,000

WASHINGTON, July 22. (AP)—A total of about 122,957,000 people—just a few thousand under 123,000,000—probably will be shown as the population of the United States for 1930, when the final count is announced here by Director Steuart of the census.

The 1920 population was 105,710,620. Should final figures bear out the calculation the country would show a growth of around 17,246,000 in the ten years.

This approximate total figure has been calculated by the Associated Press on the basis of actual preliminary returns from forty-one States and the District of Columbia. In these States census supervisors have reported a total of 101,229,324 people as against 86,667,858 ten years ago, forming a close approximation of the rate of growth of the nation. On that rate the entire country's population would be 122,957,307.

Reports still have to come from seven States—Pennsylvania, New Jersey, Oklahoma, Oregon, Louisiana, Mississippi and Idaho.

RENT BILLS FACE BRIDE OF BISHOP

Apartment-house Agent Sees No Romance in Her Marriage to Cannon

NEW YORK, July 22. (Exclusive) When Mrs. Helena McCallum married Bishop James Cannon, Jr., of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, at a surprise wedding in London last week, she became a romantic figure to the world of Methodism. But a prosaic renting agent for an apartment-house in New York where she lived until two months ago failed to see the romantic side.

"Yes, this announcement clears things up for us," the agent said today. "Mrs. McCallum moved in here last October and signed a lease. She went away two months ago, taking her clothes with her. A few weeks later a man came here with a letter authorizing him to remove her furniture to storage. That was the last we heard of her.

"Bishop's bride or not, when she comes back to the United States, we will take this up with her legally," he added. "That lease has a long time to run and the rent is due every month."

Bogdanov caused another stir when he declared that the American officials abroad who okehed his passports knew all about his record as a Communist.

It was disclosed that 552 men in 1929 came from Moscow to join Amtorg here and 484 arrived in the first six months of 1930. When these figures startled the committee, the witness said Amtorg purchased $110,000,000 worth of goods here last year.

Both Bogdanov and Ohsol professed ignorance of the Ogpu or political police of the Soviet Union, and declared the dread Cheka, secret police, was no more.

HOOVER SIGNS SEA TREATY

the Kellogg-Briand pact for outlawing war, powerful Klieg lights beat upon him and the ballroom floor was strewn with the apparatus of the talking-picture operators.

The Chief Executive seated himself at the table and attached his signature, which was attested by Secretary Stimson, a the cameras clicked. The President then repeated a few words from his statement of the morning and shook hands with the group about him. He started to leave the room, but was halted to repeat the ceremony for the newspaper photographers.

The entire ceremony lasted less than five minutes.

TEXT OF STATEMENT

The President, in his statement, said:

"I shall have the gratification of signing the naval treaty this afternoon at 3 o'clock. It is a matter of satisfaction that this great accomplishment in international relations has at all steps been given united support of both our political parties.

"With the ratification by the other governments the treaty will translate an emotion deep in the hearts of millions of men and women into a practical fact of government and international relations.

"It will renew again the faith of the world in the moral forces of good will and patient negotiation as against the blind forces of suspicion and competitive armament. It will secure the full defense of the United States. It will mark a further long step toward lifting the burden of militarism from the backs of mankind and to speed the march forward of world peace.

FUTURE CUTS FORESEEN

"It will lay the foundation upon which further constructive reduction in world arms may be accomplished in the future.

"We should, by this act of willingness to join with others in limiting armament, have dismissed from the mind of the world any notion that the United States entertains ideas of aggression, imperial power or exploitation of foreign nations."

After the signing of the ratification, Secretary Stimson cabled instructions to the American embassies in Rome, Paris, Tokio and London, directing they inform the respective foreign offices of the signature. They also were instructed to place before the foreign ministers a copy of the reservation attached by the Senate to the treaty.

The ratification instrument signed by the President will be taken to London by J. Theodore Marriner, chief of the Western European division of the State Department, and the ranking diplomatic adviser at the London conference. The ratification will be deposited at the American Embassy in London until the ceremony of the formal deposit of the other signatory powers at the British Foreign Office.

MacDONALD TO HASTEN ACTION BY ENGLAND

LONDON, July 22. (AP)—The House of Commons will proceed immediately with the further consideration of the bill for giving effect to the London naval treaty, Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald informed the House this afternoon.

Asked by former Premier Stanley Baldwin whether it was necessary the second reading of the bill take place tomorrow, or whether it would be left over until the autumn, MacDonald replied that the bill will be considered on its second reading tomorrow.

"I have made further inquiries about the bill," the Prime Minister said, "and I think that under the circumstances it would be very advisable if the second reading were taken now, especially after the ratification of the treaty by the United States Senate yesterday.

"We, therefore, propose to take it, and in view of the debate of yesterday, in which the ground has been so well covered, I think that consideration of the bill on second reading might be reasonably brief."

ADAMS ORDERS REVISION OF BUILDING PROGRAM

WASHINGTON, July 22. (Exclusive)—Revision of the Navy's projected warship building program in the light of the London naval agreement has been ordered by Secretary of the Navy Adams. This program will include vessels now building, appropriated for and authorized, as well as additional ships needed by the Navy but still unauthorized by Congress.

Recommendations outlining the types and numbers of ships which the Navy desires included in a new naval building bill slated for introduction in Congress next fall will be prepared and submitted to President Hoover by Secretary Adams. The size of the bill which will go to Congress will rest largely with the President. Thus far Mr. Hoover has not definitely stated whether he will approve expenditure of sufficient funds to build and maintain all the ships permitted by the treaty.

Estimates today indicated that the Navy will recommend a five-year building program including vessels now authorized and building, which will necessitate an expenditure of between $600,000,000 and $700,000,000 during a period of from five to eight years. This would include only ships considered actually necessary for national defense purposes and would contemplate replacing all ships immediately they reach the age limit in their class, as permitted by the treaty. The cost of a program giving the United States a modern treaty Navy with all ships under the useful age limit set by the pact would cost between $800,000,000 and $900,000,000.

JAPANESE NAVY CHIEFS SAY TREATY DEFECTIVE

NEW YORK, July 22. (AP)—A Tokio dispatch to the New York Times says the naval members of the Supreme Japanese Military Council at their second informal meeting today drew up a report stating the London naval treaty is "defective" for the needs of national defense.

Admiral Takarabe, Navy Minister, who helped negotiate the treaty at London, tried to induce the Council to use milder language, which would have avoided the implication Japanese navy leaders are anxious to repudiate the treaty.

Admiral Togo and Admiral Kanji Kato, former chief of the naval general staff, succeeded in imposing their text over the protest of Admiral Takarabe.

SHOUSE GIVES DEMOCRAT STATEMENT ON TREATY

WASHINGTON, July 22. St. Louis Flyers Seek Lost Title

ST LOUIS, July 22. (AP)—The monoplane Greater St. Louis idled over Lambert-St. Louis Field tonight, the second night up for Dale Jackson and Forest O'Brine, dethroned endurance flight champions who hope to regain their lost laurels with a thirty-day sustained flight.

At 7:11 p.m., central standard time, the airmen had passed thirty-six hours of their long stretch. The motor, throttled down to about sixty-five miles an hour, was functioning smoothly.

RING TRACED IN DOORSTEP BABY FINDS

Canadian Police Arrest Woman as Member of Band Abandoning Infants

ST. HYACINTHE (Que.) July 22. (AP)—One woman is under arrest today and police are trying to round up other members of a ring said to have made a business of abandoning unwanted babies for $50 a child.

The organization is believed by officials to have been depositing the unwanted children on doorsteps within a 100-mile radius of Montreal. Twenty babies have been abandoned in Three Rivers, four in Granby and nine in St. Hyacinthe since April 10.

Four of the babies found in St. Hyacinthe have been identified by young women employed in a maternity home in Montreal as having come from that institution. The babies, police say, are taken from Montreal at night in automobiles and left in small villages on private doorsteps and at the portals of charitable institutions.

lawlessness," that he had impaired efficiency by dismissal of faithful public servants, and that John Gillespie, Commissioner of Public Works, is a "lobbyist and politician" and unfit for the office he holds.

They also attacked the administration of the municipally owned Detroit street railway under Bowles, particularly his dismissal of Frank Couzens, son of United States Senator Couzens, who had opposed Bowles when the latter sought to raise fares, and had attacked the method of awarding insurance contracts.

The recall petitions first appeared soon after the discharge of Harold H. Emmons, whom Bowles earlier had appointed police commissioner. Emmons was removed from office a few days after he led raids on gambling houses while the Mayor and Gillespie were attending the Kentucky Derby. Previously newspapers had charged open gambling was being offered Detroit citizens without hindrance from police.

Plane Drones Into Third Day

ROOSEVELT FIELD (N. Y.) July 22. (AP)—The proposed 1000-hour refuelling flight by Robert Black and Louis Reichers, Army Reserve pilots, was still going strong tonight after fifty-two hours of droning back and forth above Roosevelt Field.

The pilots conquered two obstacles, a fierce heat wave and a thunderstorm, tonight. To foil a broiling sun they doffed all of their clothing, the crew of the refuelling plane reported.

Three double refuelling and food contacts were made during the day.

CASUALTY TOLL IN EGYPT GROWS

Two Killed and Score Hurt at Port Said

Cairo Lists Four Dead and 100 Wounded

House of Commons Assured Situation in Hand

PORT SAID, July 22. (AP)—Two rioters were killed and twenty-eight wounded in fresh disorders which broke out here this afternoon. Police fired into a mob attempting to burn the municipal stables in the native quarters.

Further reinforcements were to arrive in Port Said tonight but the authorities announced the situation, growing out of the political differences between King Fuad and the resigned Premier Nahas Pasha, is well in hand and all trouble has been confined to the native quarter.

The mob threw stones at the police and at a fire brigade summoned to put out a blaze.

There were twelve casualties on the government side before order was established.

TOLL OF DEAD AND WOUNDED MOUNTS

CAIRO, July 22. (AP)—Recapitulation of the casualties resulting from yesterday's clashes in large Egyptian cities shows that at least six persons were killed and 227 wounded.

Four were killed and 100 wounded in Cairo as a result of conflicts between police and Wafdists (Nationalists.)

"SITUATION IN HAND," SAYS BRITISH OFFICIAL

LONDON, July 22. (AP)—Foreign Secretary Henderson informed the House of Commons today that official information from Egypt showed the situation was well in hand.

He stated the Egyptian government itself had indicated there was no need for special protective measures for foreigners.

Mother Killed With Children

CHARLESTON (W. Va.) July 22. (AP)—Two children and their mother were killed when their automobile skidded through the railing of the Kanawha city bridge today and plunged into the Kanawha River about eighty feet below. The dead were:

Mrs. Eva Hupp, 28 years of age, of Coal Fork, Alice, 8, and James, 4.

BRITAIN MOVES TO AID JOBLESS

MacDonald Turns Attention to Growing Problem

All Government Resources Centered on Task

Relief Sought Before Winter Increases Suffering

LONDON, July 22. (AP)—The continued increase of unemployment in Great Britain is viewed with so much apprehension with respect to the approaching winter that Prime Minister MacDonald has taken personal charge of a new drive to offset the evil.

Not since 1922 has the present total of 1,800,000 workless, embittered persons been surpassed. Then it was 1,900,000, but that was when England was in the business slump which followed upon the post-war boom and several union-labor disputes, the most serious of which was the 1921 coal strike.

PENSION DALLIED WITH

There is some indication the labor government is still dallying with the proposal to pension off the old workers, although Philip Snowden has publicly banged and barred the treasury door on any further expenditures of this sort.

The Prime Minister, who is now free of his preoccupations with the London naval conference, has decided to apply all his energies to the unemployment problem, relieving Lord Privy Seal J. H. Thomas of the thankless task he had held the past year.

Mr. MacDonald has begun as chairman of a Cabinet committee which includes all ministers in charge of departments concerned in any way with investigations and formulation of remedial measures with respect to unemployment.

RESOURCES CONCENTRATED

This means in effect the concentration of all the government's resources. A still further step taken is the temporary withdrawal from their ordinary duties of a group of distinguished civil service employees to help the government in its effort. This group constituted as a committee of officials has Sir John Anderson, permanent Secretary of the Home Office, as chairman. The Cabinet's economic adviser has also been attached to the officials' committee.

This new "general staff" is already waging war on unemployment, and the government hopes it may have some concrete results before winter arrives.

YOUNG REBUFFS M'DONALD PLEA

Governor Refuses to Listen to Mooney Case Witness

Supreme Court Sets Tuesday for Hearing of Retractor

Executive Declines to Take Hand Until Tribunal Acts

SAN FRANCISCO, July 22. (Exclusive)—Gov. Young today refused to listen to the story of John MacDonald, the witness who says he committed perjury when he identified Thomas J. Mooney and Warren K. Billings as perpetrators of the Preparedness Day bomb outrage for which they are serving prison terms.

The Governor left the question of MacDonald's veracity to the Supreme Court to decide.

At the same time the Supreme Court agreed to give MacDonald a hearing on the 29th inst., in connection with the new pardon application of Billings. The decision followed a visit to the Governor and to Chief Justice Waste by MacDonald and his attorneys, Charles Ruzicka and Hilary W. Gans of Baltimore, and Frank P. Walsh of New York, attorney for Tom Mooney. Gov. Young and Chief Justice Waste conferred prior to the visit of MacDonald.

WORDY SESSION

The decision of Gov. Young that he would not hear MacDonald was announced shortly after a wordy session behind closed doors, participated in vocally by Attorneys Ruzicka, Gans and Walsh and Gov. Young, while MacDonald sat mutely by.

As far as could be learned, MacDonald did not speak at either the conference with the Governor or with the Chief Justice.

The reopening of the Mooney-Billings cases, as the Supreme Court hearing next Tuesday is viewed by the attorneys concerned, will be held in the chambers of the State Supreme Court with representatives of the press present. Atty.-Gen. Webb will represent the State and will cross-question MacDonald and others who will be heard.

GOVERNOR'S ATTITUDE

Members of the Supreme Court indicated today their hearing will be concerned only with the Billings case. The Mooney case is entirely in the hands of Gov. Young.

Demands were made upon Gov. Young by Attorney Walsh, representing Mooney, and the Mooney defense league, that MacDonald be heard by the Governor immediately in connection with the Mooney pardon application and with no reference to the Billings case. This the Governor declined to do.

"In view of the early hearing," the Governor said, referring to the Supreme Court, "I felt it inexpedient to personally enter upon an examination of Mr. MacDonald at this time, relying upon the assurance of the court that the hearing held by them will be open, complete, and fair to all parties concerned in this very important investigation."

The Town House

wishes you to know:

We lunched with a pessimist today.

When we called for him at his office business was no good, Los Angeles was due for a crash, the United States was on the toboggan and the whole world was in a mess.

We arrived in the Wedgewood Room and were greeted by an aggregation of feminine beauty and smartness that would be difficult if not impossible to match anywhere in the world.

He was impressed and visibly improved in mental outlook.

We ate a delicious lunch.

He faced the gardens and little by little began pointing out the beauty of the flowers, of the lawns, of the artistic decoration of the Room and at 1:45 was completely in harmony with the goodness of life.

We can personally recommend this highly to other troubled downtown men.

P. S. Have you ever made a luncheon engagement with the men of your family in this Restaurant?

Olive producers have asked the government to support experiments which they hope will result in extensive use of olive oil for lubrication now accomplished by mineral oils as a measure toward solving the problem of olive overproduction.

India Awaiting Gandhi Parley

BOMBAY (India) July 22. (AP)—All India tonight awaited with interest the outcome of a private interview which will take place in the Veroda jail at Poona tomorrow between two envoys of the Congress and Mahatma Gandhi, leader of the campaign of civil disobedience against British rule.

The two Hindu statesmen arrived in Poona tonight from Bombay, according to advices, and were prepared to see the "holy one" in his prison quarters without the attendance of any other person. It was predicted the interview might occupy a long time.

"DEAD" ARMY OFFICER IN PENSION FRAUD NET

MEXICO CITY, July 22. (AP)—Col. Gabriel Vasquez who, according to War Department records, was killed in action in 1916, today is in prison charged with conspiring with his wife to pose as dead for the purpose of collecting a pension. The authorities charge that the "widow" collected about 20,000 pesos in which Vasquez shared. The police said they learned the wife thought her husband had been killed and applied for and received a pension. Five years later Vasquez showed up and claimed half of the pension, which, the charge states, he had been receiving from her since.

MOSES PENNED BY OPPONENTS

Senate Campaign Chairman to Stay in East

Steiwer of Oregon Will be G.O.P. Chief in West

Compromise Forced at Hot Committee Session

BY LAURENCE M. BENEDICT
"Times" Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, July 22. (Exclusive)—Senator Steiwer of Oregon is to have the management of the Republican Senatorial campaign west of the Mississippi this fall, and Senator Moses of New Hampshire, chairman of the Senatorial Campaign Committee, is to confine his activities to the East, where his "wisecracks" are better understood and more appreciated.

This division of territory was decided upon today as a compromise at a meeting of the Republican Senatorial Campaign Committee, at which younger Republican members of the Senate, popularly called the "young Turks," demanded Moses's outright resignation as their leader in the approaching campaigns.

PLAIN TALK GIVEN

After the meeting had gotten well under way, Senator Vandenberg of Michigan, chosen as spokesman for the occasion, expressed in straightforward terms the opinion of practically the entire Republican membership of the Senate—that Moses by his reference to western Senators as "sons of the wild jackass," and his more recent opposition to President Hoover on the naval treaty, had disqualified himself as campaign chairman and ought to get out.

Moses refused to resign and, according to all reports, a lively row ensued. After prolonged wrangling an amicable compromise was arranged whereby Moses is to continue to direct the Senatorial campaign in the East and Steiwer is to take command in the West.

WESTERN TRIP OFF

Steiwer had a part in the western campaign in 1928 and performed very creditably. The new arrangement means that he will lead the fight for the nomination and election of Republican Senators in Colorado, Wyoming, Oklahoma, Montana, Nebraska, Iowa, Idaho, New Mexico, Oregon and South Dakota. Senator Moses will keep hands off in those States. Only yesterday he created considerable consternation in Republican ranks by letting it be known he planned to make a personal trip to Montana to help Galen, the Republican nominee, against Senator Walsh. This trip is now off. He will stay in the East.

Another development that came out of the meeting today was the booming by the so-called "young Turks" of Senator Baird of New Jersey as chairman of the Republican National Committee to succeed Claudius Huston, when the latter's long anticipated retirement finally comes about.

Baird, who is leaving the Senate at the end of his present term next March, is preferred by the Senate Republican sophomores to Senator Fess of Ohio, who has been the most prominently mentioned up to this time.

ALLEN LEADS MOVE

The movement for Baird was laid on the doorstep at the White House by Senator Allen of Kansas, who with Vandenberg is the most active among the younger Republican Senators in this and other movements to purge the party of Huston and Moses and bring about better support of President Hoover.

Moses's backing of Huston was another factor in the move to oust Moses as chairman of the Senatorial campaign committee.

Incidentally, the statement of intention promised by Huston "after the Senate adjourns" was not forthcoming today and the Republican chairman was reported out of town. Meanwhile he continues to stick to his post with a determination that would do credit to any flag-pole sitter or endurance flyer.

TARIFF STRESSED

While the Senatorial Campaign Committee was meeting today Representative Wood, of Indiana, and Representative Tilson, of Connecticut, Republican leader in the House, accepted on behalf of the Republican party the Democratic challenge to make the tariff and the record of the Hoover administration to date the dominant issues of the forthcoming contest for control of Congress. They opened up a double offensive against the Democratic strategy and declared the Republicans willing to "go to the country" on the record that has been written by the administration since March 4, 1929.

Encouraged by reports they have received from all sections of the country, both particularly stressed the tariff.

Roofs vere torn away and several small buildings severely jarred.

VIRGINIA ROGERS, ACTRESS, WILL WED

NEW YORK July 22. (AP)—Virginia Rogers, who has appeared on the vaudeville stage with her sister Jane, and in recent years has been playing in New York night clubs, is to be married August 2 to John Keating, Jr., son of the late Col. John Keating of Maryland. Virginia Rogers is a former student at the University of Missouri and a daughter of Mrs. Charles D. Rogers of Mexico, Mo.

RUMANIAN OFFICIAL WILL CHEAT DEATH

BUCHAREST (Rumania) July 22. (AP)—Surgeons today announced Dr. Constantin Angelescu, an attempt on whose life was made yesterday by a student, is out of danger. The doctors said all bullets had been extracted and the patient apparently had escaped the danger of infection.

Really Enjoy Life!
Own a Country Home that Pays You a PROFIT

This 7-room home was built 4 years ago by C. G. Scheubach of the Standard Oil Company. It is surrounded by a flourishing 5½ acre avocado grove. Mr. Scheubach, actively engaged in business, will add substantially to his income through this charming, conveniently located country home, which he cares for in his spare time.

FORTY-five minutes from 7th & Broadway, Los Angeles, a beautiful country estate awaiting for you. Yet the cost of 5 to 10 acres in this famous La Habra Heights property is no more than you would pay for a single narrow lot in a good Los Angeles residential district.

However, instead of being an expensive luxury, this country home can actually pay you a substantial income, through the raising of avocados or citrus fruit. That's why so many business and professional men have adopted this healthier, happier kind of home life.

Some of the most productive 5 to 7 year old orchards in California are at La Habra Heights. Climate, soil and water supply are right for heavy production.

And with these dollars-and-cents advantages, you'll find rolling hills, wooded ravines, oaks and wildflowers ...and elevation that provides inspiring panoramas of ocean, mountains, valleys, orchards and green fields for miles in every direction. Picturesque homes dot the hillsides...the finest type of neighbors are yours. Excellent schools, churches, etc. in a number of nearby cities. (You are only a mile and a half from the city of La Habra, less than an hour from the ocean.)

Edwin G. Hart, Inc., is Southern California's oldest and most successful orchard income land development company. Twenty years of success on the part of our clients is your assurance of reliability and a conservative, genuinely helpful policy.

SLAVICK'S
Annual Watch Event
30 DAYS' FREE TRIAL
10 Months to Pay

Saturday, July 26, Is the Last Day of This Attractive Offer

The SLAVICK JEWELRY CO.
CORDIALLY INVITES YOU TO SELECT ANY WATCH FROM THEIR ENTIRE STOCK AND WEAR IT ON TRIAL FOR THIRTY DAYS
JULY ELEVENTH TO JULY TWENTY-SIXTH

SLAVICK'S July Watch Event is their watch triumph of the year. Especially selected for this occasion are dainty size and attractive shaped Elgins, Hamiltons, Walthams, Illinois, Gruens and Longines, in handsome modern designs.

"You're the Best Judge"

We know that every watch we sell is a good watch, but we do not know which one is best qualified for your particular use. Realizing this, and having your future satisfaction wholly in mind, we have incorporated in our Annual Watch Event a MOST SATISFACTORY TEST.

"30 Days' Free Trial"

Choose any watch from our entire stock and wear it on trial for 30 days. If at the end of that time you are still satisfied with its appearance and pleased with its service, contract to pay for it in ten equal monthly payments. If, on the other hand, you are not perfectly happy with your choice, return it without any obligation whatsoever.

"Conveniently Extended Payments"

When divided into ten equal monthly amounts, the cost need not be an obstacle between you and that desirable watch for which you long. In this convenient manner, you become the possessor of a watch much finer than ordinarily you would have considered owning, and indeed without having missed the payments.

"Distinction and Quality"

When choosing from the products of such reputable manufacturers as Elgin, Hamilton, Waltham, Illinois Gruen and Longines, you have that satisfaction in knowing that your watch will have the latest in style and the finest in quality. Back of your watch purchase stands a manufacturer with a long established record of successful production, besides the prestige of Slavick's—a store enjoying widespread recognition as a highly perfected and reliable jewelry establishment.

"Worthy of Consideration"

Slavick's July Watch Event offers many advantages to the watch seeker. Among them are:

1. The 30 days' free trial proves to your own satisfaction that the watch is, or is not, one suited to serve your individual needs.
2. The 10 months to pay involves no drain upon your finances.
3. No more sincere guarantee of quality could be offered than the 10 months to pay privilege following your 30-day test.
4. You have the benefit of choosing, during this event, from a stock of the latest models of the finest American and Imported Watches.
5. The prices on all watches sold on the 10 months' extended payments are the same as sold for cash, no interest or any other extra charge.

SLAVICK'S MAIL SERVICE
Out-of-town customers may also have the privilege of 30 days' Free Trial on any Watch.
Fill out and mail this coupon and the watch you select will be mailed to you charges prepaid. Keep it 30 days for Free Trial. Then, if satisfactory, start your monthly payments. If not, return at our expense.

LEGGE REFUSES GRAIN PURCHASE

Wheat Plea Denial Believed Backed by Hoover

Five Senators Make Request at Conference

Farm Board Head Says Move Would Do Harm

WASHINGTON, July 22. (Exclusive)—With President Hoover apparently backing him up, Chairman Alexander Legge today definitely rejected a proposal that the Farm Board immediately purchase more wheat in an effort to boost the 1930 crop price.

Mr. Legge told a delegation of five wheat State Senators who called upon him to urge the wheat-buying plan that it would be at best only a temporary expedient and in the long run would only make the wheat problem worse. He made it clear that the board's stabilization corporation, which stopped buying on June 16 with 60,000,000 bushels of wheat on its hands, will not participate any more at this time nor sell any until the price advances.

BACKED BY HOOVER

A few hours before receiving the Senators, Mr. Legge had breakfast at the White House, where presumably he discussed the board's policy with the President and obtained his indorsement.

Senator Arthur Capper, Republican, Kansas, who himself laid the wheat-buying plan before Mr. Hoover a week ago, headed the group which visited Mr. Legge. He was accompanied by Senators Henry J. Allen, Republican, Kansas; William H. McMaster, Republican, South Dakota; Robert B. Howell, Republican, Nebraska, and W. B. Pine, Republican, Oklahoma. Senators Capper and McMaster acted as spokesmen, the others doing little talking.

"We told Mr. Legge that the wheat growers are facing a crisis," said Senator Capper. "Wheat is selling at 60 cents, the lowest in sixteen years. It probably will be higher in three or four months, but if the grower is to benefit he must be helped now.

LEGGE STANDS PAT

"We asked that the board at once take 75,000,000 or 100,000,000 bushels of wheat off the market and store it, invoking the stabilization feature of the Farm Relief Act which Congress intended it should do in just such an emergency as this. We argued that the board should not be a quitter now just because of the setback last year and that the price is certain to come up to a point where there will be no losses."

Senator Capper admitted that the delegation had failed in its objective and came away disappointed. Chairman Legge, he said, stood pat on his previous position that crop reduction and better marketing organization hold out the only hope for permanent relief.

"The board probably could apply the pulmotor and give temporary aid to some commodities" Mr. Legge said in commenting on the Capper plan yesterday, "but what we want is something permanent.

"Stabilization will work admirably on seasonal surpluses but it cannot be used on an accumulative surplus. We have had an accumulative surplus in wheat for four years. Stabilization will not cure it. I don't say stabilization is a failure, but it won't work at the present time. To follow Senator Capper's plan would only encourage the farmers in Kansas to raise more wheat and make a bad situation worse."

GRAIN MARKETERS TAKE NEUTRAL STAND

KANSAS CITY, July 22. (AP)—Major grain marketing organizations of Kansas today took a neutral position in the dispute between Alexander Legge and Gov. Reed over the wheat acreage reduction program of the Federal Farm Board.

Resolutions adopted, however, did express the belief "any misunderstanding between the farmers and their organizations in Kansas and the Federal Farm Board is due to lack of information and discussion."

MAD FOXES TERRORIZE RICH FOLK

Ruth McCormick's Home in Area Where Beasts With Rabies Have Run Wild

CHICAGO, July 22. (Exclusive) A mad-fox scare has spread throughout the Rock River Valley southwest of Rockford, where the country homes of Ruth Hanna McCormick, former Gov. Frank O. Lowden and other notables are located.

So dangerous have the animals become that three crack shots have been imported by the State Department of Animal Industry and Conservation to wage warfare against them. Their importation followed numerous instances in which foxes and wolves, apparently maddened by rabies, became so bold as to attack dogs, cattle, horses and even human beings.

Thus far the hunters have brought in four foxes, examination of which showed they were afflicted with rabies.

The scare started six weeks ago when a maddened fox dashed out of the woods to attack a dog on the porch of a worker's home at Mrs. McCormick's farm near Byron. When the worker tried to beat off the fox it turned and attacked him. He had a hard battle to kill it. Tests revealed it was afflicted with rabies.

Montana Seizes Rail Barroom

HELENA, (Mont.) July 22. (AP)—A railway baggage car, fitted up with a bar and containing a quantity of beer and liquor, is in the possession of Montana's prohibition headquarters.

The car was seized at Lewistown during and Eagles lodge convention. Elmer Clark, asserted bartender in the rolling barroom, is under arrest.

TREE-SITTING CRAZE FOUGHT

Massachusetts Society Will Bring Charges Against Children's Parents

BOSTON, July 22. (AP)—The Massachusetts Society for Prevention of Cruelty to Children announced today it will charge parents of tree-sitting children with neglect if they do not bring their offspring to earth at once.

The society expressed the opinion that tree sitting, which has spread like wildfire throughout the State and captured the fancy of girls as well as boys, places children in danger of injury through falls and exposure to the elements.

NEW POWER BOARD MAY START NOW

Attorney-General Asked for Opinion on Legality of Recess Appointments

WASHINGTON, July 22. (AP)—Atty.-Gen. Mitchell has been asked by President Hoover to render an opinion as to whether members of the newly created Federal Power Commission may be given recess appointments pending their nomination to the Senate at the next Congress.

Mr. Hoover sent the names of three members of the commission to the Senate for confirmation Saturday, but they were not acted upon.

A difference of opinion exists as to whether interim appointments of the power commission may be given so that the members may take over the duties now performed by an ex-officio board composed of the secretaries of War, Agriculture and Interior.

President Hoover expects to make interim appointments for the six members of the tariff commission who are to be named, since it is held no provisions of the new tariff law prohibit this.

Indians Ruled Citizens With Right to Vote

SAN FRANCISCO, July 22. (AP)—California Indians are citizens and have the right to vote, said Atty.-Gen. Webb in an opinion made public today.

The opinion was given after fifty Indians in the Yuma Indian reservation near El Centro, Imperial county, were denied the right to vote, although they had registered with the County Clerk.

Elmer W. Heald, El Centro City Attorney, then applied to Webb to settle the question. Webb said under an act of Congress all Indians had been collectively naturalized and could vote like any other citizen by complying with the election laws.

TEAGUE TO VIEW GRAPE IMPASSE

California Farm Board Man to Start West

Sign-up Failure Calls for Further Measures

Federal Bureau's Action to Hang on Report

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, July 22. (Exclusive)—After an all-day discussion of the California grape problem the Federal Farm Board decided late this afternoon that it is advisable for C. C. Teague, commissioner for fruits and vegetables, to go to California personally to look into the sign-up campaign which is to determine whether the Federal board is to extend financial assistance to the grape industry.

Mr. Teague will leave Washington tomorrow and will arrive in San Francisco Saturday evening, ready to begin conferences next Monday with those who have had the grape acreage sign-up movement in charge.

The fact he is making the hurried trip was regarded as indicating the Farm Board's earnest intention of aiding the California grape growers if it is possible to do so, but also as showing that reports on the sign-up campaign to date have not been entirely satisfactory, from the board's standpoint.

Mr. Teague said tonight that these reports so far have been only "partial" in character and that he and his colleagues on the Farm Board do not know yet definitely whether the sign-up has been successful or has failed.

The Farm Board considered the grape situation for two and a half hours this morning and then tackled it again in a session lasting equally long this afternoon.

No decision as to whether the board is to help finance the grape growers will be reached and no announcement made, Mr. Teague said, until after he has completed his work in California and the board has passed on his recommendations.

FRIDAY NOW SET AS DEADLINE FOR SIGN-UP

FRESNO, July 22. (Exclusive)—Climaxing three months of effort, the campaign to bring 85 per cent of the State's grape production under contract in the Federal Farm Board's stabilization program it was announced at a mass meeting tonight that Friday will be the deadline for all contract signatures.

While many contracts were obtained by hundreds of volunteer workers who took the field here today when business of the city was brought to a complete standstill for the occasion, no inkling was given of the probable result of the drive or the extent to which the campaigners had overcome the 25,000-acre deficiency that existed until today.

PINON FLATS ROUTE CHOSEN

Riverside Supervisors End Long Argument

Vote Follows Advice of County Surveyor

Forty-Mile Road to be Built By Prisoners

RIVERSIDE, July 22.—Prison camp crews will soon start work on the mountain-desert highway down the north slope of the San Jacinto Mountains, today have a definite goal.

The Board of Supervisors yesterday formally selected the Pinon Flats route for the $200,000 road destined to become one of the most famous scenic drives in Southern California. It will be completed within three or four years and will connect directly with the new high-gear road into the Keep Camp district.

Action in favor of the Pinon Flats, over Indian Canyon route, came after a motion by Supervisor Ross of San Jacinto, "There is no other action for us to take but this. It will save us more than one mile by the logical route," he said in brief comment prefacing his vote.

The vote was unanimous. Supervisor Harvey Johnson of Banning seconded the motion.

For months the matter has been argued, numerous hearings on each of them bristling with instructions, have been held before the supervisors. Coachella Valley solidly backed the Pinon Flats route when it appeared in Palm Springs recently, while an alternate but more scenic route down Palm Canyon, county surveyor Fulmer filed detailed reports relating to the two routes, showing the Palm Canyon road would cost slightly in excess of $200,000. The Pinon Flats route can be constructed for approximately $94,000, he said, and recommended the board's choice of the former. The board, action formally approved the report and accepted Fulmer's recommendation. Fulmer's men have been on the survey for nearly a year, under the personal direction of Fulmer, chief of the field operations.

Approximately four miles of the Pinon Flats road has been constructed by prison camp crews during 1929 under the direction of Engineer E. C. Wickered. The route will be eastward from the present road, starting at a point near Keen Camp. Three miles of the road has been in use for several years but travel beyond Herkey has been delayed by construction of a permanent bridge over the San Jacinto river.

MORE WATER FOR SAN DIEGO

Mexican Government Assists With Development of the Tia Juana River Basin

SAN DIEGO, July 22.—With an engineer of the bureau of water development and four assistants in the field development of the cottonwood and Tia Juana rivers as an additional city water supply now is under way, according to Engineer H. N. Savage, in charge of water development.

The San Diego engineer and assistants in collaboration with engineers representing the Mexican Department of Agriculture, are triangulating the Cottonwood-Marron drainage basin to determine the relative water resources tributary in the United States and in Mexico to the proposed Marron reservoir, Savage said today.

It is expected the cost of building the dam at the reservoir site will be borne by the city of San Diego, although a part of it will be in Mexico as the Mexican government has no money for the development of that site. Whether the Mexican government will ask for a share of the water for use on the Mexican side of the international boundary is an issue yet to arise.

It was stated by the engineer for the city, the two governments are working entirely in harmony for the development of the Tia Juana River basin and this work is independent of the negotiations between the two countries over distribution of the waters of the Colorado River and the Rio Grande River, Savage said.

Special Busses Will Be Run to McGroarty Plays

TUJUNGA, July 23.—Special motor-coach service by the Motor Transit Company to serve the John Steven McGroarty plays opening in Tujunga August 9, next, was announced by the Motor Transit Company today. Special cars will leave Los Angeles direct to the playhouse, connecting at Glendale with the Pasadena-Ocean Park Bus Company, returning immediately after the performance. These plays are:

"El Dorado," portraying the days of '49 in a way the story has never been told.

"La Golondrina," California's immortal love story of the romantic Spanish days.

"Osceola," the story of America's greatest Indian.

"Babylon," a modern satire on present-day life taken from ancient Babylon.

These plays are to be given in a rustic theater erected for that purpose in the oak grove at the McGroarty's home. The artistic design and setting will harmonize with the theme of the plays and will be something new and unique in the way of a theater. Mr. and Mrs. McGroarty will hold open house at their home and invite everybody to come up this summer and enjoy some of the wonderful moonlight nights in the green Verdugo Hills.

An advance ticket sale campaign is being conducted and a season ticket is being offered for $4, which is only $1 per play. Individual tickets are offered at $1.25 each. All admissions at the box office will be $2. Tickets are on sale at all Motor Transit ticket offices. Call any Motor Transit ticket office or general office, 224 West Market street, Los Angeles. Phone MAdison 2461. Performances will be given every evening except Sunday evenings at 8:15. Matinees on Saturday and Sunday afternoons at 2:15.

Six Injured in Auto Crashes

HUNTINGTON BEACH, July 22. Six persons inquired last night and this morning were sent to the Emergency Hospital here for treatment and X-rays.

When the truck driven by Fred Cosgro of 522 Sixth street, Huntington Beach, struck another machine parked on the Coast Highway at Seal Beach this morning, three men were injured, two of them seriously. The truck turned over three times. All were given first aid by Dr. F. Green at Seal Beach and transferred to the hospital here where it was found that Cosgro suffered concussion of the brain, was partially scalped and had serious cuts and bruises on the legs. James Clark, living at the Bolsa Chica Gun Club, a passenger in the car, received four fractured ribs and lacerations on the head and body. I. B. Blake, in the other car, was cut, bruised and shaken up.

Three workmen leaving their duties in the oil field on the afternoon tour at 11 o'clock, riding in two separate cars, were all severely cut and bruised about the head and body. All of the cars were almost total wrecks.

DANCE PROMOTER IS MARATHON ORATOR

ONTARIO, July 22.—Edward A. Molitor, king of marathon dance promoters, would not take one "no" from the City Council when he made his plea to stage a never-ending dance in Ontario. Last night he appeared before the City Council a second time with the same request and received a much sterner Councilmanic "no!" Molitor made an unsolicited address of long duration, declaring the Council members were not giving him a square deal. He evidently had read the Council's emergency ordinance against marathon dances which assessed the promoter two heavy license fees, and prohibits any dancing from midnight until 2 o'clock the following afternoon and none on Sunday. Molitor told Mayor Frances P. Williams that if he had had any idea the Council would deny him the privilege he would have started his marathon dance anyway. Mayor Williams then interrupted the address and excused Molitor from the Council chambers.

CHARTER STOPS ELECTION

Petition to Vote Bonds for Playgrounds at Ventura Abandoned on Account of State Law

VENTURA, July 22.—Because of limitations of the present city charter, Ventura can not have its proposed supervised playground system. Backers of the playfield program was sounded last night in Council chambers. City Attorney Walter Fourt asserted that under the Ferguson Act by which the Legislature restricts Ventura, the citizens would be empowered to vote a tax upon themselves to raise money for a playground system.

That this fund is insufficient to care for any playground operation and, in fact, falls far short of the estimated expenditures for parks during the 1930-1931 fiscal year was brought out by Councilman H. E. Albro, chairman of the Parks Committee.

Slashing of the park budget, submitted to the Council by City Engineer Donald McMillan, was started with the tentative decision to eliminate planting of two plots in the beach park and consideration of the reduction of the park force from five gardeners or workmen and a supervisor to a force of three or four in all.

Before holding an election on [illegible] during the August primary [illegible] already been passed by the Council, A tax rate of 10 cents, Fourt said, was to be submitted to the voters.

"If an election be called upon the playground system, it would be necessary and would have no effect other than to inform the people of the wish of the public in regard to the playfields, Fourt said in discussing the matter. "Funds for playgrounds must come out of the funds for parks, music and administration," Fourt told the Council.

Santa Barbara Banker Leaves Gifts in Will

SANTA BARBARA, July 22.—The will of the late George S. Edwards, ex-Mayor of Santa Barbara, and manager of the Security-First National Bank, filed for probate today by the trust department of the bank, leaves $10,000 to Santa Barbara Cottage Hospital for a free bed, and $5000 to the University of California, his alma mater, for a free scholarship, among other things.

The banker left $5000 in trust, the income from which is to go to Miss Lillian C. Moline for the rest of her life, after which the income is to go to the University of California for another free scholarship. The trust was left for Miss Moline in appreciation of her many kindnesses to him during his life, he said in the will.

The Edwards ranch at Goleta is left to his son, John S. Edwards, and $50,000 is left to a daughter, Mrs. Margaret Edwards Agnew of Cincinnati. The balance of the estate is left to the widow, Mrs. Anna M. Edwards, for her life, with full power of sale and disposition as she sees fit, and at her death, if any remains, $10,000 is to be paid to a grandson, George Edwards Agnew, and $10,000 to another grandson, George Spaulding Edwards, the balance to be equally divided between his son and daughter or their children, if they are not living. The bank is made executor of the will.

Francis Price is attorney for the executor. The value of the estate is not given. It is known by friends and close associates that during the last few years of his life he had disposed of fully half his estate in gifts to relatives and friends.

CHESS CONTEST TO BE HELD AT LAGUNA

LAGUNA BEACH, July 22.—One of the largest groups of chess players ever to assemble in Orange county will gather here August 9, next, in the Legion Hall, when the Pasadena Chess Club will hold a tournament with the chess experts of Orange county in the afternoon and in the evening there will be exhibitions of blindfolded playing and other games by the experts. It is four years since the players met here and over 100 players are scheduled to gather.

Clubs from Pasadena, Long Beach, Beverly Hills, Los Angeles and Riverside are expected to be here. The Orange county club will be captained by R. P. Dow, former New York newspaper man. The committee on arrangements consists of Lieut. Charles H. Whipple, M. C. Rolls, R. P. Dow and R. A. Frost.

Prof. A. A. Michelson, Chicago scientist, who is experimenting on the Irvine ranch, is vacationing here for a few days. The professor lost several games played with St. Vincent Vernaby and Lieut. Charles Whipple at the La Casa del Camino Hotel, where he is stopping. While chess is a favorite game of the professor, he does not claim to be an expert.

CRASH VICTIM SENT TO COUNTY HOSPITAL

SANTA ANA, July 22.—Walter Keeler, 58 years of age, of Belvedere Gardens, may lose the sight of an eye as the result of an automobile crash on the State highway at Ball Road near Anaheim, according to reports from the Orange County Hospital, where he was taken. Keeler was badly cut about the face and one eye was badly cut.

He was injured when his machine collided with a car operated by A. W. Melvin, 71 years of age, 110 West Center street, Orange. Melvin was cut about the face. Keeler's wife and three daughters in the car with him escaped uninjured and Melvin's wife and Mrs. A. M. Ogle, a visitor from Chicago, who were in the Melvin car, also escaped unharmed.

VENTURA REPORTS SMALL RAINSTORM

VENTURA, July 22.—Three-hundredths of an inch of moisture visited Ventura early this morning in the form of a fine, fog-like drizzle that lasted for several hours, ending about 8:30 o'clock.

The .03 of an inch boosts the year's total to 10.59 inches. The total for 1929, which was compiled after the last rain of that year on April 18, was 9.85 inches.

REPORTED INSANITY IS DENIED

Santa Ana Man Wages Court Fight Against Opinion of Physician

SANTA ANA, July 22.—A difference of opinion between Roy L. Andross, Santa Ana man, and doctors over the question of Andross's mental condition was being aired today before a jury in Superior Judge George K. Scovel's court, Andross having demanded a jury trial on the issue of his insanity after the physicians had pronounced him a sufferer from delusions.

Andross's troubles are no delusions, he insists. He maintains that his father, who resides in Minnesota, has been persecuting him by spreading false reports of his insanity.

Andross's attorney, S. B. Kaufman, gained the admission from Dr. H. E. Zaiser on the witness stand today, that the doctor's opinion that Andross's troubles are delusions is an assumption, since the doctor had not personally investigated.

Dr. Zaiser, however, stated that Andross's belief that Dr. Zaiser was unfriendly to him was without doubt a delusion.

Dr. Zaiser further testified that his opinion regarding Andross was based partially upon the report that Andross had, on December 1, last, jumped over the back-yard fence at his home and departed without informing his wife of his intentions.

Andross was pronounced suffering from paranoia when Dr. Zaiser and Dr. J. L. Pope examined him at the County Hospital, after Andross had complained that his father had persecuted him and that, while he was in the Army, an officer had beaten him and then administered drugs to him.

At Kaufman's suggestion Andross was given one of the simple tests before the jury, and passed it without showing any signs of abnormality, the physician admitted. Dr. Zaiser said, however, that the test proved nothing.

The trial still was in progress late today.

VOLUNTEER FIREMEN OPEN CLUB ROOMS

REDONDO BEACH, July 22.—Organized from the former city volunteer fire department which was replaced by deputies by the action of the City Council last Thursday, the volunteer firemen's club opened quarters at 125 North Catalina avenue today. The club will have as its head former Fire Chief Ed Morrell and has arranged to carry on many of the serial activities of the former organization, of which several have been members for more than twenty years. Fittings from the club rooms in the City Fire Hall Building, all of which were the property of the volunteers' organization, have been transferred to the new address.

BURNS PROVE FATAL TO MEXICAN BABY

VENTURA, July 22.—Burns suffered when he fell into a tub of boiling water Sunday caused the death last night of 2-year-old Robert Gonzales, son of Mr. and Mrs. Feliz Gonzales of Santa Paula.

Inquest will be held by Coroner Oliver L. Reardon at his funeral parlors here at 8 p.m. today, at which time the parents of the baby and Drs. D. G. Clark and C. R. Illick of Santa Paula, who attended the child, will be called to testify.

INGLEWOOD BAND IN PIONEER PARADE

INGLEWOOD, July 22.—This city will be represented in the pioneers' day parade in Santa Monica Wednesday by the local boys' band, an organization of forty players who have attained a perfection of performance under the leadership of Herbert K. Smith that has brought them widespread recognition. Their appearance Wednesday will be as the official representatives of the city of Inglewood, so designated by Mayor Hugh B. Lawrence.

COUNCIL REFUSES TO OUST FIRE CHIEF

POMONA, July 22.—Councilman Roscoe M. Hoover's attempt for the second time to secure the dismissal of Fire Chief John O. Shewman on charges of insubordination and inefficiency again went for naught today, when his motion to declare the office for Fire Chief vacant died in Council for lack of a second.

SHOW MAY BE ABANDONED

Annual Pasadena Flower Exhibit Endangered by Differences Among Members of Garden Clubs

PASADENA, July 22.—Differences regarding the type of exhibits and method of financing annual flower shows here will result in the withdrawal of five local garden clubs from the exhibitions staged in the spring and fall by the Pasadena Horticultural Association it was learned today.

The Diggers' Garden Club and Garden Club of Pasadena have notified James Matson, president of the association, of plans to secede, and similar action is scheduled to be taken by the Little Garden Club, Shakespeare Garden Club and Garden Club of South Pasadena. In view of the fact that the exhibits of these clubs have been the most colorful features of the annual displays, local garden enthusiasts expressed the fear that their omission may result in calling off the exhibitions.

Charles G. Adams, president of the Garden Club of South Pasadena, revealed that his organization has made arrangements to stage an independent flower show in South Pasadena. He denied that this plan is a move against the Horticultural Association, but is an attempt to present something new in South Pasadena.

The projected withdrawal of the garden clubs is asserted to be based on their desire to participate in an artistic show, one that is free to the public, and one in which cups instead of cash prizes are awarded to winners. The Horticultural Association uses both types of prizes.

President Matson of the association is of the opinion that a show as desired by the clubs cannot be held here because of limited patronage attracted to such a fete.

"Presentation of the annual spring and fall flower shows is a costly undertaking," Matson declared today. "The best plan is to include the various commercial interests in order to defray expenses and avoid a deficit."

The annual displays, held in circus tents on the Civic Auditorium site at the south end of Garfield avenue, have attracted thousands of spectators and hundreds of exhibits from all parts of California.

FITTS DISCUSSES TAXES

Candidate for Governor Makes Telling Impression in Speech Before Church Brotherhood at Glendale

GLENDALE, July 22.—Four years of broken pledges and costly political commissions that have accomplished nothing constitute the record of the administration of Gov. Young, according to Buron Fitts, District Attorney of Los Angeles county and a candidate for the Republican nomination for the Governorship, in an address here last night.

Fitts spoke in the First Methodist Church, at a banquet sponsored by the united church brotherhoods, and at the close of his address, in which he flayed in scathing terms the present State administration, the audience that packed the building stood and cheered for five minutes, ignoring the hammering of the chairman's gavel and his calls for order.

"The only issue in the present campaign is one of taxation," Fitts declared. "California is facing the greatest crisis in its history, with the home owner burdened by taxes and agricultural districts calling for immediate assistance. The only contribution made by the present administration to relieve this intolerable burden has been the appointment of a tax investigation commission that has spent thousands of dollars, and through the efforts of this commission State laws have been tampered with and a tax crisis has been reached."

Fitts paid his respects to the Anti-Saloon League and its indorsement of Gov. Young when he asserted that most of the members on the league's indorsement committee are connected with the present State administration and that many of them are on the State pay rolls.

Fitts quoted figures to show that taxes of foreign corporations have been slashed from thousands of dollors annually to less than $100, asserting that the six major oil companies operating in California in 1928 paid taxes totaling $600,000, as against $167 for the past year. "And the home owner makes up the difference," he added. The candidate definitely pledged himself to a program of tax reduction if elected, and he also promised the inauguration of water conservation program to aid the farmers.

Heavy Drinking Saves Life of This Woman

PASADENA, July 22.—Wine tonic which police report so crazed Mrs. Florence Hansen, 32 years of age, of 360 West Walnut street, that she sought to take her life, later saved her from death when she was unable to crawl over the railing of the Colorado-street bridge last night.

R. A. Burns of 321 West Marigold avenue, Altadena, saw Mrs. Hansen park her machine in the center of the bridge and reported to the police that the thirty-first Colorado-street bridge suicide was imminent.

Arriving on the scene as the woman was attempting to scale the bridge railing, Patrolmen C. M. Corbin and A. W. Norton placed her in a police car and drove her to the Pasadena Emergency Hospital where examining physicians reported she had been drinking.

"I couldn't move very fast, but if I had had two minutes more they wouldn't have saved me," Mrs. Hansen asserted.

Her husband reported to the police that his wife had been drinking heavily and that he had been planning to send her to the General Hospital.

Liquor Bribery Charge Dropped

CHINO, July 22.—John Agliani, Riverside county rancher, arrested in Chino some months ago on charge of possession of a still and attempted bribery of officers of the law, felt happier today while serving two years in County Jail. The charge of bribery was dimissed in Superior Judge B. F. Warmer's court when Deputy District Attorney J. B. Kavanaugh moved for such action, claiming insufficient evidence.

Agliani is said to have offered $100 to Chino police to forget about his still for two weeks. The two years he is serving in jail are on the still-possession charge.

JUNIOR ACTORS TO PRESENT PLAY

INGLEWOOD, July 22.—While tree-sitting and other nonremunerative enterprises have been occupying the attention of many of the youths of the nation, five boys in this city have centered heir efforts on the more worthy undertakings of "play actin'," and are now ready to present to the public the results of their inroads on the histrionic art. "Sofapillo" is the name of the vehicle by which they will display their talents, and on Friday of this week they will present this opus at the regular meeting of the Chamber of Commerce. Their producing manager is Miss Laura Crozier, who has rehearsed the performers, all of whom are members of the Players Club of the dramatics department of the summer playground being conducted at the Queen-street school.

The play is a tragedy after the manner of the Greeks, in one act and with three scenes. The cast includes Don Wilson, Ralph Nichols, Billy Coston, Ross Paul and Richard Kissam.

ROLPH HEADQUARTERS AT HUNTINGTON PARK

HUNTINGTON PARK, July 22.—District headquarters of the Rolph-for-Governor organization have been opened in the Whipple Building on South Pacific Boulevard in this city. The organization is arranging to hold a barbecue or rally in this city on the night of August 18 for Mayor James Rolph, Jr., who will be here on that night. The district is composed of Huntington Park, Bell, Maywood, Walnut Park, South Gate, Cudahy, Vernon, Graham and Florence. L. J. Cunningham is manager of the campaign in this district, and W. C. Walters assistant manager.

Ranger Says Fire Started by Prisoners

REDLANDS, July 22.—A flat statement that the fire of the 1st inst. in Mill Creek Canyon was "undoubtedly caused by prisoners in the county prison road camp," was made today by J. E. Elliott, supervisor of the San Bernardino National Rorest Reserve.

Cost of suppressing the fire came to approximately $3000, Elliott stated. Through a misunderstanding, he said, the district ranger stated that the prisoners who helped put out the fire would be paid for their work, but the policy of the service has been to pay no one responsible for starting a fire.

In this case, because the promise was made, the prisoners will be paid the same schedule as other fire fighters, or $301 to be distributed among them.

Elliott requested that Supervisors prohibit smoking by prisoners while on road work. He commended the county prison camp authorities and prisoners for the co-operation given in putting out the fire. The policy of paying the prisoners does not meet the approval of some of the county board. Supervisor John Anderson declared it a bad precedent and county highway commissioners stated that as the prisoners were on discipline they might be expected to fight fires as well as build roads and believed the payment for fighting fires might cause some of them to think it a good source of revenue for future fires.

VALLEY ELKS LODGE PLANS CELEBRATION

SAN FERNANDO, July 22.—San Fernando Valley Elks' Lodge, No. 1539, will celebrate its third anniversary August 5, next, it is announced by A. E. Eldredge, secretary and chairman of arrangements. The lodge draws its membership from Van Nuys, North Los Angeles, Owensmouth, Chatsworth, Newhall, Saugus, Lancaster and all of Antelope Valley. When the lodge was organized three years ago it had a membership of 277, which since has increased to 707. As a part of the big celebration it is understood members will also sponsor a huge picnic.

KNIGHTS OF COLUMBUS CHOOSE JACK KEELEY

SAN FERNANDO, July 22.—Jack Keeley was elected Grand Knight of the local council of the Knights of Columbus at the annual meeting here. J. Leo Flynn, past district deputy, had charge of the ceremony. P. J. Coyle was elected chancellor; George Pezold, warden; P. J. Andres, recording secretary; J. Leo Flynn, treasurer, and Rev. Charles J. Siemes, chaplain. Other officers elected are: J. D. McDermott, F. D. Christian, Frank Castanos, W. J. Millham, Edward Foster and Joseph Haag.

YOUNG WIFE SUES FOR ANNULMENT

SANTA ANA, July 22.—Charging fraud and coercion, but giving no details of the case, Mrs. Marie Bishop, 17 years of age, who says her father consented to her marriage, today brought suit in Superior Court to annul her marriage to Joe Bishop, which took place in Delta, Colo., October 25, last.

Her suit was filed through Mrs. Emma Mason, as her guardian.

SUNLAND RESIDENTS WANT LARGER PARK

SUNLAND, July 22.—Local residents in September will vote to enlarge Sunland Park from its present fourteen acres to fifty-two acres. The site now in use has 160 oak trees. In the additional thirty-eight acres there are 388 oaks, fifty willows and a natural lake.

OPERATION ENDS LIFE OF PASTOR

Veteran Priest Dies at Mercy Hospital at San Diego

SAN DIEGO, July 22.—Death has ended a career of fifty-two years as priest in the Catholic Church for Father Henry John Brinkmeyer, 76 years of age, for sixteen years chaplain at Mercy Hospital, who died yesterday following an operation for appendicitis.

A little more than two years ago Father Brinkmeyer celebrated his golden jubilee of service in the church.

He is survived by two sisters, Miss Mary Brinkmeyer of San Diego, and Sister Dominica of Newark, N. J., and one brother, Frank Brinkmeyer of Cincinnati, O.

Father Brinkmeyer was born in Cincinnati, O., March 16, 1854, and on December 22, 1872, was ordained a priest. He studied at the St. Xavier school in Cincinnati and later attended the grand seminary in Montreal, Can., where he completed his theological studies. He was ordained by Archbishop Charles Edward Fabre.

Upon Father Brinkmeyer's return to Cincinnati, he was appointed pastor of St. Bridget's Church at Xenia, O., and served in that capacity from 1878 to 1879. His next appointment was at St. Charles's Church at Carthage, O., in 1880, where he was chaplain at the Industrial School until 1885. He was pastor at Lebanon, O., in 1888, and professor at Mt. St. Mary's Seminary from 1891 to 1893; chaplain of the Good Shepherd Convent, Prince Hill, until 1904. From there he went to St. Gregory's Convent in Cincinnati as president and came to San Diego in 1914.

Although Father Brinkmeyer came to California in 1914, at the time of his death he still was a priest of the Archdiocese of Cincinnati. He was the author of two books, "Retreats for Sisters" and "Short Conferences on the Sacred Heart."

Three Fires in One House at One Time

HUNTINGTON PARK, July 22. Three fires asserted to be of incendiary origin were discovered early this morning at a vacant seven-room residence at 6826 Hollenbeck street, owned by Miss S. M. Manes of this city.

A woman residing next door to the Manes dwelling prepared lunch for her husband at 1 o'clock this morning and after he left for work she detected the odor of smoke just outside the house. She called Fireman Ed Nicoles, who is a neighbor. Nicoles, noticing smoke issuing from the windows at the Manes dwelling, called the fire department. They extinguished the flames. One blaze had been started behind a door in one of the rooms and the other two fires in closets leading from bedrooms.

Two containers which had held by-products of petroleum, and oiled rags were found in the rooms and closets. The damage was slight. The property is insured. The house had been vacant for the past few days, firemen who are making an investigation reported.

COMMUNITY INVITED TO PICNIC IN PARK

ONTARIO, July 22.—Sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce, everybody in the district is to be invited to a great picnic celebration in Fourth-street Park early in August, B. W. Spencer, secretary of the chamber, announced today.

A new lighting system is being installed in the park and will be ready for use when the community picnic is held. This event will take on the air of a dedication of the elaborate lighting system. The committee named in charge of the event includes William Hartley, general chairman; F. H. Clapp, Tom Cummins, Harry De Berard, Leland S. Davidson, Alexander Elmslie, John Galvin, Harold Mackay, William Nugent, Vern Pittinger, Dr. W. H. Rockey, Charles L. Tuttle, B. F. Webber.

OLD AUTO IN PARADE

REDONDO BEACH, July 22.—An automobile of the vintage of 1905 will form a part of the local Chamber of Commerce entry in the pioneer day parade of the Santa Monica - Ocean Park Chamber of Commerce tomorrow and is being fittingly decorated. The Redondo Breeze Girls' Band will also take part as representatives of the local chamber.

ASSESSMENTS INVESTIGATED

Supervisors Order Recheck of Appraisals

San Diego Authorities Strive to Make Roll Perfect

Five Clerks to be Detailed to the Work

SAN DIEGO, July 22.—Complete recheck of the Assessor's records to correct errors in assessment appraisals carried over from the revaluation survey of two years ago was ordered by the Board of Supervisors today.

The step was taken in continuance of the tax equalization work the Supervisors had been occupied with for the past two weeks which ended yesterday in so far as hearing of individual protests was concerned. The idea as explained by Supervisors Edgar P. Hastings and Tom Hurley and agreed upon by other members of the board, is to "bring the equalization of taxes up to 100 per cent perfect."

Many property owners are now paying taxes on mistaken assessments, due to mistakes on the Assessor's books, mainly clerical errors, according to consensus of opinion of the board. Individual mistakes as revealed during the two weeks of equalization hearings are inconsiderable, the board believes, but the aggregate cost to taxpayers, one way or the other, considerable.

The "100 per cent equalization" work will be carried on independently of the Assessor's office, by resolution of the board voted just prior to adjournment at noon today.

At the same time, Deputy Miller of the Assessor's office, will be nominally in charge of the staff of five clerks to be named later by the board. Miller was employed by the tax revaluation firm which two years ago contracted to bring San Diego county appraisals up to the minute at a cost of more than $315,000. The nature of his work caused him and others of the firm to be employed regularly by Assessor George Moulton for the county. Various records of the Assessor were subjected to minute study by the board during the two weeks' hearings, and while protests filed by property owners were fewer in number than last year, the Supervisors uncovered indications of widespread inequalities in appraisements.

"Protests this year were 237, as against 380 last year, but I think this was mainly due to unwillingness of most property owners to quibble over a difference of a few dollars," Supervisor Hastings commented.

"There have been errors brought out at these hearings which certainly require looking into," Supervisor Hurley agreed.

Riverside Link in Burbank Now Open to Travel

BURBANK, July 22.—The paving of Riverside Drive, as far as Burbank is concerned, is completed and the road is open to travel. The link of the drive just completed is that section from Catalina street to the westerly city limits. The link from Catalina street to the easterly city limits was finished a short while ago.

This leaves now only a short section in the Glendale district from the Burbank city limits to Victory Boulevard to be completed before Riverside Drive will be open to traffic from the center of San Fernando Valley to the Dayton-avenue bridge in Los Angeles.

MONTROSE BOY BAND GIVES OUT PROGRAM

MONTROSE, July 22.—When Montrose gets tired of radio music it can listen now to its own band. The Valley Boys' Band, a new organization, has a membership of twenty-two under the leadership of James D. Murphy. The new band stand on Honolulu street has just been completed by donations through the local Chamber of Commerce. From now on through the summer the boys will give concerts each Saturday beginning at 7:15 p.m.

MEMBERSHIP DRIVE STARTS

REDONDO BEACH, July 22.—Organization of teams for the membership drive of the Chamber of Commerce was completed today, with Thomas Quinn as general chairman. Workers enlisted in the campaign which will continue several weeks are Victor Varro, R. E. Donovan, Glenn Moor, George Evans, Frank Heischman and B. O. Lewis.

WINE CASE APPEALED

Supreme Court Will be Asked to Decide Whether Justice Can Order Seized Liquor Returned

SAN DIEGO, July 22.—The Supreme Court will be asked to decide definitely the issue of whether a city justice has jurisdiction to order return of liquor unlawfully seized, attorneys for Louis Mariboto announced today.

Judge Charles B. Delong and A. T. Procoplo representing Mariboto made this announcement following a decision by Judge C. N. Andrews in which he annulled an order recently issued by Judge Claude L. Chambers ordering the police to return a large quantity of wine which had been seized from Mariboto.

The attorneys announced that the appeal will be prepared immediately and taken directly to the Supreme Court. If the attorneys are successful in getting the matter before the high tribunal on the special criminal calendar the matter may be decided within four months, observers say.

Judge Andrews in making his decision, declared he was making his order simply on the grounds that the lower court had no jurisdiction to order return of the wine. He did not involve the question of the right of seizure of property by police without a search warrant.

Maribotos garage was invaded several weeks ago by police led by Detective George Sears, who seized a large quantity of old wine. Attorneys for Mariboto petitioned Judge Chambers for an order demanding the return of the wine since they held the police seized the property without a search warrant. Judge Chambers after hearing evidence in the case, ordered the wine returned. The City Attorney's office on behalf of the police department appealed from this order.

DUNCAN SISTERS MAY GO ABROAD

Joseph Santley Writes Story for Helen Twelvetrees

Toreador Signs With First National for Film

Norman Taurog Will Direct Ed Wynn Comedy

BY GRACE KINGSLEY

The question of whether to remain at home and fill a picture offer or to visit Germany and Sweden and accept a vaudeville tour has not been decided yet by the Duncan sisters.

Rosetta Duncan is now in New York, but is expected back within a week, leaving today or tomorrow for the West. Vivian is at Santa Monica.

A visit to Australia, with a vaudeville tour included, is also among the possibilities for the sisters.

JOSEPH SANTLEY TO WRITE PATHE STORY

Joseph Santley, director-writer for Pathe, has little time these days to perfect his game of pee-wee golf.

HELEN TWELVETREES

He is busy at the moment penning a story for Helen Twelvetrees, to be produced by Pathé. The title of the story is "The Price of a Party," and it is a story of modern youth. Santley is writing the dialogue as well as the story, and will direct.

The picture is to be produced as a special, but no starting date has been announced.

In this country when a man is a prize fighter or a ball player we don't expect him to be any great shakes as an actor, even when he adopts the stage or screen as a profession.

But in Spain one from an athletic calling who essays the stage isn't let off so easily, it seems. And therefore, when you hear the name of Alvarez Rubio, and learn he is a bullfighter as well as an actor, you must think of him as at the top of his profession in both callings.

Rubio has just been signed on a long-term contract by First National. His first part will be the masculine lead in the Spanish version of "Those Who Dance."

The Spanish actor was one of the favorite actors in his native Madrid Theater, following a career as a star bullfighter.

Maria Alba, whom Fox brought over from Spain after she had won a beauty contest, has been engaged to play the leading feminine role. She has been borrowed from Fox for the part.

Taurog Directs Ed Wynn

No less skillful a comedy director than Norman Taurog will direct Ed Wynn when he begins work on his first starring vehicle for Paramount. That vehicle is "Manhattan Mary," which will be filmed at the eastern studio next month.

Taurog has made a brilliant record as a short-subject director since joining the directorial staff at the eastern film plant. "Manhattan Mary" will be his first feature assignment for Paramount.

Henry MacRae in Charge

Henry MacRae, who has personally directed fifteen serials for Universal, feels now, along with officials of that organization, that he has had sufficient experience to take charge of the department. Production manager of this phase of Universal activities is the title bestowed upon him.

William Lord Wright formerly had charge of the department, but has left to undertake a serial department for an independent concern.

Universal Chooses Leads

The Spanish people love mystery stories as well as the rest of the world. So Universal has decided to make an elaborate Spanish version of John Willard's "Cat and the Canary."

LUPITA TOVAR

Antonio Moreno and Lupita Tovar will play the leading roles in the foreign version which George Melford will direct. This version will be made at night on the same sets used for the English version during the day.

Child Born to Writer

Mrs. Samson Raphaelson, wife of the playwright and screen author, Monday presented her husband with a baby girl weighing eight pounds. The child was born at the Hollywood Hospital.

Many Hollywood women combine motherhood with professional careers, but not many have the experience of Mrs. Raphaelson. She finished the final revision of the last chapters of her first novel at noon, mailed the manuscript to Brentano's and then went to the hospital, where that afternoon her daughter was born.

M-G-M Assigns Players

Juggling about of the two principal character parts of Joan Crawford's new M-G-M starring picture, "The Great Day," has resulted in the final placement of J. C. Nugent as Pooch and Lucien Littlefield as Sapphire.

LUCIEN LITTLEFIELD

Littlefield was originally cast as Pooch, but development of the story required a man naturally stouter and slower of movement, so the roly-poly Nugent of "Wise Girls" and "Navy Blues" was cast in the part, while Littlefield was given the role of the cowboy.

BRUNDIDGE STORY GIVEN GRAND JURY

St. Louis Crime Reporter Consumes Three Hours in Gangland Charges

Four Suffer for Murder of New Jersey Cashier

Criminals Enter Death Cell Smoking Nonchalantly

CHICAGO, July 22. (AP)—The grand jury listened for nearly three hours today to a St. Louis crime reporter's account of his investigations of asserted racketeering on the part of his Chicago brothers in the profession.

When Harry T. Brundidge emerged from the jury chamber after telling his story all lips were sealed.

Brundidge reiterated he will not repeat his testimony, even to his own newspaper, although Frank W. Taylor, Jr., managing editor of the St. Louis Star, was in the jury room part of the time with Brundidge. State's Attorney Swanson and Assistant State's Attorney Rittenhouse, who participated in the grand jury hearing, said they were forbidden by law to make public any of the proceedings, and the jury foreman said it had been agreed nothing should be made public.

Whether any Chicago newspaper men will be subpoenaed as a result of the testimony today was not indicated, and Swanson has said he has no evidence to present in connection with the murder of Alfred J. Lingle, Tribune reporter. Brundidge was called because of a series of articles in which he wrote that reporters other than Lingle were involved in gangland affairs here.

Three Men Rob Wisconsin Bank; Haul $100,000

HARTFORD (Wis.) July 22. (AP)—Three men robbed the First National Bank here of about $100,000 shortly before noon today after slugging the cashier and threatening customers.

GANGSTERS DIE BY EXECUTION

'Jersey Kid' and Companions in Electric Chair

Criminals Enter Death Cell Smoking Nonchalantly

TRENTON (N. J.) July 22. (AP)—Frank McBrien, notorious gangster, known as "the Jersey Kid," and three of his companions were electrocuted tonight for the murder of George B. Lee, paymaster of the Public Service Co-ordinated Transport of New Jersey. The last man was pronounced dead at 8:38 p.m.

Victor Giampietro, who had hoped until the last for a reprieve, was the first to go. McBrien, Joseph Malanga and Joseph Rado followed quickly. All were dead within twenty-eight minutes. It was the second time in the history of New Jersey that four persons were executed at one time.

Lee, who was 28 years of age, and cashier for the Public Service Co-ordinated Transport in Newark, was slain in October, 1928, by robbers who fired through his cage and escaped with approximately $4000.

The four condemned men all smoked as they entered the death chamber. McBrien puffed a fat cigar, smiled and shouted a cheery "O.K., boys." as Malanga and Rado said good-by.

Scorched Hair Invokes Suit

Asserting that her auburn tresses, which she says were worth $5000, were seared to a cinder when she sat for a permanent wave, Miss Marion Winters of 443 South Catalina street yesterday filed a damage suit against the Catalina Beauty Salon, 3628 West Third street.

In her complaint Miss Winters charges that her hair was so badly burned that she was compelled to obtain medical aid for her scalp and treatment for her nerves.

BRIGHT OPENING FOR "DIXIANA"

Large Crowds Throng to Orpheum Theater

Applause Rewards Bebe Daniels and Others

Everett Marshall Enjoys Approval for Voice

BY EDWIN SCHALLERT

The dazzle—not to say, razzle-dazzle of the big movie premiere—reached into the downtown sectof last evening, and Broadway did its duty nobly in an endeavor to emulate Hollywood Boulevard with lights, crowds and stellar glitter.

The festivities betokened the arrival of the second large musical picture starring Bebe Daniels, ycleptt "Dixiana," and a big audience, including numerous and various players and producers, viewed the first public showing of the feature.

The initial presentation went to the extent of including a short prologue of Negro spirituals and other typical songs of the colored folk, appropriate to a southern film theme, and climaxed in introductions of the members of the cast. Miss Daniels and other leading principals, like Everett Marshall, Bert Wheeler, Robert Woolsey and others enjoyed ringing plaudits.

Amos and Andy were out for their first premiere too, and gained fully as much attention as the "Dixiana" stars. When Lowell Sherman, as master of ceremonies, called them from their places in the audience, there was a spirited reception for these two favorites of the radio.

The opening of "Dixiana" apparently provided its share of popular entertainment. Lacking the lively inspiration of "Rio Rita," this new picture is fashioned along somewhat similar lines, with the music by Harry Tierney and the comedy by Wheeler and Woolsey, plus what was furnished in the book by Anne Caldwell and the adaptation by Luther Reed, who also directed.

Marshall, the singer, is presented in the leading serious role, and his voice rang brilliantly in the single solo number that he gave. Evidently he appealed to his listeners, for they warmed considerably to the selection, as the hand-clapping that followed it went to prove. The actual sound during this number seemed to be overintensified. Some restraint might be used in stepping up the volume in Marshall's instance, as his voice is vibrant enough.

This singer has certain mannerisms to overcome from a screen standpoint, and inclines to grimace while actually vocalizing. He also gets a rather operatic gusto into his acting, though this is really less serious than his facial contortions during the music. Despite this, he may, I believe, qualify as a type for musical pictures because of his voice.

Bebe Daniels radiates even more personal charm in her portrayal in "Dixiana" than she did in "Rio Rita." Also she sings with much more assurance and style, but the quality of her voice needs watching, as it evidences a stridency that was not to be noted in the earlier effort. Pictorially, she fills the scene in the Mardi Gras carnival and elsewhere her southern accent is a bit elusive, but good when she exhibits care in its use.

I presume that the main sources of pleasure i nthis picture will be Bert Wheeler and Robert Woolsey. Just why, I cannot say, unless it is their inevitably sure-fire comedy manner. When they walk on the screen there is a laugh. The material that they have is very much below par, in the talk, and some of the gags are not only gray-bearder, but also bald. The two comiques are funny, though, and that duel between them toward the end is a show in itself, and the trick with the cigars, possibly antique though it may be, manages to seem amusing when Jobyna Howland is the victim.

Humor in the picture is aided and abetted by Joseph Cawthorn, who keeps the earlier part moving at a lively tempo with his Pennsylvania Dutch accent, and his often witty rejoinders. He is very good. Miss Howland takes part in the gayeties, too, with much zest.

A very nice light musical number is the one done by Bert Wheeler and Dorothy Lee in one of the later scenes. The carnival pageant has some picturesque highlights and is photographed in color.

Lest it should not be obvious from the title, "Dixiana" has a Southern background. It is most southern in some of the opening shots which are enrichingly beautiful—least Southern, perhaps, is the Mardi Gras.

The dialogue in the serious scenes of this production inclines to the barnstorming type, and the plot runs the course that plots often do when there is a skulking villain, who operates a gambling den, and uses trick duelling revolvers, to gain his gaudy—I said "gaudy"—goal.

The heavy in this picture is Ralf Haroide, who shared in the approval at introduction time Raymond Maurel, Bruce Covington, George Herman, Bill Robinson, colored stepper, and Jackson are others.

"Humanettes," featuring Benny Rubin, is the short film on the program.

Congratulations were read from the stage by Sherman last evening as received from the governors of various southern States, who also had presented a floral token inscribed "To Queen Bebe."

Townley Story in Production

With the start of production work on "A Husband's Privileges" at Warner Brothers studios this week, its author, Jack Townley, will have established a record of ten original screen stories produced within a period of one year.

A former newspaper writer and drama critic, Townley turned his talents to screen work three years ago and in a brief period has become recognized as one of the most prolific of film dramatists and dialogue specialists.

The new Warner picture, described as a sophisticated comedy drama of domestic life, will bring Lew Cody to the screen in his first talking role. He is a prominent member of a cast which includes as principals James Hall, Irene Delroy and Natalie Moorehead. Roy Del Ruth will direct.

"OH JUDGE" RAPS GAVEL

New Musical Piece Takes Bow at Vine-Street; Bernard Granville Bright Spot in Show

BY MURIEL BABCOCK

Bernard Granville, a fellow with dancing toes and a neat sense of humor, a comic new to these parts but who doubtless will be welcome again, enlivened things in general on the stage of the Vine-street Theater last night in a new musical farce, "Oh, Judge."

The brightest spots in the show came in those moments when the ingratiating Mr. Granville was given more or less free scope for his adroit and expert tapping and his own brand of foolery. The jokes were not as frequent, as might be expected, but this was due rather to dialogue rather than any lack of skillful reading upon the comic's part.

Perhaps, because of the presence of this ace performer from New York, or because a new musical show is more or less a novelty in Hollywood these days, there was a large audience, quite professional in aspect, on hand for the opening.

Assembled patrons saw a production, pretty rambling in structure, which started off swiftly and maintained a fast tempo throughout; a production embellished with rather good dancing, a pretty chorus, bright costuming and some decided talent.

By consulting their program notes and by following the action on the stage, they discovered that the plot dealt sketchily with the fortunes of a varied group of citizens convicted in night police court for violating, in one form or another, the city ordinances. As a unique punishment, the judge sentences them all to fourteen days on a health farm, up Soule. They are to be given "athletics" instead of prison fare to show them the error of their ways.

Most of the action of the first act, thus, is laid in the health farm setting where feminine principals and chorus girls go about clad in abbreviated gymnasium suits designed to show the "figger" to its best advantage. In due time, the judge, remorseful about his sternness, shows up and allows all prisoners to attend a "Spanish Drag" at the home of Mrs. James De Peyster Du Pre, wealthy society woman, one of those entrapped in the law's net. The second act, then, is woven about events at this party.

Here are found a couple of blackouts of decided clinical aroma. One concerns itself with a dancer's interpretation, a kind of a symphonic jazz accompaniment of the Spanish Drag in which there is much wiggling and waggling. Another is set in the bridal-suite bedroom of some place or another. Intended to be risquely amusing, these particular bits fall far short of their purpose.

The best number of the first act is "Love's in the Air," sung and danced by Granville and Mary Hutchinson, who is a cute and tricky young thing. This took a big hand. The best number of the second act is "Pitty Pat Patsy," from Granville all alone.

Miss Hutchinson belongs in the front rank of the performers as does Rodney McLennan, the juvenile, and Marie Wells, very much a local favorite. McLennan, a good-looking lad with yellow hair, is brightly amusing and fast on his feet. Miss Wells looks very fetching and sings nicely. And then there was Clarence Muse, the black man with the deep, rolling voice. He had a very good song in the second act.

Last night's performance of "Oh Judge" was, of course, its first and no doubt many of the rough spots will be polished off and the show tightened considerably within the next day or two.

In its present form, it needs a good deal of doctoring, both with regard to book and dialogue. It could stand a lot more humor, too.

Some of the others in the cast—a cast too numerous to mention in total, were Nenetre Vallon (dramatically enacting a sob-sister reporter.) Frank Braidwood (the judge,) Albert Cross, Mildred Costello, Peggy Cornell, Frank Marlowe, Randolph Scott, Hal Redus, Evelyn Hayes, Vangi Murray and Paisly Noon. (The latter-named played a most extraordinary character, who didn't succeed in being funny.)

"Oh, Judge" is by Owen Meredith, George Bowles and Edward Elsner. Lucien Denni wrote the music, while Elsner staged. The dances were by Eddie Prinz.

HOPTON IN NEW ROLE

Russell Hopton, who was last seen on the local stage in "The Last Mile," is now playing one of the featured roles in "College Lovers," which John Adolfi is directing for First National.

Evelyn Laye Presented to Local Press

Evelyn Laye, charming star of Noel Coward's stage musical, "Bitter Sweet," and recently signed by Sam Goldwyn for a new screen operetta, "Lilli," was introduced to press representatives yesterday at the Goldwyn offices in the United Artists studio.

Miss Laye is an English actress and has had several years of experience behind the foothights in her native country. She was presented informally and made no formal statement to the guests. To individuals she said that she had only appeared in one motion picture before, that in England a number of years ago.

The actress also told of the fascination of talkies, how new they were and how interesting, although the mastery of the microphone still was perplexing her not a little. She spoke highly of Actor John Boles, who will appear in "Lilli" as her leading man.

The reception yesterday followed a preview of "Raffles," which opens at the United Artists Theater today.

Clarence Brown Will Fly Here to See Picture

Clarence Brown, director of Greta Garbo's "Romance" which comes to the Criterion Theater Thursday, sailed from Paris Monday.

Brown cables that he is determined to attend a performance of "Romance" before it closes. The race will be a close one. According to present plans "Romance" will open at the Criterion tomorrow and will close on or about August 6, next. This will give Brown just seventeen days to get to Los Angeles, counting the start on the high seas.

"I will make it easily," Brown cables. "Am going to fly my own plane from New York."

MAESTRO TAKES UP BOWL BATON

Bernardino Molinari Leads Auspicious Concert

Mendelssohn and Beethoven Numbers Excellent

"Eroica" Symphony Feature of Ambitious Program

BY ISABEL MORSE JONES

Bernardino Molinari, the fiery little Roman maestro who holds huge audiences at the Hollywood Bowl enthralled year after year, returned last night and began a concert series of four weeks auspiciously. His opening program was chosen with a nicety and care which have come to be expected of him. "Fingal's Cave," overture by Menhelssohn; the "Eroica," symphony by Beethoven; a suit for strings by Corelli, and the overture to "William Tell," by Rossini, composed the list. It was virtuoso conducting throughout.

The "Eroica" was, of course, the most ambitious effort of this first Molinari concert. The Corelli suite held most of artistry. "William Tell" was again a revelation of what this old, familiar stand-by can be under the direction of a master sympathetic to Rossini.

The pervading atmosphere of this concert, and it was well exemplified in the Beethoven "Third Symphony," was one of frenetic excitement. The orchestra was stretched tight with Molinari playing upon its taut intensity. The symphony reached a climax of surpassing interest but it had little heroic nobility. All four movements were played in brilliant rapidity. Short bows, constant sforzandi and a nervous potentiality characterized the performance. Even the "Marche Funebre" held no repose. There were dramatic cessations of tone but the resignation of a great soul was not Molinari's interpretation of the "Eroica" at any moment.

Molinari is no time-beater. He sways his orchestra as he sways his audiences. The Corelli suite, typical of the chaste and beautiful Italian musicianship of another and classic age, was an exquisite re-creation. The two movements were played with the perfect unity of ideals between the composer and the conductor which makes unforgettable perfection.

Frita Gaillard, first 'cellist, displayed a vibrant tone in the opening solo of the "William Tell" overture and the entire section of celli distinguished itself by its beautiful playing. The storm in the mountains was a restrained fury of sound and the famous Los Angeles Philharmonic wood-winds held the audience spellbound in the pastorale. The fanfares of soldiers and the military march were done with fascinating precision and splendor—a feat of showmanship and orchestral government.

RADIO PROGRAM TO BOOST CITY

Manhattan Beach Will be on Air Tonight

Santa Barbara Fiesta Also Dial Feature

Columbia Chain Offering Among Attractions

BY JOHN S. DAGGETT

Another feather in the cap of radio—but it won't be long now.

Southern California towns are finding that radio is an adjunct to the dissemination of the industrial and scenic advantages of their particular sections. Tonight the city of Manhattan Beach sponsors a program over KMTR—last week the seaside city of La Jolla sent a welcome out to Fred Stone and his family over KFI.

Each message, attractively wrapped and sent through the air, will bring tourists and permanent residents to the cities air-minded enough to include radio in their channels of publicity.

POINTS TO DIAL TODAY

KHJ will introduce a new Columbia chain feature at 5 tonight, details not available. It will last thirty minutes. It is titled "Serenade." At 6:30 p.m. Prof. Charles Frederick Lindsley will bring a reading of a story by Richard Harding Davis. These readings are a variety in the daily radio diet that are welcome to many listeners. At 7 tonight Raymond Paige has whipped another half-hour of popular concert compositions with his usual artistry and lovers of light concert music and song should not be disappointed. At 7:30 p.m. the nation-wide broadcast of California melodies will be under the direction of Harry Green, the Jewish comedian of Paramount. This half-hour is a pot pourri of the cream of Hollywood's song, comedy and musical productions sent by the Don Lee chain throughout the United States. Helen Wright of Universal will sing "All Quiet on the Western Front." Other song hits will include "Lazy Rhapsody," "Concession" and "Beware of Love." At 8 p.m. Romantic Forty-niners from KFRC tear another romantic page from early California history. Bring the children to the dial, the history will be good for them. At 8:30 MJB's Demi Tasse Revue, with George Olsen and his Music offers Harriet Lake, the youngest prima donna on the Metro-Goldwyn lot, singing songs she has popularized on a program originating on the Columbia system. Another feature will be a famous Russian singing trio in the summer revue at George Olsen's new club. These artists were formerly with Balieff's "Chauve Souris."

MANHATTAN BEACH PROGRAM

KFI at 8:30 p.m. points to the city of Manhattan Beach as sponsors of a program including the Purcell Mayer Trio, while at both 9 and 10 tonight an hour will be given over to the Packard Concert Orchestra, with Eva Olivotti as guest soloist at 9 to be heard in an Italian program. At 10 the orchestra will have as its guest soloist Gretchen Garrett, soprano. Earlier in the evening Nick Harris tells a detective story at 6. At 7, Tom Terriss, vagabond movie director, toils around some rare spots in the world finding its highlights and points of interest.

KECA at 6:30 p.m. discovers Grantland Rice, sports expert, interviewing Johnny Weissmuller, the world's greatest swimmer of today.

SANTA BARBARA FIESTA

KMTR at 7:30 tonight offers the third of five Santa Barbara Fiesta half hours sponsored by the Standard Oil Company and the fiesta officials. The Fiesta Strollers will be heard in songs including "Pirate Song," "The Long Day Closes," "Old Heidelberg" and two solos by Robert Bliss. The two episodes tonight will be the blessing of the Santa Barbara Mission site and the construction of the mission. Throw away your histories and use your dial. Night baseball at 8 and every Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday nights until the close of the season. Los Angeles and Sacramento mix it tonight.

KFWB promises a midsummer morning of merry entertainment at 8 with Walter Kevan's Orchestra, Hubert and "his gee-tar" of the KMPC Hill Billies will yodel and play; entertainment novelties by Lou Traveller's Orchestra—not to mention "Singin' in the Bathtub" as a good number, are a few of the highlights on the morning program.

KTM writes to say "Bill Sharples" makes his first appearance over their station this morning 7 to 9 with a grand premier opening, Pioneer Day, from Santa Monica. Hereafter Sharples and his gang will appear daily at this hour over KTM. At 8 p.m. Bill and his entertainers will broadcast the Pioneer Fiesta from Santa Monica. The Little Theater playlet moves from 8:30 to 10:30 tonight.

The Times Forum, KHJ, at 1:30 p.m. Junior Chamber of Commerce Program. World-wide news at 12:30, 4:45 and 10 p.m.

SPEER TELLS STANDARD'S RETAIL PLAN

Counsel Testifying at Merger Suit Describes Nation-wide Proposal

NEW YORK, July 22. (AP)—Establishment of a nation-wide organization for the distribution of all petroleum products was the "ideal condition" looked forward to by Standard Oil of New York and Vacuum Oil when they proposed to merge, Peter M. Speer, general counsel for Standard, testified today.

Called as a witness in the government's suit to restrain the proposed merger, Mr. Speer testified Standard of New York was seeking to regain the position it once held in the retail market of the country. In 1912, shortly after the dissolution of the old Standard Oil group, Mr. Speer said, the company marketed 85 per cent of the gasoline sold in the United States. Now the percentage is only 32.7 per cent, he said. The company began its expansion program five years ago, he said, having acquired Magnolia, White Eagle and General Petroleum companies since then.

McCormick Kin to Head Capital Hearst Paper

WASHINGTON, July 22. (AP)—Eleanor Medill Patterson assumes tomorrow the direction of the Washington Herald, as editor-in-chief. The newspaper is owned by William Randolph Hearst, and the new editor will work under the regular Hearst newspaper contract.

She is a granddaughter of Joseph Medill, founder of the Chicago Tribune, a first cousin of the late Senator Medill McCormick and of Col. R. R. McCormick, publisher of the Chicago Tribune, and sister of Joseph Medill Patterson, publisher of the New York Daily News and Liberty Magazine.

Formerly the Countess Cizycka, who subsequently married Elmer Schlesinger, a lawyer, she resumed her maiden name at her mother's request.

Harkness Gives Millions for British Welfare

LONDON, July 22. (AP)—The Daily Herald, government organ, says Edward Harkness of New York, American philanthropist, has offered £2,000,000 (about $10,000,000) for the endowment of social and educational work in Great Britain.

The gift is to be administered by a board of public men, invitations to serve on it had been sent, among others, to former Prime Minister Stanley Baldwin, Sir Josiah Stamp, the great financial expert, and to John Buchan, novelist and member of Parliament.

Strike Called on Decision Rumor

MEXICO CITY, July 22. (AP)—A twenty-four-hour protest strike against the Mexican Board of Conciliation and Arbitration was approved today by four labor organizations controlling the majority of organized workers in the Federal district. The strike move was motivated by rumors that in a labor dispute involving a street-car employee the board was about to decide in favor of the employers.

GASOLINE TAX INCREASES

PHOENIX, July 22. (AP)—Collections of the 4 cents a gallon gasoline tax in Arizona for the fiscal year ended June 30, 1930, according to a report made today by the State Highway Department, totaled $2,038,527, exceeding collections of the previous fiscal year by $468,828.

JUSTICE HIT WITH BAT

Murderous Attack Upon Elderly Jurist at Taft a Puzzle to Officers

TAFT, July 22. (Exclusive)—Who struck Justice Henry C. Whittekin with a baseball bat last Friday night is a mystery that the entire Police Department has been endeavoring to solve, it was disclosed here today. No cause or reason for the assault has been advanced.

According to the elderly justice of the peace, he left his quarters in the Savoy Hotel about 9:30 p.m. to procure a light lunch. He reached the alley at the Palm Cafe when he noticed two men standing in the darkness. As he neared them one said, "Hit him."

The judge jumped back just far enough to receive a slanting blow above his right temple, glancing downward to the shoulder Whittekin made a lunge for the man nearest him and gave him a blow in the solar plexus which caused him to double up with pain. Then the pair fled. There is no clew whatever to their identity.

While the blow on the justice's skull and shoulder was not serious it was painful and required a physician's attention.

Un Español Usa Como Lubricante el Aceite de Oliva

MADRID, Julio 22.—Manuel Pinol, miembro del concejo municipal de Sevilla, llegó aquí hoy en automóvil, procedente de aquella ciudad, y no usó más que aceite de oliva como lubricante de su coche.

Dijo el experimentador que había consumido un litro (como un cuarto de galón) de ese aceite con excelentes resultados.

Los productores de aceitunas han pedido al gobierno que costee experimentos de esa clase, los que, esperan ellos, darán por resultado que se generalice el uso del aceite de oliva, en vez de los aceites minerales, para lubricar. Eso podría venir a resolver el problema de la sobreproducción de la aceituna.

Argumentos en Pro de un Substituto de los Licores Alcohólicos

LONDRES, Julio 22.—El vizconde d'Abernon, presidente de la junta reguladora de licores en tiempos de la guerra, dijo hoy a la Comisión Real de Licencias que al mundo le hace gran falta una bebida sucedánea del alcohol.

Dijo el vizconde a la Comisión Real, que investiga el problema del licor en la Gran Bretaña, que "ya que el alcohol desempeña de mala manera las funciones que se le piden, ya que no es un verdadero estimulante y que el resultado que produce no está exento de reacción desagradable y dañosa, yo sigo creyendo en que llegaremos algún día a la preparación de un substituto preferible.

"Una gran fortuna", agregó, "sería la recompensa de quien lo descubriera, y de paso conquistaría la gratitud de la humanidad."

Escritor Yanqui que Critica la Política Agraria de Méjico

CIUDAD DE MEJICO, Julio 22.—Carleton Beals, escritor de los Estados Unidos sobre cuestiones económicas y políticas iberoamericanas, dijo hoy que la revolución agraria mejicana había sido "un fracaso colosal".

En discurso que pronunció ante la quinta reunión anual del "seminar" en Méjico celebrada por el Comité de Relaciones Culturales con la América Latina, declaró el señor Beals que 7,000,000 de campesinos de Méjico habían sido arrojados de las haciendas, sin suministrarles los medios adecuados para que se ganaran decentemente la vida.

"El sistema comunal de poseer la tierra, que se ha resucitado en Méjico, es un fracaso", dijo el señor Beals. "Primero, porque los campesinos no recibieron tierras ni suficientes ni adecuadas; segundo, porque carecen de medios, equipo y conocimientos para cultivar debidamente lo que les dieron; y, finalmente, porque representa un sistema de aldea primitiva basado en la producción de maíz y frijol para el sostenimiento local, y, por lo tanto, no satisface ni las necesidades nacionales ni las que han nacido de las modernas tendencias industriales."

Ladrones que Abandonan un Auto y una Caja de Caudales

CHARLESTON (Sudcarolina), Julio 22.—El gobierno recibió hoy el regalo hecho de mala gana de un automóvil roto, que le dejaron unos ladrones fracasados en la intentona de robar anoche la administración de correos de North Charleston.

Como no pudieron abrir la caja fuerte de la oficina, los ladrones la empujaron, a pesar de su peso de 1800 libras, por una ventana, y la dejaron caer desde allí sobre la caja del automóvil. Esta se quebró, y la caja de caudales, tras romper el piso del coche, quedó descansando en el suelo. Les fue imposible a los cacos mover ni coche ni caja fuerte.

Papá de 96 Años, que Nalguea a su Hijo de 57

PORTLAND (Oregon), Julio 22.—En respuesta a una llamada de vecinos alaramados, la policía llegó anoche a la casa de J. Borusard, Sr., de 96 años de edad, en los justos momentos en que el anciano acababa de castigar a su hijo, J. Brousard, Jr., de 57 años.

Brousard, el padre, manifestó que su hijo había usado una palabra prohibida—palabra que, en el curso de setenta y tantos años, no había sido nunca permitida en su casa, y él, como amo de su propio hogar, había ejercitado simplemente la autoridad paternal. Como los guardias urbanos no vieran nada de reprobable en el asunto, se retiraron por donde habían venido.

Juez que Tiene que Estudiar la Dieta Láctea de una Criatura

Con el fin de averiguar la cantidad de leche que se necesita para mantener gordo y satisfecho a un bebé de 10 meses, el juez Archbald dejó pendiente, para su estudio y resolución, la moción interpuesta para disminuir la pensión alimenticia en el juicio de la señora Fay Peukert contra William Peukert.

Peukert, que le está pasando a su señora $18 al mes, compareció ante el juzgado para pedir que se le reduzca esa suma, pues que se está gastando demasiado en la leche de su criatura.

John J. Craig, abogado de la señora Peukert, presentó cálculos del departamento de sanidad municipal para probar que es necesaria la abundancia de leche en la alimentación de un niño.

El tribunal se disculpó "de haber echado en olvido los puntos importantes de la dietética infantil";

NEGRO MOTHERS HEAR PERSHING

Gold-Star Contingent Given Reception in Paris

PARIS, July 22. (AP)—Tears of pride glistened today in the eyes of fifty-five Negro Gold Star mothers who assembled at the Unknown Soldier's tomb while Mrs. Laura Newton of Bennettsville, S. C., placed a wreath in their behalf on the French national military grave.

They were deeply stirred by the words of Gen. Gouraud, military Governor of Paris and one-armed hero of the war, who recalled he had commanded a regiment of American Negro soldiers during the war.

Gen. Pershing and Ambassador Edge made brief speeches of welcome.

At a tea and reception for them, Gen. Pershing said he considered this meeting a special privilege for him.

Retired Officer Has Age Record

WASHINGTON, July 22. (AP)—Maj. John V. Lauderdale, retired, of Brooklyn, N. Y., at the age of 97 years, 8 months and 9 days has set a new record for longevity of retired army officers.

Prior to 1882 no such records were kept, but the oldest officer since that time was Maj.-Gen. Daniel H. Rucker, who died in 1910 at the age of 97 years, 3 months and 8 days.

...ER LEADS IN AIR DERBY

...Makes Nonstop ...to Beat Gehlbach

...erican Race Pilots ...ld at Cincinnati

...Winds and Rain Cut ...Down Their Speed

STORMS ENCOUNTERED

The planes stopped here overnight and will leave tomorrow at one minute intervals for Little Rock. Gehlbach said he hoped to be the first to reach his home city and regain the time he lost today.

The pilots all reported flying through strong west winds and rainstorms. Hamer said he flew alongside Gehlbach in Eastern Pennsylvania, but later lost sight of him during a storm.

Detroit was the derby starting point. The planes took off there yesterday morning and jumped to Buffalo, and flew to New York in the afternoon. The route will take them to Little Rock, Houston, San Angelo, Tex., Douglas, Ariz., Los Angeles, Ogden, Utah, Lincoln, Neb., Chicago and back to Detroit.

TIME OF RIVALS

Hamer's time for the New York-Cincinnati leg was 5h. 1m. 46s. Gehlbach required 5h. 39m. 25s.

Third to complete the Cincinnati leg was Lowell R. Bayles, Springfield, Mass. He landed twelve minutes after Gehlbach, and held fourth position in elapsed time.

Hamer's total elapsed flying time since leaving Detroit is 8h. 13m. 9s.; Gehlbach, 8h. 26m. 58s.; S. T. Stanton, Wichita, Kan., 9h. 13m. 50s.; Bayles, 9h. 17m. 28s.

A fifty-mile headwind cut down the contestants' time from 195 miles to 130 miles an hour. Hamer's official average speed was 131.643 miles an hour; Gehlbach 128.155; Stanton, 117.219; Bayles, 116.219.

Stanton landed fourth here. Others finished as follows: Robert T. Quinby, Moline, Ill.; J. R. Wedel, New Orleans; Charles F. Meyers, Cleveland; William A. Cahill, Cleveland.

BAD LUCK KEEPS TWO OUT OF CINCINNATI HOP

ROOSEVELT FIELD (N. Y.) July 22. (AP)—Two contestants in the air derby still are at this field tonight, prevented by ill luck from taking off with the other ships on the flight to Cincinnati.

John Kruttschnitt of San Mateo, Cal., had his ship on the line ready to depart when motor trouble developed and he was obliged to remain. H. H. Holladay, flying a Chicago entry, nosed over as he was about to ascend and damaged his ship.

BIRD PAYS WITH LIFE FOR CONTEMPT OF COURT

JACKSONVILLE (Fla.) July 22. (AP)—A little English sparrow, with utter disregard for the majesty of the law or the gravity of the case, halted a murder trial in court today and paid with its life for being in contempt of court.

The State's Attorney was in the act of demanding the life of a Negro, charged with murdering another Negro.

"Cheep, cheep," came a sound from a window ledge, as the attorney paused dramatically.

The little bird might have gotten away with it if he had stopped then, but he flew inside and continued cheeping until Judge Gray stopped the trial.

A bailiff was ordered to do something. He obtained a fishing pole. There was a merry chase and much confusion, but finally the pole found its mark and the trial continued.

'PADDY' HARMON KILLED BY AUTO

Ex-Newsboy Was Builder of Chicago Stadium

Played Santa Claus to 10,000 Youths at Christmas

Speeding Car Turns Over; Two Others Injured

CHICAGO, July 22. (AP)—Patrick T. (Paddy) Harmon, who rose from a corner newspaper boy to builder of the $7,000,000 Chicago Stadium, largest indoor sports arena in America, was killed today, victim of an automobile accident in which his speeding sedan turned over five times before plunging into a ditch.

Harmon, for twenty-five years one of Chicago's leading sports and amusement promoters, was returning from his summer home in Crystal Lake, Ill., accompanied by his wife and a guest, Dr. E. T. Brand, when his automobile hit a rough spot in the highway near Des Plaines, a suburb. The speeding machine, with Harmon at the wheel, got out of control, plunged off the road and landed twenty-five feet away, pinning its occupants beneath it.

Harmon, internally injured, died of hemorrhages of the lungs in a hospital three hours later. His wife, Mrs. May Harmon, is in a serious condition, but Dr. Brand was less seriously hurt. From his hospital bed Dr. Brand directed a frantic attempt to save Harmon's life by dispatching a highway policeman to a medical supply house in Chicago for a drug that might have stopped the hemorrhages.

Harmon, whose promotional genius resulted in the erection of the Chicago Stadium, was ousted from the presidency less than six months after it was opened, because the board of directors decided his management was responsible for several failures of sports events which had been counted upon to produce profits.

After his dismissal from the stadium last November, Harmon was a candidate in the Republican primaries for the office of Sheriff of Cook county, but was defeated.

Although he was best known as a successful sports promoter, Harmon won thousands of friends through his activities each Christmas as Santa Claus to poor children of the West Side. He came from humble surroundings and after attaining success and a measure of wealth, his greatest joy was to care for youngsters whose start in life was typical of his own. Year after year, he fed and provided presents for as many as 10,000 children.

Harmon started his promotional career at the age of 16 by opening a Sunday-night dancing establishment. Then he became a pioneer in roller skating rinks, popularizing that sport. In 1912 he promoted the first six-day bicycle race ever held in Chicago, and continued to promote the six-day grinds annually.

CHEEKY CHECKER CHECKS OUT AS POLICE CHECK UP

PORTLAND (Or.) July 22. (AP) Thomas B. Hansen is being sought in three States as Portland police revealed today what they consider an "amazing" check scheme.

Hansen is charged with issuing a fictitious check for $10,000. With this check he is said to have acquired an interest in the West Bearing Company of Portland. With the same $10,000 check he obtained the position of secretary and cashier of the company, a position, police declare, enabling him to conceal the worthlessness of the $10,000 draft.

The same position also gave him the opportunity to write more checks which, police say, he did to the extent of $725 on the West Bearing Company. In addition, he is charged with having extended operations to the preparation of pay drafts to himself, and to have overpaid himself $300 in wages and dividends.

Hansen disappeared Saturday. Police in California and Washington have been asked to watch for him.

Likiang Amid High Peaks to Be Home for Five Years

Literature and Plants Lure Scientific Investigator

HONGKONG, July 22. (AP)—Dr. Joseph F. Rock, botanist, working under the auspices of Harvard University and the United States Department of Agriculture, arrived here from America today en route to the obscure city of Lichiang in the southwestern corner of Asia, where he plans to work five years among the people of the Nashi tribe inhabiting that area. He expects to arrive there by September 15.

Dr. Rock also plans to study the tribesmen's historical records, translating them and the tribesmen's weird religious chants into English. He then plans to conduct a research of medical and economic plants of the region for introduction into the United States under supervision of the Department of Agriculture.

Dr. Rock said the topography of the vicinity of Likiang is highly mountainous, 20,000-foot peaks dominating the landscape.

DEMOCRATS IN IOWA HIT PROHIBITION

State Regulation of Sale Urged and Plank Asks Dry Law Referendum

DES MOINES, July 22. (AP)—State regulation of the sale of liquor with a new definition of intoxicating beverages was recommended by Iowa Democrats in State convention today as a remedy for what their platform terms "the nation-wide scandal of prohibition enforcement."

Voting down a motion to omit all reference to prohibition in their platform, the delegates adopted a plank asking "prompt legislative action to ascertain the will of the voters for retaining the Eighteenth Amendment, repealing it, or revising it as the voters shall decide."

The plank is regarded as a compromise in view of action by the Second District caucus asking repeal of the Volstead Act and of the Eighth District opposing modification or repeal.

The platform also assails the Hawley-Smoot tariff, opposes the State primary election law and a proposed State income tax, and criticises Republican farm relief measures.

Filipinos Quit Groves, Ending Race Clash Fear

SAN FRANCISCO, July 22. (Exclusive)—With a steady exodus of Filipinos under way from the Sebastapol district and a peace committee active in the Marysville and Yuba City section, prospects of a serious race clash in Northern California orchards rapidly dwindled tonight.

By auto after auto, the Filipino pickers and packers were leaving the Sonoma county fruit sections, according to Sheriff Bills, who regarded the situation such as to call in his deputies and abandon his plans for enlisting a large posse to guard the orchards.

Air-Mail Flyer Killed in Ohio

HURON (O.) July 22. (AP)—William Frederick Martin, 26 years of age, of Bay City, Mich., flying the air mail from east to west for the Thompson Aeronautical Corporation, was killed early today when his Pitcairn plane crashed two miles west of here.

Fog and rain are believed to have caused the accident. Martin was flying the air mail from Cleveland to Pontiac, Mich., at the time of the crash.

Missing Pastor Reported Dead

TUCSON (Ariz.) July 22. (AP)—Sheriff McDonald of Pima county said this afternoon that the body of Rev. Thomas W. Howard, 74-year-old Minnesota minister, missing from the home of relatives here since June 7, had been found in the mountains west of Tucson today.

The body was discovered by Luis E. Valles, a Mexican.

STORM PERILS LOST YOUTH

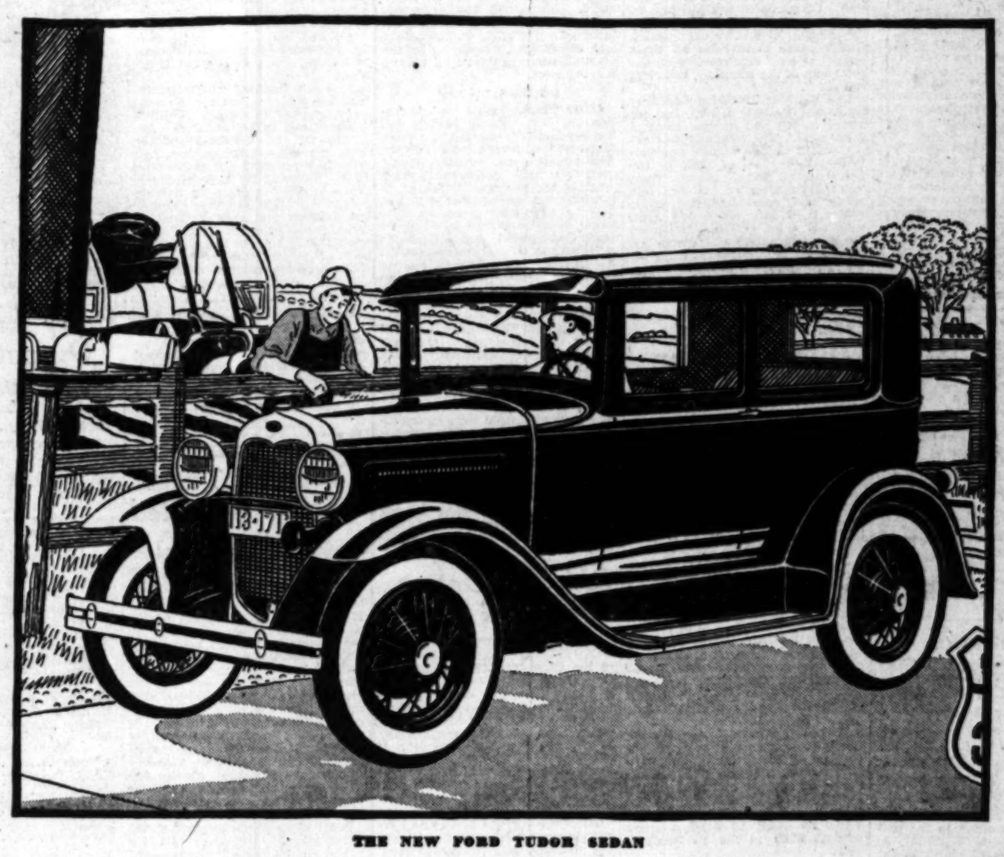
RELIABILITY ECONOMY
GOOD PERFORMANCE



THE NEW FORD TUDOR SEDAN

YOU are buying proved performance when you buy a Ford. You know it has been built for many thousands of miles of satisfactory, economical service.

Letters from users in every part of the world show the value of its sound design, good materials and accuracy in manufacturing. You sense a feeling of sincere pride in the oft-repeated phrase—"Let me tell you what my new Ford did."

Further tribute to the sturdiness, reliability and general all-round performance of the new Ford is shown in the repeated and growing purchases by government bureaus, by police departments, and by large industrial companies which keep careful day-by-day cost records. In most cases, the new Ford has been chosen only after exhaustive tests covering speed and power, safety, comfort, ease of control, oil and gas consumption, low yearly depreciation, and low cost of up-keep.

They have found, as you will find, that the Ford embodies every feature you want or need in a motor car at an unusually low price.

NET OF PACIFIC WESTERN OIL UP

Profits for Half-Year Given at $1,222,681

Per Share Earnings Jump to $1.22 from $1.06

Heavier Write-offs Made During Period

Net earnings of Pacific Western Oil Corporation for the six months ended June 30, last, were $1,222,681.46 after all charges, including reserves for depreciation, depletion and abandonments and Federal taxes, equal to $1.22 a share on 1,000,000 shares of stock outstanding, as compared to $1,065,155.79, or $1.06 a share on the same amount of outstanding stock in the like period of 1929, according to the statement released yesterday by W. C. McDuffie, president.

The statement, which covers the operations of the corporation and its wholly owned subsidiary, Pacific Western Oil Company, showed gross income of $4,511,687.18, as against $3,759,262.94 in the first half of 1929, an increase of $752,424.24, or more than 20 per cent. Operating costs and general expenses, including Federal and all other taxes, amounted to $1,594,845.24, against $1,465,435.46, while charges for abandoned wells, leases and equipment totaled $76,-838.81, against $44,194.69, leaving profits before deducting reserves and interest at $2,840,503.13, against $2,249,632.79.

LARGER RESERVES

Reserves for depreciation, depletion and abandonments aggregated $1,132,167.13, against $685,015.18 in the comparative 1929 period, an increase of $447,151.95. Interest on the funded debt was $485,654.54, against $499,461.82.

The write-offs for the first six months of this year amounted to $1.21 a share, as compared with 73 cents a share for the like 1929 period. The company's gains for the first half of this year, it was pointed out, are more remarkable when it is considered that it was operating under approximately 50 per cent curtailment during the period, whereas no curtailment was in effect during the first half of 1929. The showing is even better when compared with the latter half of 1929, during a portion of which period the curtailment program was in effect. Net profits for the second half of 1929 were $751,830, equivalent to approximately 75 cents a share.

CASH INCREASES

Owing to larger earnings and restricted drilling operations, the company has effected a marked improvement in its cash position, the report showed. Net current assets as of June 30, last, were $2,113,092, as against $1,142,946 on June 30, 1929. Cash increased from $779,277 to $1,716,957. The ratio of current assets to current liabilities as of June 30, last, was 3.9 to 1, as against a ratio of 1.9 to 1 at June 30, 1929. A reduction of $511,500 in funded indebtedness was made during the past twelve months, of which $316,-500 was taken up since the first of the year.

Production, subject to royalties, of crude oil and natural gasoline for the six months ended June 30, last, amounted to 3,608,175 barrels, a daily average of 19,935, as compared with 3,029,197 barrels, or a daily average of 16,736 barrels for the like period of last year.

Net Income of Hupp Auto Off

DETROIT, July 22.—Hupp Motor Car Corporation reported today for the quarter ended June 30, last, net profits of $42,304 after charges and taxes, equal to 2 cents a share on 1,512,092 shares of capital stock. This compares with profits of $66,-749, or 4 cents a share in the preceding quarter and $1,329,787, or 95 cents, on 1,400,122 shares in the second quarter of 1929.

Net profits for the six months ended June 30, last, amounted to $509,053 after charges, equal to 33 cents a share on 1,512,092 shares. This amount is comparable to $2,831,383, or $2.02 a share on 1,400,-122 in the first half of 1929. Current assets on June 30, last, totaled $20,258,866, against current liabilities of $4,979,096.

CALIFORNIA WATER UTILITY NET GAINS

California Water Service Company, a subsidiary of Federal Water Service Corporation, yesterday reported gross revenues of $2,167,-435 for the year ended June 30, 1930 as compared with $2,086,619 for the twelve months ended June 30, 1929. Operating expenses, maintenance and taxes, other than Federal taxes, totaled $1,063,083, against $1,062,557 for the preceding twelve months. Gross corporate income amounted to $1,120,587, as against $1,036,485.

Realty Bonds and Bus Line Notes Offered

Public offering of $300,000 Pickwick-Greyhound Lines, Inc., equipment mortgage 6 per cent gold notes by M. H. Lewis & Company and of $350,000 Whittier Extension Company first mortgage 7 per cent gold bonds by James R. Martin & Company is scheduled for today, according to announcements made yesterday.

The Pickwick-Greyhound equipment notes are due serially October 1, next, to April 1, 1934, inclusive, and are priced to yield 6 to 6½ per cent. Consolidated net earnings of the company and its subsidiaries for the year 1929 after depreciation charges were more than 3.2 times annual interest requirements on the total debt of the company, including this issue.

The Whittier Extension Company bonds are due May 1, 1937, and are priced at 100 and interest to yield 7 per cent. The company was organized in 1912 to acquire approximately 1800 acres of land in the San Gabriel Valley about three miles from Whittier. It has sold about 1337 acres and has under contract of sale about 211 acres with 250 acres unsold. Based on the company's 1929 operations, the net annual income available for interest on this loan would be in excess of 2.8 times interest requirements on this issue, it was stated.

Net Income of Pierce-Arrow Records Drop

NEW YORK, July 22.—Net profits of the Pierce-Arrow Motor Car Company for the six months ended June 30, last, totaled $1,030,878, the company announced today, equal to $1.57 on Class A and $2.15 on Class B stock. In the first half of 1929 net amounted to $1,737,175, or $2.62 on the A and $4.25 on the B stock.

In the second quarter of the year profits amounted to $569,277 after depreciation, interest, etc., equal after dividends on the preferred and under participating provisions of the A and B shares to 87 cents a share on 197,250 A shares and $1.25 on 230,125 B shares, all of the latter of which is owned by the Studebaker Corporation. This compares with $1,288,643 or $1.95 on the A and $3.40 on the B stock in the June quarter of 1929.

If applied directly to the A stock the June profits would be equal, according to the report, to $2.31 a share, compared with $1.77 in the preceding quarter and $5.93 in the June quarter of last year. On the same basis the six months' profits would be equal to $4.08 a share against $7.59 in the first half of 1929.

Net of Brooklyn Tram Line Gains

NEW YORK, July 22.—In the preliminary report for the fiscal year ended June 30, last, which was issued today, Brooklyn-Manhattan Transit Corporation, including Brooklyn and Queens Transit Corporation, shows net income of $7,419,644 after charges and taxes, equal after $6 preferred dividend requirements to $7.69 a share on 769,911 no-par common shares as against net income of the system as it then existed of $6,518,373, or $6.52 a common share in the preceding year.

Brooklyn and Queens Transit Corporation for the year ended June 30, last, showed preliminary net income of $2,563,546 after charges and taxes, equal after preferred dividends to $1.78 a share on 800,000 no-par common shares against $1,759,252 or 78 cents a share on the same common-share basis in the previous year.

McKEESPORT TIN IN EARNINGS REPORT

NEW YORK, July 22.—McKeesport Tin Plate Company today reported for the six months ended June 30, last, net earnings of $1,513,850 after charges and taxes, equal to $.05 a share on 300,000 common shares, compared with $1,084,562, or $3.61 a share in the first six months of 1929.

NET OF TILE UNIT OFF

CLEVELAND, July 22—National Tile Company reported today for six months ended June 30 net profit of $99,642 after depreciation and Federal taxes, equal to 83 cents a share on 120,000 shares of no par common, against $282,006 or $2.35 a share on the above basis in the same period of 1929.

PROPHETS GROWING BOLDER

Boston Expert Predics Greatest Boom Just 'Around Corner; Inventive Progress Basis

BY EARLE E. CROWE

Courageous prophets are not lacking in these depressed times. While most men are originating or repeating pessimism a few are brave enough to rise up and tell about the golden days they visualize just around the corner. They may prove to be false prophets but some of them at least tell an interesting story.

R. W. McNeel of Boston, head of McNeel's Financial Service, is one of this small band. He stands up on his feet and confidently announces, "We are on the threshold of the greatest boom that the country has ever known."

INVENTIONS CITED

Supporting his prediction, the Boston authority pins his hopes on new inventions, new ideas, new methods and new improvements. The exploitation and refinement of these developments, he contends, will provide the foundation for the boom he visualizes.

"The country," he declares, "faces today a program of expansion, invention, scientific development, and the arising of new industries and new modes which promise to make the next ten years in American industry and finance far greater than the last ten years; and greater than anything that has ever been accomplished in any similar period in the life of the nation.

"We are actually on the threshold of new inventions and applications which will far greater revolutionize our whole industrial and social life than anything yet witnessed."

Specifically, Mr. McNeel cites a great number of new inventions and new developments, the ramifications and refinements of which cannot help, in his opinion, to tremendously increase the national wealth.

In this list he includes revolutionary methods in the construction of buildings. Huge structures will be built, he prophesies, of steel rather than brick; windows will be eliminated, lighting and ventilation scientific and artificial, steel floors surfaced with tile, bricks made of glass, and chromium, copper, bronze, aluminum and rustless steel utilized for exteriors.

OTHERS LISTED

Other improvements and inventions he lists include natural gas and pipe line developments; a radio crime service, frozen foods, dry ice, film phonographs, rustless metals, smokeless fuels, heating by radio, humified indoor air, electrification of railroads, central newspaper plants, flashing newspaper pages by television, electrically made steel, practical development and application of television, ice engineering with the control of climatic evils, electric ships, windowless structures and practical use of the photo-electric cell.

"These developments," he predicts, "will enrich industry, and will enrich the individual. They will bring to the individual more of the world's goods; more material things; more wealth; more ability to consume, and so, increased happiness."

It was the same theory, Mr. McNeel points out, that was responsible for the new era psychology applied to security values in the last two years. This reasoning had a definite basis, which has not been affected, in his opinion, by the decline of security prices. While securities have been dropping in price, all this work in science, invention, and chemistry has been going forward.

Ohio Oil Defers Dividend Action

CLEVELAND, July 22.—Directors of the Ohio Oil Company will not take action on the coming quarterly dividend on the common stock until after the special stockholders' meeting scheduled for August 14, at which time the common stock will be changed from $25 to no par. If the change is approved by the stockholders they will receive two shares of new no par stock for each share of old and the next dividend will be paid on the new stock.

Holders of the old stock who have not exchanged their stock at time of the dividend will receive payment of the dividend on the basis of the new stock to which they will be entitled on the exchange. Since the proposed action has not yet been approved no date has been set for the exchange, but officials are urging that in order to facilitate the payment of dividends, stockholders deposit stock as soon as the date is announced.

COTTON MARKET

NEW YORK, July 22. (AP)—A more favorable view of the weather outlook promoted by the forecasts for showers in the western and parts of the central belts seemed responsible for declines in cotton here today.

Trading became quiet on declines of some 7 to 10 points from yesterday's closing quotations for new crop months, however, and the market steadied up a few points from the lowest with the tone fairly steady at 12.92 for the new October and 13.16 for January, around 2 o'clock, when the more active positions were within 2 or 3 points of yesterday's closing quotations.

COMMERCIAL INVESTMENT TRUST

Commercial Investment Trust is the leading concern in the country financing installment sales of all kinds for manufacturers, wholesalers and retailers. Last year's classification of business reveals a good diversification with retail automobile notes accounting for 36.7 per cent, wholesale automobile acceptances, 24 per cent; textile factoring accounts receivable, 20 per cent; other industrial receivables, 14.2 per cent, and all foreign receivables, 5.1 per cent. Subsidiaries operate in Europe, Australia and South Africa.

Nineteen hundred and twenty-nine was a record year for the company, both in gross business financed and in net earnings. Adjusted for the 2½-for-1 split in 1929, per-share earnings last year were 26.5 per cent above those for 1928. No quarterly statements are made by the company, but it is reported that 1930 half-year earnings are well ahead of cash dividend requirements, although down from peak 1929 figures for the similar period. A current ratio of 4 to 1 reflects a sound financial position.

CAPITALIZATION

Share Value of Investor Trust Unit Reported

Total market value of consolidated investment holdings on May 31, last, of the American Founders Corporation and subsidiaries was $162,523,-734, or $8,696,253 in excess of the balance-sheet value, according to the six months' report mailed last night to stockholders.

Gross income for the six months' period was $9,056,948 and net income before appropriations and dividends was $6,725,961. After deduction for preferred dividends and reserve and minority interests of subsidiaries, the balance of income available for American Founders Corporation common shares was $3,179,848, equal to 60 cents a share on 5,579,143 shares, the average number outstanding.

Asset value of the common shares as of May 31, last, was $11.58 a share, eliminating all intercompany holdings, deferred charges and cost of securities of subsidiaries in excess of book values. On the basis of American Founders as a separate company, which would mean taking in the market value of its own general portfolio and also the shares of its four subsidiaries at market quotations on May 31, the asset value of American Founders common was $16.85 a share.

Gain Reported in Car Loadings

WASHINGTON, July 22. (Exclusive)—Loading of revenue freight for the week ending the 12th inst. totaled 915,985 cars, the car service division of the American Railway Association announced today.

This was an increase of 123,844 cars above the preceding week, when the movement of freight declined, owing to the observance of Fourth of July and the fact that the day following was also observed as a holiday. The total for the week of the 12th inst. was a decrease, however, of 150,429 cars below the same week in 1929, and 108,940 cars below the same week in 1928.

Union Pacific Rail Net Sags

NEW YORK, July 22.—Union Pacific Railroad Company today reported June gross income of $14,-124,505, against $16,923,731 in the same month last year, with net operating income at $1,479,521, against $2,741,099

For the first six months of this year gross income was $84,379,941, against $98,466,630 in the first half of last year, while net operating income was $9,308,093, against $16,-200,798.

STEEL BIDS FOR NEW INDUSTRY

Purchase Option Reported on Oil Well Supply Company

PITTSBURGH, July 22. (AP) Benjamin F. Harris, president of the Oil Well Supply Company, announced today that his company had given the United States Steel Corporation an option to purchase the business of Oil Well Supply. Assets of Oil Well Supply at the close of 1929 were given as $27,287,426.

Harris said the option would expire August 25. A special meeting of stockholders of Oil Well Supply, he added, would be called to ratify the deal, but the date for the meeting has not been set.

EARNINGS OF UTILITY GROUP UP

Net of North American Company Runs Slightly Higher for Year

NEW YORK, July 22.—North American Company, one of the largest public utility holding companies, today reported for the twelve months ended June 30, last, net income after taxes, preferred dividends of subsidiaries, depreciation, etc., of $30,500,673, equal after 6 per cent preferred dividends to $5.06 a share on 5,667,999 common shares, the average number outstanding.

In the preceding twelve months net income amounted to $27,266,764, equivalent to $5.01 a share on 5,076,-928 common shares.

Based on the stock outstanding June 30, last, the net income is equal, according to the report, to $4.87 a share on 5,887,529 common shares. This would compare with $4.83 a share on 5,276,213 shares outstanding June 30, 1929.

Figures for the twelve months ended June 30, last, exclude earnings of California subsidiaries from June 12 to June 30, last, and include the proportion applicable to that period of actual dividends only on the common stock of Pacific Gas and Electric received in consideration for the North American interests in the California properties.

Daily Average Output of Oil Shows Decline

NEW YORK, July 22. (AP)—The daily average gross crude oil production in the United States decreased 30,700 barrels for the week ended the 19th inst., totaling 2,500,100 barrels, according to the weekly summary of the American Petroleum Institute. The daily average production east of California was 1,885,200 barrels, a decrease of 32,500 barrels.

Refineries representing 95.7 per cent of the estimated daily potential refining capacity, operating at 69.3 per cent of their capacity, reported daily average run of crude oil to atills as 8,446,000 barrels. Daily average the previous week was 2,511,000 barrels for refineries representing 99.7 per cent of potential capacity operating at 71.2 per cent of their capacity.

DOLLAR REACHES FURTHER

Purchasing Power, Measured by Food Price Index, Shows 25 Per Cent Gain in Year

BY JOHN F. SINCLAIR

[Copyright, 1930, by the North American Newspaper Alliance]

NEW YORK, July 22.—One of the largest general merchandise distributing agencies in Chicago has announced drastic cuts in more than 4000 merchandise items, describing the changes as "one of the most inclusive downward revisions of prices in the history of American merchandising."

The reason advanced for this revision is the discovery that the public in many localities is on a "buying strike."

"People are expecting lower prices," says an officer of the company, and they are not willing to buy goods at present prices. We are offering our merchant customers the lowest prices in months and in some instances the lowest in years, and are recommending that they pass these on to the public."

This is done in the hope that the public will recognize the lower price level as "stable."

How much lower are prices now than a year ago?

Wheat is down more than 50 per cent, corn about 20 per cent, cotton fully 50 per cent.

Wool, which sold at 94 cents a pound a year ago, is selling at 75 cents now. Raw silk, which sold at $4.85 a pound a year ago, sold last week at $3.17 1-2. Cotton goods, 7 3-8 cents a yard a year ago, is selling at 5 cents now.

Put it this way: According to Bradstreet's weekly food price index, it took $3.36 to purchase one year ago what $2.67 will purchase today. So money now has about 25 per cent more purchasing power in the line of foods than a year ago.

Prof. John Dewey's plea to President Hoover for a special session of Congress to enact unemployment insurance comes at the same time that Great Britain announces the greatest unemployment in the last nine years—1,933,000 people receiving government doles—an increase of 42,000 in the last week.

Prof. Dewey calls attention to the statement of the National Bureau of Economic Research that the national income in 1928 was $89,419,000,000, while, exclusive of wheat, the total value of America's merchandise exported amounted to only 5 per cent of the national income and then the professor proceeds to suggest his plan to "improve business conditions to a very marked extent."

"A nation-wide system of contributory unemployment insurance, with the Federal government paying $1,000,000,000 with the several States and employers and employees, jointly, the same amount—in the aggregate about 2.2 per cent of the national income—would largely relieve the most serious unemployment," says the well-known Columbia professor.

It's not a burdensome plan, for Prof. Dewey points out that the "proposed Federal government's contribution to conquer this real menace at home is only a small amount more than it spends to prepare to fight a nonexistent enemy abroad."

Owen D. Young said recently that unemployment was not a "necessary evil," but a human problem capable of solution. This is the enlightened attitude of the modern leader.

COAST SALES GAIN FOR STRAUS HOUSE

Retail sales of the San Francisco, Los Angeles and Seattle offices of S. W. Straus & Co., for June, 1930, exceeded the sales of those offices for June, 1929.

"The increases registered, while they were not large, were particularly encouraging and significant to us, considering general conditions in the investment market, as compared to June of last year," said Leigh M. Battson, Straus vice-president, in commenting on Pacific Coast conditions.

NEW YORK, July 22. (AP)—The stock market swept aside all opposition from the short interest and resumed the advance that had been interrupted by the week-end action.

The list showed distinct strength in its resistance to further selling, moving up 3 points on average under the guidance of encouraged bull operators. Fifths of Monday's losses were gained, in the aggregate.

Commodities firmed in response to weather news. Bonds were dull and steady. Money remained at familiar levels, although some lenders made a reduction in the maturities of time accommodations. Bill buying was in larger volume, reflecting the cut in the rate of the Federal Reserve Bank's bill rate.

Stocks soon opened strong and the bears were in for a beating. The opening was irregularly higher and there was a marked undertone of strength in important shares when the early declines were found to be irrational. Bullish confidence was restored by this demonstration and the afternoon the market was carried upward, interrupted by only a brief interval of hesitation. The close was strong at the day's top. The turnover was slightly more than 4,000,000 shares, indicating the degree of support that had been made largely on professional maneuvers.

Second-quarter earnings reports in many cases better than expected and several favorable reports were made today, especially those of Keesport Tin Plate.

NEW YORK BOND PRICES

NEW YORK, July 22. (AP)—A strong demand developed today for foreign bonds and their activity provided the principal feature of the quiet trading. The domestic section showed no change in trend, continuing irregularly higher. The buoyancy of Treasury issues was outstanding in the firm United States government group.

Apparently influenced by the action of the New York Federal Reserve in extending its bill buying rate of 1½ per cent to 75-day acceptances, rates on time money up to 90 days were shaded ¼ of one per cent.

The easier tone of some standard rails, notably Atchison 4s and New York Central 4s, were exceptions from the firm trend shown by carriers. Canadian Pacific 4s reached a new high for the year, and Union Pacific 4s were strong.

Utilities attracted little attention, some selling at slightly lower prices. American Telephone 5s of 1965 were firm and Bell Telephone of Pennsylvania 5s touched a new high. West Pennsylvania Power 5s of 1939 gained ¾ to touch a new 1930 high.

Stock privilege issues made a little progress. American Telephone 4½s gained nearly a point. Railroad convertibles advanced fractionally. Amusement issues were firm. Pathe Warrant 7s gaining 2 points.

Buying of foreign governments was a conspicuous feature. French and German issues found particular favor and French 7s reached a new high for the year.

Treasury 4s made a gain of 1-3 of a point, and other Treasury issues were marked up by good fractions, while Liberty issues were steady.

The quotations represent sales of bonds (in thousands of dollars) and the highest and closing prices in order given. To expedite transmission the close is omitted when the same as the low, and both low and close when same as high.

LOS ANGELES EXCHANGE

Trading Volume Declines as Selling Dries Up With Prices in Narrow Range

With the volume of trading under the previous session, operations on the Los Angeles Stock Exchange yesterday indicated that the recent selling trend was drying up. The oil list which sold off Monday was firmer. Traders apparently were waiting for more definite market developments before making commitments and the activity that prevailed was confined mostly to a narrow price range.

Transamerica Corporation sold 6000 shares, opening with a sale of 70¾ shares at 23 1-4 and working up to 24 1-4, dipped to 23 1-2 and then advanced to a strong close at 24 3-8, up 1 1-2.

Standard Oil of California on sales of 500 shares, ranged from 62 1-4 to 62 1-2, closing at the latter price, up 7-8. MacMillan Petroleum at 16 was up 1-2, while Pacific Western at 15 and Rio Grande at 17 1-2 were among the oil shares to remain unchanged. Richfield Oil held firm at 17 on sales of 1600 shares with no net change from the previous close. Bolsa Chica Oil A, selling 800 shares, made a net advance of 1-8 to 9 3-4.

Claude Neon of Delaware continued its upward move, closing the day 1-8 up over the previous close. Officials of the company have announced that the earnings for the first half year to be published about August 1, will show a gain over the same period of last year. The California subsidiary of the corporation, which has just reported for this period, made substantial increases.

Southern California Edison common gained 5-8, Security-First National remained unchanged at 102, as did Western Air Express at 33. Barker Brothers common sold 400 shares at 14, off 1 1-4, a new low, and Central Investment dropped 2 points to 95.

Sales totaled 12,905 shares, valued at $405,338; previous day, 17,576 shares, valued at $613,881.

GETTING YOUR MONEY'S WORTH?

After a careful check of the entire investment market, with an eye to security, income and profit, a certain shrewd investor purchased

11 Utilities
18 Rail Stocks
6 Chemicals
5 Oils
10 Food Products
6 Merchandising
19 Industrials

This caused him no trouble for he merely bought COLLATERAL TRUSTEE SHARES, which represent ownership in 75 leading American corporations, distributed over various types of securities as above. You, too, should investigate this opportunity. Send for full details.

NEW YORK CURB STOCKS

NEW YORK, July 22. (AP)—Substantial gains in some of the utilities, apparently a result of short covering, provided the only bright spots in today's stock market, which was generally closed higher. Trading was only 450,000 shares.

Public Service of New Jersey was the most active issue, more than 3 points to the good, supervower rallied a point, and Standard Oil of Indiana only ¼ higher. American Gas & Electric added a point, closing at 120. Other utilities were dull. Cooper-Bessemer, Gulf and Vacuum gained fractions, and Standard of Indiana eased off. Pennsylvania Pipeline Petroleum appreciated 12 points from the last sale.

Only a few sharp breaks among the speculative industrials and specialties appeared, which had not participated for some time, sold off. Rio-Grande Sugar block was liquidated, losing 4 points, and a new low record of 31 established. Hecla Mining dropped more than 5 points, and succeeded to another new low record of 3.

Oil and holding issues were generally off. Among the few to show signs of activity, was United Corporation, which dropped ¾ to a new low record at 16. Since its initial offering early in the year, it sold as high as 44. Transcontinental Oil, Columbian Carbon and Cities Service each rallied a point.

The dollar price is omitted when same is unchanged from last sale but close when bid and asked.

"TIMES" THEATER GUIDE

MOTION PICTURES

Boyd's, Eighth between Broadway & Hill.—"The Bad One." All right until Edmund Lowe decides on prison and Dolores Del Rio must suffer with him.

Boulevard, Washington at Vermont.—"This Mad World." Elsie Dinsmore crows up and goes to war and its all pretty hard on her. Kay Johnson and Basil Rathbone.

California, Main near Eighth.—"A Lady to Love," capable, though censored, transcription of "They Knew What They Wanted." Good performances by Vilma Banky and Edward G. Robinson.

Carthay Circle, Carthay Center.—"So This Is London." Will Rogers goes abroad with Lady Londe as funny Fatty.

Chinese, 6925 Hollywood.—"Hell's Angels." It took Howard Hughes four years and $4,000,000 to produce the colossus of the air. It was worth it.

Criterion, 642 South Grand.—"Big House." An exciting and realistic drama of prison life featuring Wallace Beery and Chester Morris.

Egyptian, Hollywood Blvd.—"The Social Lion." Jack Oakie being very funny as a Californian who goes society then back again.

Figueroa, Figueroa at Santa Barbara.—"The Arizona Kid."

Fox Seville, 1220 North Vine.—"Peter the Pirate." A few grand scenes and the rest by North Yours Truly.

Forum, Figueroa at Norton.—"Sweethearts and Wives." Another social triangle but delightfully handled. Norma Shearer.

Gary's State, Broadway at Seventh.—"Romance." The glamorous Garbo is strangely interesting with an Italian accent.

Hillies Dollar, Broadway at Third.—"True to the Navy." Clara Bow, for once, has more than she can handle.

Hodges, Hollywood at Vine.—"The Big Pond." The amiable Chevalier amuses, and all in good clean fun.

Paramount, Hill at Sixth.—"Love Among the Millionaires." Clara Bow as a singing hash slinger makes a rather hot dish. Stuart Erwin is La Bow's leading man. Much hoseneck, some of it good, by Wheeler and Robert Woolsey.

R.K.O. Hill & Eighth.—"Shirley My Weakness." This is "Tommy," renamed but still entertaining. Sue Carol and Arthur Lake.

R.K.O. Orpheum, Broadway at Ninth.—"Outward Bound." Powerful drama.

Tower, Broadway at Eighth.—"The Second Floor Mystery." Grant Withers and Loretta Young in just another snoop cinema.

United Artists, Bdwy. nr. 9th.—"Raffles." Opens today.

Uptown, Wilshire at Tenth.—"True to the Navy." For once Clara Bow has more than she can handle.

Warners' Downtown, 321 at Seventh.—"Three Faces East." Good entertainment furnished by the war and Eric von Stroheim with Constance Bennett.

Warners' Hollywood, Hollywood Blvd. at Wilcox.—"The Way of All Men." An effective gangster spectacle that just misses its point. With Douglas Fairbanks, jr.

Westlake, 613 Alvarado.—"The Arizona Kid." Warner Baxter as another of those lovable bandits.

STAGE

Belasco, Hill at 11th.—"Rebound." Ina Claire sparkles in various moods, and the dialogue has bright moments.

El Capitan, Hollyw'd Blvd. nr. Highland.—"To the Ladies." The lighter side of domesticity provides amusement such as only Glenn Hunter can offer.

Hollywood Playhouse, 1733 N. Vine.—"Feria Mercana." Elsie Ferguson charms anew in this dramatic role by Ernest Vadja. Tom Douglas comes near to being a sensation as her son.

Vine Street, Vine nr. Hollywood.—"Oh, Judge." Reviewed in today's Times.

VARIETIES

Follies, 4th and Main.—Burlesque.

Husband Sues Wealthy Indian Girl for Divorce

TULSA (Okla.) July 22. (AP)—Maude Lee Mudd, wealthy Indian girl, whose financial and marital affairs have been paraded in the courts for several years, was sued for divorce in District Court here today by Earl E. Gordon, Tulsa automobile salesman.

Gordon married the heiress at Council Bluffs, Iowa, in June, 1925. At that time Gordon was an automobile salesman at Miami, Okla., where Maude Lee had lived. She obtained an annulment of the marriage at Florence, Ariz., and subsequently married Joseph Wilson of Miami, Okla. Gordon succeeded in having the annulment set aside, leaving Maude Lee technically with two husbands.

The girl, a Seneca-Osage Indian, was reputed at one time to have been worth $3,000,000 from oil, zinc and lead holdings.

Canadian Roads Buy Air Lines

VANCOUVER (B. C.) July 22. (AP) Entrance of Canadian railways into the field of air transportation was announced today by Sir Henry Thornton, president of Canadian National Railways, a government-operated road.

Sir Henry said Canadian National and the Canadian Pacific Railway, privately owned, have acquired an interest in Western Canada Airways and Canadian Airways, the two largest systems of the western and eastern districts of Canada.

Circus Wreck Victim Sinking

MONCTON (N. B.) July 22. (AP)—J. B. Rogers, canvasman of Bakersfield, Cal., critically injured in the circus train wreck at Canaan in which four were killed Sunday, was reported at the hospital today to be losing ground. His head and spine are injured.

Six of the injured circus employees were discharged from the hospital yesterday. Ten others are recovering.

FINAL GRAFT CASE DISMISSED BY STATE

SAN FRANCISCO, July 22. (Exclusive)—The last of the Alameda county graft cases was dismissed today when Dist.-Atty. Warren recommended to Superior Judge Murray of Madera county, sitting in extra session, that Frank Gardella, accused Livermore bootlegger, be freed, because "he was only a bartender." His brother Jack, already in San Quentin, was found after investigation, Warren said, to be the principal in collecting so-called protection money.

Board Refuses to Change Rail Merger Scheme

WASHINGTON, July 22. (AP)—The Interstate Commerce Commission will not alter for the present any provisions of the plan announced last December for consolidating the nation's railroads into twenty-one trunk line systems.

Trade bodies in Philadelphia, the Moffet Tunnel League in Colorado and the Waco Beaumont, Trinity and Sabine Railroad in Texas had asked the commission to reconsider terms of the plan.

The Baltimore and Ohio Railroad and other interests in turn asked the commission to refuse the reconsideration petitions.

The commission today gave notice it will not take up the whole subject again, and dismissed the petitions asking to do so.

"Mercy Killer" Adjudged Insane

WALTON (N. Y.) July 22. (AP)—Declared insane by a commission of alienists who examined him yesterday, Andrew Beers, 79-year-old "mercy killer," was committed to the Binghamton State Hospital today for an indefinite period.

Beers killed his mentally blighted daughter, Frances, 27, because, as he told police, he could not bear to see her suffer in illness and feared she might fall into unkind hands after his death.

PRESBYTERIANS JOIN IN MEETING

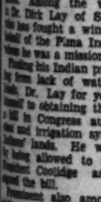
Two State Synods to Gather With United Branch

More Than 100,000 Members Represented in Group

Six-Day Session Planned to Open Tomorrow

More than 500 ministers, 500 unofficial delegates and about 1000 women are expected to attend the synods of California, Arizona and the Third Presbyterian church of California to be conducted at Immanuel Presbyterian Church from the 26th to the 30th insts., inclusive.

The initial sermon of the convention will be preached tomorrow evening by Dr. F. M. Silsley, pastor of First Presbyterian Church at Oakland. Assisting at the opening service will be Dr. C. A. Duggar, moderator of the synod of Arizona, and Dr. W. H. McPeak, moderator of the United Presbyterian church of California.



DR. JOSEPH R. SIZOO

The three synods, to meet concurrently at Immanuel Church, represent 449 churches, 468 ministers and more than 100,000 members, nearly half of them being residents of Southern California.

HOSTS OF LORD

Among outstanding pulpiteers who will address the various sessions of the synod are Dr. Joseph R. Sizoo, pastor of New York Avenue Presbyterian Church at Washington; Dr. Robert S. Donaldson, secretary of the Presbyterian Board of National Missions; Dr. Henry B. Master of Philadelphia, James B. Nolan of Chicago; Dr. Henry C. Swearingen and Dr. George Ralth, medical superintendent of missions of the United Presbyterian church.

RECEPTION TOMORROW

At the close of the session tomorrow evening there will be a reception for Dr. Hugh T. Kerr, moderator of the general assembly, and the moderators of the synods. On the 30th inst. sessions will be conducted at 8:30 a.m. and 9 a.m. and a conference for women, laymen and ministers at 9:10 a.m. Sessions also will be conducted in the afternoon and every morning, afternoon and evening during the convention.

The Presbyterian Synod of Arizona is doing the unusual thing this year in meeting outside the bounds of its territory. Arizona delegates are hoping to make their State and their church work better known to California, to profit by the enlarged vision made possible by the contacts and to enjoy, as a partial vacation, the delightful climate of the Coast region.

A picturesque group comes with the Arizona delegation in the person of several native Indian delegates, many of them ordained ministers. Among the white leaders is Dr. Dirk Lay of Sacaton, Ariz., who has fought a winning fight in behalf of the Pima Indians, among whom he was a missionary.

Finding his Indian proteges starving from lack of water on their lands, Dr. Lay for years devoted himself to obtaining the passage of a bill in Congress authorizing a road and irrigation system for the Indians' lands. He was rewarded by being allowed to stand beside President Coolidge as the latter signed the bill.

Prominent also among Arizona visitors are Dr. Victor A. Rule of Phoenix, well known in the civic, literary and religious life of Arizona; Dr. B. W. Webb, synodical executive, and Dr. George Logie, synodical superintendent, of Tucson.

Tujunga Dam Construction to Start Friday

Workmen will begin next Friday pouring concrete in the construction of the county's Big Tujunga flood-control dam which is being built at a cost of $1,000,000 eight miles north of Sunland.

"Rock conditions at the dam site are excellent, far better than we expected," R. C. Eaton, County Flood Control Engineer, declared yesterday. The work, he said, will be completed within a year.

LUNCHEON HONORS NATIONAL LEADER

Mrs. Virgil McClure

PATRIOTIC SOCIETY'S HEAD HERE

War Mothers President on Two-Day Visit as Part of Inspection Tour

The first national president from the South of the American War Mothers, Mrs. Virgil McClure of Lexington, Ky., arrived in Los Angeles yesterday on an inspection tour of chapters of the organization, which will take her to most of the Western States. She was met at the train by a delegation of local members, headed by Mrs. Cora Compston, secretary of the Los Angeles chapter, and escorted to the Biltmore, where she will make her headquarters during her two-day stay.

Mrs. McClure first was a chapter president of the War Mothers, then State president and last year was elected national president of the organization, which was the first patriotic society to grow out of the World War, its founding dating back to 1917.

This is Mrs. McClure's first visit to the western chapters and she said yesterday that she is much pleased with the interest and enthusiasm she has found. The War Mothers, she explained, are dedicated, mainly, to rehabilitation and hospital work and during the past ten months approximately $52,000 has been put into hospitals and care of needy families. Prison welfare, child welfare and Americanization also are included in their program of activities, she said.

Following her stay here Mrs. McClure will spend a number of days in Long Beach working on the plans for the biennial convention, which will be held there in 1931.

Yesterday at noon she was the guest of honor at a luncheon given by the Loyal Chapter of Los Angeles, at Patriotic Hall, with about 100 members from Southern California chapters in attendance. Mrs. Etta Bedford, president of the local group, presided, and Mrs. McClure was the chief speaker. In addition to giving a brief account of her visits to the various chapters, she emphasized the privilege of being a War Mother and of the high recognition accorded the organization by the War and Navy departments and other governmental branches for the great good it is accomplishing.

Forced Landing Injures Aviator

George Bowlus, Los Angeles pilot, was injured yesterday when the plane in which he was carrying a passenger attempted a forced landing in a walnut grove at Compton avenue and Olive Boulevard, Compton, and crashed into a tree.

Bowlus suffered a broken nose and other injuries for which he was treated at Health Center Hospital at Compton. His passenger, H. I. Ingham, was not injured.

FLYING HUNTERS GIVEN WELCOME

Four Endurance Champions Land at City Airport

Will Make Next Test Flight Here, They Declare

Officials and Large Throng Extend Greetings

John, Kenneth, Walter and Albert Hunter, the boys who set the world's endurance flight record at Chicago a few weeks ago, landed their planes, the large yellow and blue Stinson-Detroiter monoplane the City of Chicago, and the refueling ship Big Ben, at the Los Angeles Municipal Airport, at 10:57 a.m. yesterday.

An escort of eight airplanes, including three Navy Reserve ships commanded by Lieut. E. Kroger, and five commercial planes commanded by Larry Talbot, greeted the famous flyers over the Western Air Express Field at an elevation of 3000 feet and guided them to the airport.

MAY FLY HERE

After making a wide circle of the municipal airport the City of Chicago and, a few seconds later, Big Ben, made perfect three-point landings. A third ship piloted by one of the Hunter brothers' mechanics landed shortly after.

Carefully combing his hair and adjusting his tie before leaving the City of Chicago, John Hunter with a broad smile on his face stepped to the ground, with Kenneth just behind him. From the refueling plane Walter and Albert Hunter, sticking their heads out of the windows, shouted their greetings to the thousands of onlookers gathered on the field.

"Southern California is an ideal spot to conduct endurance-flight tests because of the natural flying conditions existing here," John Hunter said when asked if he would try to make another endurance record while in the Southland. "If we do make another attempt to establish an endurance record it probably will be right here," he continued.

CIVIC WELCOME

An expansive reception committee including city officials, civic dignitaries and prominent citizens, with Mayor Porter as chairman, extended the four brothers an official welcome to the city. Radio station KMTR broadcast the entire program from the arrival of the planes to the departure of the Hunters. Each brother greeted thousands of radio listeners with a short talk over the microphone on their late endurance flight.

Irene, the Hunter brothers' sister, who planned all their meals during the flight, was unable to greet them at the airport. She awaited their arrival at the Roosevelt Hotel, where they will make their headquarters during the run of their appearance at the Grauman's Chinese Theater in Hollywood.

Hundreds of invitations for the Hunter family to be the guests of honor at banquets, luncheons and festive gatherings were received, but all as yet remain unaccepted.

AIR CHAMPIONS CLAIM WEARINESS RECORD, TOO

All this talk about "the bright face of danger" and of the creepy thrills of adventure and perils escaped is all in your eye, according to two boys, who ought to know.

"Old Lady Danger?—never met the old gal. We were too darned tired anyway, to think of anything but mattresses, and what it used to be like when we went to bed regular. Danger? shucks!" Thus mused John Hunter who, with his brother Kenneth (Beans) Hunter, hold the world's sustained endurance record flight of 553h. 41.5m., made at Chicago recently. He tilted his chair back against the wall in his room at the Roosevelt yesterday afternoon while his brother Albert, one of the refueling duo, lounged on the bed.

"If I was gonna crack and was but a foot from the ground and your Old Lady Danger stuck her head in the cabin of the plane I wouldn't even look at her. Flyers do not think of such things—just the story writers."

"That goes for me, too," said Albert.

"Beans," as Kenneth is affectionately called, was somewhere in Hollywood taking in the sights.

TIRED CHAMPIONS, TOO

"I was never so blamed tired in all my life. One of my reasons for coming to California is to see if I can find a man who was more tired than I was. I understand there are some pretty tired people out here. Send 'em around, I want to swap yarns with 'em. Say, the more I rested the more tired I got."

"If any one thinks it is a snap

WHAT AUTUMN STYLES HAVE IN STORE

Models at Apparel Manufacturers' Display Reveal Trends

Glimpses Into Fashion's Future

ABDUCTION CHARGE TO BE SIFTED

Game Warden Declares Fishermen Kidnaped Him on Schooner at Sea

Charges that a deputy fish and game warden was "shanghaied" from Avalon Monday by the crew of the Johnny Boyd, fishing schooner, will be placed before the District Attorney's office today.

It is charged that when Barry Booth, deputy warden, sought to arrest the crew of the fishing boat for fishing without a license, and also using a purse seine within the three-mile limit they abducted him and sent him ashore at San Pedro.

Today Booth and his superior officer, L. G. Smith, will place all of their information before William McKay, deputy District Attorney in charge of the complaint department, in an attempt to file felony charges against Capt. Paul Flamengo, skipper of the Johnny Boyd, and his crew of nine men.

Booth charges that when he ordered the captain to return to Avalon Harbor he ignored the command and sailed across the channel, finally setting him ashore at San Pedro.

Other members of the crew are George, Antonio, Pete and John Flamengo, Tony Clares, Nick Boscowitz, Bob Virtelich and James and John Miardisichi.

Capt. Flamengo and his crew yesterday were arraigned before Judge Wilder at Avalon, who postponed the preliminary hearing until 2 p.m., August 15. Bail aggregating $500 was posted.

Capt. Flamengo's explanation of the asserted abduction of Booth was as follows:

"On last Sunday morning, not on Monday, as stated, I was returning with my crew with twenty tons of tuna to San Pedro. When opposite Catalina Island a speed boat drew alongside and ordered me to slow up. I obeyed and Booth came aboard and ordered me to put in at Avalon.

"This I refused to do because I wanted to get my fish to San Pedro before they spoiled, and because I knew if I put in at Avalon I could be adjudged guilty of violating the law, because my boat was equipped with purse seine.

"Booth then asked to see my fishing license and I told him I had applied for one, but had not yet received it. I asked Booth to be allowed to proceed with my fish to San Pedro and he refused. There was a slight struggle between us for possession of the wheel, and I proceeded to San Pedro, with Booth remaining on board."

UNION EYES APPAREL FIELD

Garment-Worker Organizer Here to Make Drive; Industry's Gain Vexes Eastern Rivals

The charm and style of Los Angeles-created wearing apparel for women are not to spread farther eastward in ever-growing popularity, according to local trade leaders, without encountering some of that particular variety of scheming that, the world over, long has marked the hot and jealous competition in the women's clothing business.

A high official of International Garment Workers of the World has arrived in Los Angeles from his New York headquarters with the announced purpose of unionizing the women's apparel industry of Los Angeles. Back of the union move, local women's clothing manufacturers fear, may be more than mere unionism. Something makes them recall, they say, the stories they have heard of New York manufacturers of women's clothing joining hands strangely with union leaders when Chicago competition began encroaching too far upon them.

AGITATION STARTED

The agitation begins in Los Angeles at the opening of a new fall season when Los Angeles manufacturers are occupied with preparations to make the local industry hum in one of the largest runs of the year. If is a time when the local manufacturers must, so to speak, make hay while the sun shines. Now of all times they can least withstand outside agitation. Mass meetings of their employees have been called with public announcement that "a strike of cloak-and-suit workers is not improbable in the near future."

New York, which is the center of the women's apparel industry in America, has been regarding with increasing jealousy the rise of the apparel business in Los Angeles, according to local trade students. The United States Census Bureau has announced that at the time of its last completed census of manufacturers, 1927, Los Angeles apparel manufacturers were turning out annually products of about $28,000,000 total worth.

INDUSTRY SHOWS GAIN

The official 1929 census of manufacturers has not yet been completed but local leaders in the industry say it will show for 1929 a manufactured product total of $75,000,000. In other words, the industry has nearly trebled itself in two years. This includes all classes, men's, women's and children's apparel, inside and outer garments—of all kinds. Approximately 200 manufactories now exist here employing about 13,000 persons.

It is in the division of women's apparel, however, that the hot competition with the East comes. When

OLD HI FOGG TONES DOWN RAYS OF SUN

Maximum Temperature of 75 Deg. Recorded in City With Minimum of 61

High fog toned down the rays of the July sun here yesterday and gave Los Angeles and vicinity a day with a maximum temperature of 75 deg. The minimum recorded during the twenty-four hours by the United States Weather Bureau was 61 deg.

Fog is predicted again today along the coast by the Weather Bureau officials, together with gentle winds from the west. Humidity was high yesterday, 82 per cent being recorded at 5 a.m. and last night at the same hour 60 per cent was registered.

Last year a temperature of 86 deg. was recorded on July 22. The highest July temperature recorded in forty years, according to bureau officials, was 109 deg.

No rain has fallen so far this month. The normal precipitation is .01 of an inch.

Coroner's Jury Lays M'Gahan's Death to Mace

Luther D. McGahan, Los Angeles publisher, came to his death as the result of reckless driving on the part of W. H. Mace of 800 East Ocean Boulevard, Long Beach, according to the verdict by the Coroner's jury at the inquest yesterday at Long Beach.

McGahan and T. H. Eckerson of 1231 West Seventy-seventh street, Los Angeles, were returning to Los Angeles from a week-end at the McGahan summer home in Laguna Beach Monday morning when McGahan's car was crashed into by Mace. The publisher was thrown from his machine and underneath it. He died shortly after reaching the Community Hospital. No charges had been filed in the case yesterday.

POLICE HUNTING KEATON'S 'AIDE'

Mystery Witness Said to Have Heard Threat

Another May Have Played Part in Courtroom

Informer Declares Man Entered With Slayer

The surprising declaration that he has new evidence leading him to believe that Frank D. Keaton had an accomplice in the courtroom slaying of Motley H. Flint was forthcoming last night from Dep. Dist.-Atty. Burgess, in charge of the prosecution.

After a day spent in outside investigation, Burgess asserted last night that he has the written statement of a man, who was in Superior Judge Collier's courtroom previous to and during the shooting, to the effect that he saw another man enter the courtroom at approximately the same time Keaton did and that the two men took seats one in front of another in the two front rows of spectators' seats.

"My informant told me he believes Keaton had some communication with the man who sat in front of him, but he could not be sure," said Burgess. "He was positive, however, that the supposed accomplice left the courtroom only a few moments before the shooting."

SEARCH LAUNCHED

The deputy District Attorney also declared that corroboration of at least a part of the accomplice theory can be obtained from Mr. and Mrs. Louis Selznick, who also occupied the front row of seats in the courtroom. The Selznicks, the prosecutor said he has been informed, also noticed the stranger sitting next to them.

"I have a good description of this man and I am going to use every resource of my office in an attempt to locate him," asserted Burgess last night.

He declared that until the investigation has proceeded further he does not feel at liberty to reveal the name of his new witness.

ANOTHER WITNESS

A written statement from another "mystery witness," who told the police he heard Keaton utter threats against Flint nearly two months before the murder, probably will be taken today, Burgess declared.

"My information from the police is to the effect that this new witness will testify that he talked with Keaton about the time that Motley Flint returned from Europe to stand trial in the Julian usury cases and that Keaton at that time declared that Flint was going to get more than he expected," said Burgess.

The prosecutor refused to reveal the name or address of the new witness until a sworn statement from the man has been obtained, but asserted that he is convinced the testimony will become one of the main points in the State's case against Keaton, who has pleaded not guilty by reason of insanity.

"This testimony will show that the slayer had a motive and premeditated the murder," Burgess declared.

TESTS CONTINUE

Despite the new evidence recited by the prosecutor, the three alienists appointed by Superior Judge McComb to pass on the sanity of the slayer continued their mental tests yesterday at the psychopathic ward of the General Hospital. They made no statement as to their conclusions.

Public Defender Vercoe, who so far has represented Keaton in court, declared yesterday that he is proceeding with plans for the defense and expects to be ready to go to trial when the case is called in Superior Judge Schauer's court on August 1.

Italian Consul Will Be Guest

Signor Ponce de Leon, Italian Consul in Los Angeles, yesterday was announced to be guest of honor at the first annual festival of the Order of the Sons of Italy to be held Sunday at the Breakfast Club. He will present Italy's greetings to his countrymen. The program will begin at 2:30 p.m. with an instrumental and vocal concert, followed by a series of sports contests.

In the evening concert numbers will be resumed with Charles (How-are-you) De La Motte, screen comedian, serving as master of ceremonies. Artists scheduled to entertain include Guido Trento, Italian actor, Antoinetta Soriono, Chicago Grand Opera Company soprano, and Anna Favalli, danseuse, formerly of the Metropolitan Opera Company.

The Lancer

by Harry Carr

ONE of the joys I get out of San Pedro is finding the old sailors. The captains of the old windjammers.

Capt. John Dahl lives in a cottage back on the hill. His house looks like a captain's cabin; lockers everywhere. He has the back porch fixed up like a quarter deck with an outside stairway like a companion ladder and a bed like the berth in a captain's cabin. From there he sits in his deck chairs and watches the shipping steaming in and out of the harbor—and the battle fleet lying at anchor by the breakwater.

MANY WRECKS

Capt. Dahl is a Norwegian; educated in a naval academy. But for forty years he sailed the sea in ships—old windjammers, steamships, yachts, coast-wise tramps and big liners.

Nine times he has been wrecked—once on the beach on the mysterious Easter Island where an old leaking tub they were taking out from Australia gave up the ghost and left them marooned.

THE BEST SAILORS

I asked the captain, of all the sailors he had ever sailed with, which were the best seamen. He replied without a second's hesitation . . . he who had sailed with native crews and Lascar crews, men of the Norse sea blood and men from the tropic coasts.

"The best that sailed were from Maine, Massachusetts and New Brunswick in Canada. There was never another seaman to equal the American-born. That is—provided you didn't try to drive him. He could be led anywhere; but he couldn't be driven."

WORLD'S CHAMP EDITOR

If you see a frightful traffic jam during the next few days, look out for your life and rush for shelter. It will be merciless and terrible. It will be the authors trying to find George Lorimer, editor of the Saturday Evening Post, who has come to California for his annual vacation.

He holds the keys to the golden gate of fame and fortune. He has discovered more genius than any other man alive. Also—and I don't see how he can ever live this down—he is responsible for this revival of stories of the great war.

A CALIFORNIA CONVERT

Another convert to California is Louis Bromfield, the novelist, who has contracted the California fever in an exceedingly acute form. One of these days he will be writing a novel of old California—and I hope he does it before it is too late to get in touch with the sources that are going so fast.

In my opinion the novel of California has never been written. After all, there were people in California in those days beyond bandits and the folks who seemed to be there for them to rob.

I think in all the range of American history—and any other history—there has never been a period of such peace, such happiness and such picturesqueness.

It wasn't Spanish; it wasn't Mexican; it was just California; it had an aroma and a uniqueness of its own. There are still those who remember these days; but there will not be very long.

BUILDING DECISION DUE SOON

Federal Official Arrives and Two More Coming Today to Discuss Need for New Quarters

Sometime during the present week a decision will be made on the location and size of the proposed new Federal Building. This announcement was made last night with the arrival of Arch Coleman, first assistant Postmaster-General, who said that some definite word of the new building will be given by Saturday.

"It is a little too early to say just what we will do here in Los Angeles," Mr. Coleman said last night as he stepped from a Western Air Express plane on his arrival from Oakland, "but the very rapid growth of Los Angeles, away above any of our expectations, has brought almost an emergency condition here which must be remedied with new quarters.

"Just as soon as we have had an opportunity to talk with your postmaster, Mr. O'Brien, and go over the situation, we will be able to say what form the new Federal Building will take and until then I don't know if the building will house the postoffice as well as all Federal offices or if these departments will be separated."

Ferry K. Heath, assistant Secretary of the Treasury, and John W. Philp, fourth assistant Postmaster-General, are scheduled to arrive here this morning to join in the conference on the new building.

At noon today Mayor Porter will be host at a luncheon in the City Hall tower when the government officials will be the guests of honor and a discussion will be held on the new building.

James R. Martin, who has been active in campaigning for the new Federal Building, yesterday called a meeting of the committee for

FAMOUS WAR ACE HELD FOR SNATCHING PURSE

Capt. George Clifford

A hero in the World War who, if his identification is correct, was a captain in the Canadian forces and directed an air squadron in the fighting in France, stood in Central Police Station yesterday accused of being a purse snatcher.

A passport with his photograph and other documents found in his possession identified him as Capt. George Clifford, 40 years of age, who since his arrival in Los Angeles has been living at 126 North Verdugo Road.

An aged woman, Mrs. Baba Raytzecs of 1236 Innis street, appeared as his accuser. Though he was not without funds, the former war hero is accused of having followed the woman after she had drawn $75 from her small savings at the bank, and when she had alighted from a street car near her home, of roughly wresting from her the purse in which she carried the money.

An exciting chase in which a private citizen played the major role resulted in Clifford's capture.

"I don't know why I took the woman's purse," he was quoted by the police as saying, but merely stood silent and abashed when questioned about the documents that were found in his possession identi-

WILBUR TO DRAW CROWD

Heavy Demand Reported for Tickets to Luncheon at Which He Will Give Talk on Dam

Discussing of the commencement of work on the Boulder Canyon Dam and plans for the beginning of the Colorado River aqueduct, coming from a recognized spokesman for the Federal administration and the one whose department will direct the huge dam project, is expected to attract an exceptionally large audience when Secretary of the Interior Ray Lyman Wilbur appears at a luncheon here next Tuesday, jointly sponsored by Mayor Porter and the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce.

Heavy attendance at the luncheon was indicated at the Chamber of Commerce yesterday, where Secretary-Manager A. G. Arnoll said that numerous early reservations are being received both through the mail and by phone. Secretary Wilbur, rated as an orator of exceptional ability, entertained a large audience in Los Angeles on the occasion of his last appearance in the city some months ago while on a survey of government oil properties.

With the $10,000,000 appropriation for the Boulder Dam project already voted and preliminary survey work under way, business and industrial interests here now look forward to hearing the detailed plans for the work discussed by the Interior Secretary.

With the starting of work on Boulder Dam, the way is now paved for continuing plans for the building of the Colorado River aqueduct under the direction of the Los Angeles Metropolitan Water District, and communities of the district will be well represented at the luncheon.

Secretary Arnoll of the chamber said that Mayor Porter has signed 400 invitations issued by the Cham-

RETIRED MAN'S MURDER FEARED

Hollywood Merchant Gone Since 5th Inst.

Valuable Ring and $3000 in Cash on Person

Last Heard of Driving Auto Away From Dock

Broadcasting throughout the State the description of William B. John, 63 years of age of 4012 Tracy street, Hollywood, failed yesterday to reveal any trace of the retired merchant who on the 5th inst. disappeared mysteriously from the Wilmington water front carrying with him $3000 in cash and a $3500 diamond ring.

Failure to find any clew to the man's whereabouts has given rise to the belief that John was murdered and robbed and his body hidden away. This belief was expressed yesterday morning by his nephew, Joseph Hood, who reported his uncle missing.

"He sailed from New York on June 20," Hood explained, "on the liner Virginia. When he did not come home I investigated and learned that the ship had docked at Wilmington the 5th inst., and that he checked his automobile off the boat and left ostensibly for home. Since then I have been unable to learn anything of him."

Hood said John carried an unusual amount of valuables. The automobile which he drove away from the docks was a new green coupe bearing a New Jersey license. Police suspect that if anything harmful has happened to him the persons responsible have most likely changed the license plates and perhaps repainted the machine to avoid detection.

John is described as in good health, contentedly retired from active business and with no apparent reasons for despondency.

federal activities to prepare a program which will be presented at today's luncheon meeting.

Mr. Coleman declared last night that once a decision has been reached on the type of building and its location, the construction will start promptly and the building rushed to completion.

"The present public building program of the government is the largest and most extensive in the history of any nation in the world. The schedule calls for the expenditure of $560,000,000 over a three-year period. The original program was for a ten-year building plan, but this has been changed to take care of the sections of the nation which have had no new additions to their quarters since the World War and the work will probably all be completed within three years."

ber of Commerce to the mayors of the various cities in the water district and to business men and manufacturers in this area.

The day of the luncheon honoring Secretary Wilbur is also the twenty-fifth anniversary of the bringing of Owens Valley water into Los Angeles, officials of the Bureau of Water and Power said yesterday, giving additional reason for the luncheon being an occasion for celebration. Chamber officials in urging that reservations be made early called attention to the fact that on the last occasion of Wilbur's appearance here, several hundred were turned away through being unable to secure seats. The luncheon is to be held at the Biltmore.

to 'refuel' a plane with a pillow which had been called for by one of my tired brethren—let him try that too. 'Beans,' who used to be a wing-walker, was out on the tail of the plane grabbing at that old pillow with a broomstick with a hook on it. 'The pillow was streakin' out almost straight behind my plane,' opined Albert.

"Our big kick was when we busted the old record wide open," said John, slapping his thighs with his capable looking hands. "We did every stunt we ever heard of with that plane and the folks on the ground thought we had gone cuckoo".

TRUCKS OF MAIL

When the boys landed they were given their mail—two truckloads and more coming. They started answering the good wishes and didn't get further than one nine-hundredth of ½ per cent.

"I told John we couldn't do it—I hated to see all that mail unanswered," said Albert. "There was some funny stuff in what we did open. Many people wrote us asking us for all the way from a thousand berries to ten. They wanted to know what kind of shaving soap we used and a lot of funny stuff. Some day when we have five or six months off we are going back and open the rest of it."

"Will you try it again if some one breaks your record?"

"Say, what a long tail the old cat has," said John.

"Ain't it the truth," said Albert.

RISHELLE TO HEAR PENALTY

Convicted Loan Association President to Face Judge Tuttle Tomorrow for Sentence

Found guilty of the theft of $700 from the Bay City Building and Loan Association, John D. Rishelle of Santa Monica, organizer and president of the concern, will come before Superior Judge Tuttle for sentence tomorrow. Mrs. Mabel L. Rishelle, wife of the founder and herself secretary of the organization, was acquitted.

Rishelle was tried on two counts, one asserting the theft of $10,000, and the other the embezzlement of $700. The jury disagreed on the $10,000 count as to Rishelle, but acquitted Mrs. Rishelle. According to Dep. Dist.-Attys. Scott and Moses, who tried the case, it is undetermined whether Rishelle will be tried on the undecided issues.

In December, 1928, Rishelle, as president of the association, sold to the Bank of Italy a parcel of real estate for $310,000. Of this money, $15,000 was deducted for a real estate commission, but Rishelle, it was asserted, took $10,000 of this money and gave $5000 to Edward Conliss, real estate agent who handled the deal. Then Rishelle paid himself $700 more, explaining it was to settle tax claims. Before the money was paid to the county, however, there was an investigation of the financial affairs of Rishelle and the company, and Rishelle put the $700 in escrow.

Later a complaint was issued, and prosecution of Rishelle followed. According to defense attorneys, C. Morton Booth, and the firm of Medlar & Wood, Rishelle's $700 shortage was "a matter of bookkeeping," and the defendant never sought to appropriate the money to himself. The $10,000, they claimed could be rightfully claimed by Rishelle as a commission, as it was by his direction the sale was made. The prosecution contended Rishelle was acting as agent for his company, and that any profit he made should be paid to the association.

APPAREL UNION INVADES FIELD

Los Angeles manufacturers of these articles got together some few years ago they reasoned that there was nothing to prevent them from going into the game in a nation-wide way. In fact they set up the theory that to engage in only Pacific Coast trade would be economically unsound. As a result they expanded their field outside the coast area and now are making a particular drive for business generally west of the Mississippi River, although their products, to some extent, go now into every State in the Union.

All of this, the New York center now is viewing with alarm. Its salesmen do not come here as often as they used to because their goods are in many lines giving away to Los Angeles manufactures. Their salesmen in the West generally find keen competition in salesmen from Los Angeles. Los Angeles-made goods have that which comes from the remarkable assembly of creative talent and appreciative patronage for which this place has become famous the world over. And the women of the Middle West, especially the misses, are looking for the Los Angeles and Hollywood touch in what they buy to wear.

So with the growth of the local industry and the loss of much New York business to it, the local manufacturers are not surprised at the threatened activities. Whatever business open-shop workers lose here on account of labor agitation by union delegates, it is pointed out generally, will be gained by union-shop workers in the East.

And then, too, if New York manufacturers handicapped by years of increased union burdens could see these same burdens weighed down upon their Los Angeles competitors the difference in purchasing advantages would not be so greatly in favor of Los Angeles, according to the locals. In any event the easterners, proprietor or union employee, could not but profit by any turmoil that might be precipitated in the opening of the season here and Los Angeles would suffer that much and more because of evils generally attendant upon disturbed conditions.

The women's apparel division of the industry here employs about 8000 persons. The local unit of the union in this field asserts they have a membership of about 500.

The organized women's apparel manufacturers here now are conducting their annual show in the Biltmore. Several thousand buyers, including hordes from the Middle West and many from New York and other eastern points are attending the showings. The show will go from here to Chicago where it will open August 4. This evening the show will stage a style revue in the Shrine Auditorium.

BERMAN DISMISSAL ARGUED

Move to Quash Charges Occupies Entire Court Day, and Defense Scores One Victory

Virtually the entire day in Superior Judge Schauer's court was spent yesterday by Jacob Berman and his attorneys in seeking dismissal of the charges of forgery and embezzlement upon which he is being tried.

John J. Hill, deputy public defender, during the day succeeded in having one of the forgery charges dismissed. He spent the remainder of the day arguing for dismissal of the embezzlement charge in which Berman is accused of misappropriating $10,000 handed to him by Daniel Barnes for investment in Julian Petroleum stock.

Today, H. S. G. McCartney, deputy District Attorney prosecuting the case, will answer Hill's argument. Before he begins his argument, McCartney expects to call one witness, Torrance Welch, to further establish the State's contention that Berman embezzled Barnes's money.

When the court has disposed of the pending motions, the defense will take over the case in an attempt to disprove the charges preferred in the indictment.

Throughout the trial yesterday only three or four persons occupied the seats reserved for the public in the courtroom. During the early days of the Julian Petroleum crash the courtrooms were crowded with spectators when any of the principals appeared for hearing or trial.

Woman Hurt in Auto Collision Friday Dead

One death was reported to the Coroner's office yesterday as the result of a traffic accident. The victim was Mrs. Pearl Wakeman, 27 years of age, 4348 Lockwood avenue. She was injured last Friday when a car in which she was riding collided with one driven by Louis Minkle, 1010 Madison avenue, at Fairfax and Melrose avenues. Mrs. Wakeman died at the French Hospital without having regained consciousness.

Police Surgeon C. E. Cornell and Ambulance Driver G. McLaughlin narrowly escaped serious injury last night when a University division ambulance in which they were speeding to answer a call, turned over in attempting to avoid colliding with another machine at Virgil avenue and Clinton street. McLaughlin suffered a minor laceration over the eye. Dr. Cornell emerged from the wreck unhurt. The other car, a roadster, according to police, was driven by Donald Hart of 617 Tularosa Drive.

WAR HERO HELD IN PURSE THEFT

fying him as a former captain in the Canadian forces.

The story told by Mrs. Raytzecs was that she had gone downtown yesterday to her bank and had wrapped the money she had drawn in a handkerchief and then placed it in her purse. Boarding a street car to return home she noticed a man close behind her, but merely thought he was another passenger bound in the same direction as herself.

SNATCHES PURSE

She was disillusioned soon after alighting from the street car, however, for the man, still close behind her, suddenly wrenched the purse from her grasp, all but knocking her to the sidewalk as he did so.

The aged victim screamed and William L. Low, an employee of the Board of Public Utilities, took up the chase in his automobile. The purse snatcher, though on foot, proved his fleetness by keeping ahead of Low for a short distance, after which the fugitive sought to shake off pursuit by dodging in and out of the traffic.

Low, abandoning his automobile, continued the chase on foot, following his quarry when he dashed behind some houses, leaped a fence, and raced down Sunset Boulevard to a grocery at No. 1235, into which he ran and sought to hide.

Following without hesitation, Low grappled with the man and held him until Policemen Maxwell and Bergerson arrived a few minutes later.

Police said last night there can be no mistake in Clifford's identification, for in addition to his photograph on the passport, he is described in the documents as a Scotsman. Clifford's accent, police said, is unmistakably Scotch, and he fits in every other detail the description contained in the documents.

He was booked on the charge of suspicion of robbery.

But Then Miss Rambeau Says Engagement's Off

He Gains Freedom on Bail and Maps Fight

Jail gates clanged shut twice yesterday behind H. H. Van Loan, short-story writer and playwright, and gave him first-hand experiences such as he has described in many of his literary efforts. First they locked him in, and four hours later they locked him out, his release following the posting of $1500 bail fixed by Municipal Judge Ballard to insure his appearance at a hearing on the 29th inst. at 2 p.m., on a felony complaint charging child-abandonment.

Van Loan was taken in custody at the Roosevelt Hotel as a result of charges filed in New York by his estranged wife, Mrs. Gertrude Van Loan, and mother of his 13-year-old daughter. He at once characterized the move as Mrs. Van Loan's method of answering the divorce suit he filed against her here May 20, last. Then, after languishing in the County Jail until bondsmen effected his freedom, he stated his intention of fighting extradition to New York. The author's temporary incarceration was a source of less discomfort to him, however, than statements in which Marjorie Rambeau, stage star, was quoted as having denied an announced engagement to him. Several months ago, Van Loan said, he and the actress would be wed. But yesterday, Miss Rambeau, it is said, denied the engagement story as "a publicity stunt." Apprised of the denial, Van Loan appeared irked and exhibited a wrist watch containing a picture of the actress and an inscription reading: "From your darling to my darling."

Van Loan sprang into fame here about twelve years ago when he wrote "The Virgin of Stamboul," an outstanding motion picture of its day, in which Priscilla Dean achieved stardom. He followed this with many others, including "The Great Redeemer," and several seasons ago entered the lists as a playwright with "The Noose," a Broadway hit, done in collaboration with Wilbur Mack.

ERNESTO B. GARCIA'S FUNERAL TOMORROW

Funeral services for Ernesto B. Garcia, former District Attorney for the Second Judicial District of New Mexico, who died Monday, will be conducted from the funeral parlors of Kiefer and Eyerich, Glendale, tomorrow at 10 a.m. He was a graduate of University of Southern California, 1907, from the college of liberal arts. He studied law at the same school and was graduated in 1910 and from Harvard four years later. He married Anna Dyer Amis of Los Angeles in 1916. He made an enviable record in New Mexico in his fight against illegal land frauds and closed them up. Ill health forced him to return to Southern California.

TRADE ENVOY FUND SOUGHT

Banker Asks Supervisors for Appropriation to Help Entertain South American Delegates

A request that Los Angeles county appropriate a sum of money for the entertainment of 300 delegates to the Pan-American reciprocal trade conference to be held here in August was made to the Board of Supervisors yesterday by Max E. Socha, president of the Los Angeles National Bank of Commerce. Following a short speech by the banker the matter was referred to Supervisor Wright, who represents the finance committee of the board.

Socha asked that the money be appropriated from the county's exploitation fund. He said that the financial, industrial, manufacturing and agricultural interests of the city and county expected 300 or more delegates from every country in Latin America except Haiti and Santo Domingo to attend the meeting which will open on August 10 next. Canada will also be represented, he declared. In addition, many of the ambassadors of the various countries at Washington are scheduled to attend.

The delegation expects to spend a month in California. Three days of their time will be passed in Los Angeles city and county. Their first stop is at Los Angeles.

San Francisco county, the banker asserted, is making elaborate preparations to entertain the visitors.

The purpose of the visit is to exchange ideas relative to trade and study conditions in financial, industrial and the agricultural fields in this State with a view of reciprocating and creating better relations between the business interests of this country and those of South America.

IMPROVEMENT ABANDONED

The City Council yesterday adopted the ordinance abandoning proceedings for the improvement of streets in the Denker avenue and Sixty-eighth street district.

STUDENT SUES IN SCHOOL ROW

Huntington Park Union High District Asked to Pay

Printing Instructor Blamed for Asserted Injuries

Pupil Tells of Attack on Refusal to Sweep

Damages amounting to $10,000 are asked by Sproul McCloy, 3467 Live Oak street, Huntington Park, a student in the printery of the Huntington Park Union High School, for an asserted black eye, sprained back and neck, and nervous shock, which, he says, he received when Harry W. Fletcher, an instructor, ordered another student to throw him out of the print shop. Notice of the action was received yesterday by County Counsel Mattoon, who will defend the school district.

The suit is brought by the student in the name of his father, Wallace McCloy, as guardian. It is directed against the high school, Fletcher and Ollie Arbelbide, the student whom young McCloy blames for his injuries. He asks $5000 actual and $5000 punitive damages.

According to young McCloy, the instructor ordered Arbelbide, student foreman of the print shop at the school, to "throw him out" after he had refused to sweep out the print shop. He contends that sweeping is not a part of printing instruction, and that he had a right to refuse to do it, also that he is entitled to damages for the injuries he asserts he received during the scuffle with young Arbelbide.

DICKINSON DENIES HE'S VERY RICH

"Millionaire" Appellation Repudiated During Court Tilt in Divorce Case

Justin W. Dickinson is one man who resents the appellation of millionaire, it appeared from testimony in Superior Judge Smith's court yesterday, at the trial of his divorce suit against Mrs. Josephine Dickinson, to which she replied with a cross-complaint.

Mrs. Dickinson had demanded alimony and a share of community property, based on the assertion that her husband's property was evaluated at a sum that ran into seven figures. Three appraisers for Dickinson, however, testified that he is worth in the neighborhood of $137,000.

"The assumption that Mr. Dickinson is a millionaire is only a myth and a bubble," said Attorney W. I. Gilbert, who appeared for the real estate man.

Arthur C. Amos, who, it is asserted by Dickinson, had been associated with Mrs. Dickinson, was called to testify, and admitted that he had met her, but insisted there was "nothing improper" about the meetings. Attorney Joseph Scott for Mrs. Dickinson declared in cross-examining the witness that he will show Dickinson condoned his wife's meeting with Amos.

Testimony in the case will continue today.

Actor's Police Badge Brings Inquiry Order

Chief of Police Steckel yesterday was directed in a resolution by the Police Commission to investigate and report to that body where John Bowers, film actor, of 2939 Montcalm avenue, obtained lieutenant of detectives badge No. 391, as reported in newspapers telling of his arrest on the charge of being intoxicated and posting of $'00 bail for his appearance in court. The action was taken on motion of Commissioner Drake, who produced a clipping and said he got all his information from Will Rogers and the newspapers.

"I want to know who issued this badge and others to persons not connected with the police department," asserted Drake.

Commissioner Wehn stated he had a list of 800 that have been issued and Drake said he understood 1400 badges are out to persons not in the police department. Commissioner Coe said it had become the custom to issue honorary badges and Walkup expressed the opinion that many have them because of their aviation activities, and that such was possibly the reason in the case of Bowers.

Bowers, for whom a bench warrant had been issued Tuesday last following his failure to appear in answer to the charge of intoxication, presented himself in Municipal Night Court last night. Judge Miller, being unprepared to go ahead with the case, postponed it until tonight, permitting the actor to remain at liberty under the $150 bail bond originally posted.

Visiting Author in Hospital With Slight Illness

Garet Garrett, writer on economic subjects for the Saturday Evening Post, was a patient yesterday afternoon in the Good Samaritan Hospital, suffering with an attack of indigestion. Mr. Garrett was taken to the hospital from the Biltmore, where he had been staying since his arrival in Los Angeles last week by steamer from New York.

George Horace Lorimer, editor of the Saturday Evening Post, and Mr. Garrett were on a tour of the Pacific Coast when the latter was stricken. Mr. Lorimer left yesterday morning for the Grand Canyon on a continuation of his tour.

Dr. Dudley Fulton, who is attending Mr. Garrett, said that his patient's condition is not serious and that he probably will be discharged from the hospital in two or three days.

Gene O'Hara's Funeral Rites to be Today

Funeral services will be conducted at the Claire Overholtzer chapel, 1236 South Grand avenue, at 2 p.m. today for Mrs. Genevieve O'Hara Sutton, widely known in Hollywood as Gene O'Hara, press representative and magazine contributor, who died Monday at her home, 1950 North Argyle avenue. The obsequies are in charge of the Breakfast Club, of which she was a gold-card member. The body will be cremated in Hollywood crematory.

Born in Frankfort, Ky., thirty-nine years ago, Miss O'Hara was the niece of Theodore O'Hara poet-author of "The Bivouac of the Dead," in memory of whom she unveiled a monument several years ago at the invitation of her native State. She came to Los Angeles in 1915 and devoted several years to film acting, being a member of the late Thomas H. Ince's stock company. She gave up the screen for a writing career, publicizing individuals and civic organizations, and fashioning Easter-time prose and verse in glorification of Southland charms. Shortly before her fatal illness she entered into a partnership with Miss Charlotte Rogers.

Miss O'Hara leaves a 12-year-old daughter, Jeanne Sutton, and Mr. and Mrs. Edward S. O'Hara of Frankfort, her parents. Her mother recently has been visiting here.

Many Reported to be Indorsing Clyde Plummer

Taking their stand on Clyde Plummer's record of twenty-one years of enforcement of the law, prominent citizens from all parts of the county are reported to be indorsing his candidacy for Sheriff. His promise to co-operate with the police and the District Attorney in a county-wide campaign against organized crime, and his refusal to view the lawbreaker with tolerance and indifference, are said to be winning him many sponsors.

"As Sheriff, I can make it impossible for the habitual criminal to operate in safety. I refuse to compromise with any element working against the public good," said Plummer.

Plummer was appointed patrolman in 1909 and was promoted to the rank of captain in twelve years, establishing a record for the department. In 1927, he was appointed deputy Chief of Police and has had charge of the traffic and vice squads at various times.

During the last year, Plummer organized and acted as chief of the enforcement bureau of the District Attorney's office, effecting during that time 1649 arrests with 1187 convictions.

Park Highway Plan Opposed

The City Council has transmitted to the Park Commission a communication from the Westlake Business Association protesting against any plan for "despoiling" or cutting up the park by running a highway or bridge over or through it.

SEWER PLEA FAVORED

On recommendation of the Health and Sanitation Committee, the City Council yesterday granted a petition for the construction of sewers in Elder Court at Pickwick street, and approved the assessment district map for the construction of sewers in Saylin Lane and Marie avenue.

Today's Bible Text

Ye fathers, provoke not your children to wrath; but bring them up in the nurture and admonition of the Lord.—Eph. vi., 4.

FREE
Nothing is said to be for sale in the Vatican State except postage stamps. Which would seem to indicate that religion is free.

THAT'S THE TROUBLE
Centenarian says the secret of longevity is to eat what you please and do as you please. But he didn't explain how to go about it.

PHONE
It costs more to phone from New York to Chicago than from Chicago to New York. Evidently this is just a protective measure that Gotham throws around her citizenry.

NEW HAT DEFINITION
Comptroller-General McCarl rules that, when it comes to an expense account, "a hat is not clothing." Most husbands will agree that, so far as their own wives are concerned, a hat is a luxury.

PRINTS
Fingerprints for purposes of identification were used as far back as 700 A. D. in China. Maybe this is where the first printing business started. Printing and publicity have always been the worst foes of crime.

FRYING PAN TO FIRE
It's hard to understand some women. Kingsford-Smith's fiancee doesn't want him to make any more overseas flights and prefers that he stay on the ground. And he's so unused to the dodging of traffic in the streets.

CHINA IN THE AIR
Also the Chinese are getting air-minded. They have very imperfect railway connections and few decent roads and so they are turning to the air for transportation for passengers, mail and express. The Nanking government is said to be completing a contract with Curtiss interests and other Americans for the establishment of three air lines connecting the chief cities of Southern China. The project will have a capitalization of about $15,000,000, of which 55 per cent is to be in the hands of the Chinese and the balance remain with the Americans. The Chinamen have been up in the air so long they should be used to it. Now let them go to it in style.

LOS ANGELES STYLE CENTER
A three-day style show in Los Angeles is an event of more than passing interest. It is more than a passing show, for its effects are apt to work lasting changes. Fashion in its final ruling is democratic and its arbiters are millions of women all over the western world. But the city from which the edicts of fashion go forth has secured a place in the financial sun worth striving for. When Joseph Zukin, president of the Associated Apparel Manufacturers, confessed that Los Angeles is the style center west of the Mississippi, he presented the premise without the conclusion, which is that the capital of filmdom is fast becoming the style center of the world.

That conclusion means a whole lot of good fortune for Los Angeles, not only because it will make this city even more attractive to women, but because it will entice here much of the lucrative business once monopolized by the modistes and fashion dictators of Paris. The three-day style show, bringing here more than 7000 wholesale and retail buyers of women's wearing apparel, may well be the start for an annual hegira to the Pacific Coast to take the place of the past spring fashion flights to the capital of France.

A style show in any case brightens up a city because it is primarily concerned with beautifying women, wherefore beautiful women are certain to be in evidence. Buffon said in 1769, "The style is the man." That may have been true then, but we all know now that the style is the woman. So Lord Chesterfield's aphorism, "Style is the dress of thought," is also out of date. In Los Angeles this week, style is the thought of dress. And as long as the spirit of woman dwells on earth the same will be true.

THE NAVAL TREATY
The Naval Limitation Treaty drawn up at London in the early months of this year has been ratified by the United States Senate, despite the utmost efforts of a handful of irreconcilables to defeat or delay it, or throw it into the maelstrom of partisan and factional politics from which they hoped it could not emerge. The vote by which the treaty was ratified is another bitter personal defeat for Senator Johnson of this State, who, in leading the anti-treaty fight, passed all bounds of misrepresentation and vilification. That the Johnson fight was purely personal, made on behalf of himself and his friend, Hearst, and particularly directed at President Hoover and Secretary of State Stimson, became so clear that even Johnson's closest associates in the Senate were disgusted with his conduct.

Observers in Washington declare that by it Johnson has lost most of what little influence remained to him in the Senate, and that from now on he will dwindle into even smaller insignificance. His role there has never been commanding, but at times in the past year he has been able to organize an anti-Hoover bloc of partisan Democrats and of insurgents which for some weeks gave the administration some concern and even placed its program in doubt. The collapse of this bloc in the early summer and its surrender to the overwhelming public backing the President was receiving from all parts of the country, is now a matter of history; and Johnson's final futility, which may easily mark the end of his career, has now passed into history also.

It has not passed, however, without leaving scars. The country will not soon forget that it was Johnson who maligned the President from his State, the leader of the party to which he owes, if he does not render, allegiance, and with him a group of men in whom the nation has the utmost confidence. He accused the treaty negotiators of betrayal amounting to treason, of making secret agreements contrary to law and the Constitution, of surrender of all rights of the United States on the seas, and of other unpatriotic activities—accusations so absurd that they fell of their own weight.

The fact of the matter is, as Senator Johnson ought to know, that the London Naval Treaty is one of the greatest forward steps that has been taken in a generation toward international peace, stability and prosperity; that it measurably aids in reducing the likelihood of war; and that it is unsatisfactory only in that it does not go far enough. It has stopped for years naval competition between the three principal naval powers, it has removed suspicion, it has assured the national defense for a moderate expenditure, it has brought about at last substantial parity in the cruiser and other warship fleets of the United States and Great Britain, it has postponed wasteful construction and more than these, it has set an example which is certain to be exceedingly beneficial in the future.

It was not all that was hoped for, but it was the most that could be obtained and it was in itself an achievement well worth having—an agreement such as would not have been deemed possible a generation ago, fit companion to the Washington Treaty of 1922, to the Kellogg Pact and to other international understandings which have minimized the danger of war.

The treaty did not, of course, need the so-called Norris reservation, repudiating secret agreements between the signatory powers. This resolution presumably gratified the self-esteem of that part of the Senate which suffers from delusions of grandeur. There were no secret agreements, and to suppose that there could have been is merely silly. The reservation, therefore, neither adds to nor detracts from the treaty; its only service is to call attention of the world to something it already knows—that the United States makes no binding international contracts without the "advice and consent" of the Senate. The singular patience of President Hoover toward all forms of childishness is well illustrated by his acceptance of this resolution without protest; it shows him a man big enough to ignore the immaterial, to hold fast to the substance and spend no time fighting shadows. It is not that President Hoover lacks pride of office. What he is really without is false pride of office; he exercises his power as a means of service and realizes that that service can be performed in one way as well as in another; that mere form does not matter. In its inception the Norris resolution was an arrow aimed at the Presidential office, its dignity, its prerogative; but it fell blunted, made no wound, because the Presidential office is genuinely not vulnerable to that sort of shaft, when a Hoover sits in it.

All the other reservations—most of which would have killed the treaty or required difficult negotiations to obtain their acceptance by the other powers—were voted down overwhelmingly, as they should have been. They required little argument to dispose of them, and they obtained few votes on the floor.

The treaty, of course, remains still to be ratified by Great Britain and Japan to become effective, but their acceptance in the course of time is regarded as reasonably certain. It is being attacked in both countries on the same sort of grounds and by the same sort of jingoes as opposed it at Washington—as good an indication of its essential fairness to all concerned as is needed.

Its acceptance by the United States Senate, known for years as the "graveyard of treaties," is another triumph for Hoover leadership. The President got his treaty, as he got most of the major legislation he asked for, and the fact that he had to put up with a good deal of incidental nonsense does not weigh against the achievement. This incidental nonsense amounted to no more than a mild annoyance.

Mild annoyance is, in all likelihood, his only reaction to the Johnsonian outpourings. But that is no reason the State of California should restrain its indignation at the conduct of a man who, however unworthily, sits as one of its Senators. The blows Johnson has aimed at Hoover have hit all California, and the State is, and will be, rightly resentful.

The LEE SIDE O'LA
BY Lee Shippey

ONE of our eastern visitors describes a Californian as one who takes a hot dog in one hand and a steering wheel in the other and sees the country.

It is a fact that most of us spend a great deal of time going somewhere, because there are so many places to go. When we lived in the Middle West there was many a place within 100 miles or 150 miles which we had never seen. There was no great reason why we should see it—it was just another town, with little to distinguish it from many other towns its size.

But get into any chatty group here and you'll find them talking of Catalina, Lake Arrowhead, Big Bear, Palm Springs, Death Valley, Coronado, Agua Caliente, Ensenada, Laguna, Carmel, the Monterey Peninsula, Santa Barbara, San Francisco, Hawaii, Redwood Highway, the Yosemite—and apparently nearly all of them have been to all those places.

We probably are the greatest week-end trippers in the world. Whenever we have even a day—even half a day—to spare, some local beauty spot of real distinction beckons us. Mt. Lowe, Mt. Wilson, Mt. San Antonio, Switzer-Land and all the nearby beaches are in easy reach for those who start after lunch and must return that night; Catalina, Santa Barbara and the resorts near San Diego can be visited in one day, if one cannot give them more time. And when one has a week or two, the amount of sightseeing he can do, if he plans it well, is astounding. Interesting places of widely differing atmosphere are brought together in California as exhibits are brought together in a fair. Many a tourist crosses Europe, seeing things he only vaguely understands, without learning or enjoying half as much as one who uses Los Angeles as his base for a few weeks of intelligent sightseeing.

So we have got into the habit of continually going somewhere—with hot dog in one hand and steering wheel in the other. And the more we travel about and learn things the more our ideas and our horizons widen. We get so that we think nothing of taking a trip down into Mexico or out to Hawaii or up into Canada. We Angelenos have a more neighborly feeling for Arizonans or Portlanders or Renoites (especially Renoites) than the average New York citizen has for a resident of Albany or Buffalo.

Happy Field For Ex-Presidents

Lots of people were surprised when Calvin Coolidge turned columnist. But every time he saw how Will Rogers roasted the Senate and got away with it, he must have longed to get into a game like that until temptation overwhelmed him.

Eagle Rock's Bowlette

All America has heard of Hollywood Bowl. But have you ever heard of Argus Bowl, in Eagle Rock?

If you are a well-informed club woman or a lover of the arts you probably have, for last year 35,000 people paid admissions to Argus Bowl without paying a penny to Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Argus, who own it and give it for all sorts of recitals and entertainments for the advancement of music, drama and allied arts. Charles Wakefield Cadman has appeared there a number of times, Michio Ito has presented ballets there, famous pianists, violinists and singers from Russia, Germany, Italy and other foreign countries, as well as from all parts of our own, have chosen to be heard there rather than in a theater or concert hall.

The Arguses have a thirteen-acre place, about seven acres of which stands on end, forming a natural amphitheater in which their charming house and grounds nestle. From their yard they can look at the upturned corners of their land and see scores of yuccas in full bloom at this season. Five years ago they built seats for about 600 people—585, to be exact—in the key part of that amphitheater. Ever since then it has been at the service of all sorts of worthy groups striving for artistic expression.

O Soley Mio!

Inez E. McCrabbe calls our attention to the sign, on Hill street, between Third and Fourth, which reads:

SCHOEMAKER'S DOUGHNUTS

That may be the only place where you can get Schoemaker's, but we've met a lot of doughnuts elsewhere which must have been made by leather workers.

Sugarless Candy

Skipping lightly back to Eagle Rock, there is a little candy factory there which is unusual. Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Moon, who own and operate it, make a specialty of sugarless candy—candy which is sweetened only with fruits, such as chocolate-covered dates. It is pretty well sequestered from the main tides of traffic, but there are so many sugar-avoiding people who are fond of candy, or whose delicate children insist on having candy, that many people from Los Angeles, Pasadena and other near-by towns have got into the habit of turning their cars toward Eagle Rock when out for a casual drive, just to get some sugarless candy.

Catch-as-Catch-Can Auction

All kinds of things come through the customhouse here, imported from foreign countries, and often packages, crates or large quantities of goods are never claimed. Under the law, those unclaimed articles must be held a year. Then, if the exporters have not sent money to pay for their return, they are sold—and those auctions are perhaps the strangest held in the city.

One of them will be held Friday, July 25, beginning at 10 o'clock, at the Appraiser's Stores, 343 New High street. The list of articles includes toys, tapestry, porcelain, candied peel, pictures, a sedan, film, clothing, golf clubs, silver-plated articles, furniture—and twenty-one cases bottled Chianti.

GEORGE BERNARD SHAW
George Bernard Shaw is 74 years old next Saturday. He is about old enough to have his milestones marked from year to year, and what he says about life will be front-paged over the world. He is entering the age class of Robert Dollar, Thomas A. Edison and John D. Rockefeller.

G. B. is planning to edit his works and publish them in a thousand sets of thirty volumes. He prefers to wield his own ax rather than submit to a cold-blooded editor after his passing. However, he is discovering that it will likely take the remainder of his life and his time might better be employed in creative work—let the chips fall where they may.

Much of even a great man's output is just stuff. The age soon runs past it and few of the youngsters are willing to travel at the snail's pace in which their grandpas expressed their thoughts. Styles in composition change. An author had better write for the day, and if there is anything worth keeping, a grateful public will make its own selections. Figures are presently passe and the posthumous fame of no man is long-lived. Even houses built by one generation are tiresome to the heirs.

Roosevelt takes down all the pictures of former Presidents and another Chief Executive consigns the antique furniture to the attic. Hoover puts the wine glasses into cold storage. Each age must be free to live its own life.

No man, even though he be a genius, has time to edit his own works or clutter up the future with his pyramids. Some one wholly without can get a better slant on the permanent. What youth of today would be content to travel by ox-cart? Ideas advanced slowly in the old days. Few are willing to wade through the first hundred pages of Scott or Dickens at this hour.

ON THE DEAD
Folks cross the continent in every conceivable manner, but the bronze button for originality goes to an eastern undertaker who made the journey in his hearse. By day he rode in the driver's accustomed seat and at night he would climb into the interior and snooze comfortably and safely on an air cushion which he had thoughtfully provided. The character of his vehicle gave him easy and uninterrupted passage. He traveled in much comfort and was not beset by hitch-hikers.

EXCUSES
The latest story to explain a late home-coming is that a friend dragged the tardy one in for a couple of rounds of midget golf. And judging from the color one may see on the courses after midnight it goes for both sexes.

GOOD-BY, SHEIK!
By James J. Montague

With an aba surrounding his form
As he rode on his galloping steed
In the teeth of the fierce desert storm,
The sheik was heroic, indeed.
No wonder through many a rift in a tent
Peered many a feminine eye,
And many a delicate heart string was rent
When a sheik hurried thundering by.

At love he was always a bear,
Breaking tender young hearts by the score,
And his spirit of devil-may-care
Made him equally lucky in war.
When he rode o'er the sand with his sword in his hand
While behind him his regiment clattered,
Emitting hoarse guttural words of command
The enemy hastily scattered.

But sunk is his glorious star;
The sheik has grown flabby and fat;
He rides on his rounds in a car,
And a rusty tin Lizzie at that.
No delicate heart strings will ever be rent,
No souls with emotion will quiver,
When a maid of Arabia sees from her tent
A sheik riding by in a flivver.

The automobile over here
Is a boon to the lazy and weak,
And has been so full many a year,
But it's knocked all the gloss off the sheik.
Since on all of his errands, in peace or in war,
In a gasoline buggy he's carted,
The poets his praises will echo no more,
For his fame is forever departed.

LETTERS TO The Times

[Name and address of writer must accompany all letters for this column. Letters of a personal nature or involving contentious religious questions are not acceptable.]

Bob and the Bible

LOS ANGELES, July 19.—[To the Editor of The Times:] As a citizen, a clergyman is entitled to his opinions regarding civil affairs and to the liberty of expressing them; but when he does this in the capacity of a clergyman advising his flock, after the manner of Rev. Shuler, he is out of his place and lowers his profession from the level of the divine down to that of the world.

Clergymen who confuse the purpose and methods of the government of God with those of human government and mix the two in their activities, have a union of church and state in themselves. They do the cause of Christianity more harm than good.

They ignore the fact that the great commission given by Christ to His representatives after His resurrection, to preach the gospel in all the world—a commission reaching down to the end of time—says not a word about preaching reform in the government of city, state or nation.

They ignore the explicit instruction to "preach the Word" (II Timothy 4:2,) which means preach God's Word, the Scripture; not preach their opinions.

While Christ never tried to cleanse state or city government. He did twice cleanse the temple of God. A preacher who is following Christ will be solicitous for the cleansing of God's temple—the church—rather than for the turning of rascals out of public office.

A preacher who is led by Christ will see in sin a greater and more deadly menace to man than the menace of crime or of bad government. It required all Christ's time and effort to grapple with the problem of sin.

If all clergymen should follow Rev. Shuler's example, there would be a grand mixing of the affairs of church and state in this country, which would be ruinous to the interests of both.

What Rev. Shuler needs is to read his Bible more, or to better purpose.

LEON A. SMITH.

A Legal Non Sequitur

LOS ANGELES, July 19.—[To the Editor of The Times:] In your editorials blaming Bob Shuler as being more or less responsible for the killing of Flint you are not consistent. If a fellow who has lost his job at the City Hall should take a shot at Shuler because he thought Shuler was the cause, should you be hung because you have been roasting Shuler?

W. S. MALONEY.

Starting a Library

LOS ANGELES, July 21.—[To the Editor of The Times:] The letter signed "B. M." has all the earmarks of an erudite college professor. People who might be interested in forming a personal library should be those fairly well along in the literary field. I'm thinking it is quite superfluous to mention the Bible. The idea of mentioning Shakespeare in this connection is an infantile suggestion, because the average grammar-school boy or girl knows his Shakespeare.

What flapper doesn't know Omar Khayyam—and how? You want to be sure you've had your analytical course in literature before you approach Carlyle, or he is liable to choke you. Again it takes a peculiar mind to get at the roots of Thoreau. Also Thomas Hardy would require some discrimination. George Eliot seems to be the only one on B. M.'s list that is acceptable. All in all, it is a very poor list of books to give to the lay public as an introduction for a personal library.

CHARLES WAINMAN.

Save the Beaches

CULVER CITY, July 18.—[To the Editor of The Times:] We have an overproduction of oil at the present time, in so much that the whole industry is in a slump, there is ample proven territory in which to drill new wells and nothing but the necessity of more oil can justify destroying the usefulness of the beach and we all know there is nothing approaching such necessity.

Venice and Del Rey are nearer the city than any other beaches, in fact, right at our door, and are becoming more popular every day, as the various major boulevards are opened in that direction and the fare so much lower than to other resorts, the territory between the city and these beaches is due for more activity in creating homes in the next few years than any other territory in the county, we believe, and the county and State should acquire more land for the extensions of these resorts instead of permitting the city to ruin them.

PORTRAIT OF A LADY

She can tell you just exactly
What is what—
Certain things are done and certain Things are not.

Certain matters were all settled
Long ago,
Most irrevocably settled,
You should know.

She will not exactly chide you,
If you do
Go out hatless or sans stocking—
It's up to you.

She'll not chide you—she's a lady,
Every jot;
But she'll let you know somehow
That you are not.

IRENE WILDE.

HIS MASTER'S VOICE
BY EUGENE BROWN

"Are you a bondman and a slave?" dramatically asked the Old Resident as he sank a four-inch putt.

"Not so you would notice it," answered I, "unless you have reference to my marriage certificate."

"Then why bend the knee to a political preacher who has become dictator not only of the morals and manners but the politics of the community?"

"So far my knees are bloody but unbent," retorted I. "I wear no man's collar—in fact, I haven't worn any collar for six months. When a minister preaches the gospel according to the Sermon on the Mount I can give him my ear, but when he spends his time collecting garbage, digging up political sensations and garnering the gossip of the slums I lock the door and crawl into bed."

"You don't do a thing about it?" queried the veteran in amazement.

"Not a thing," answered I. "I let him rave."

"That's just it," returned the old man, sadly. "Nobody does anything. We are known as the big village where the people let themselves be bossed by a noisy and lurid preacher who deals in scandal rather than brotherly love. He gives us the gospel according to St. Vitus rather than St. Paul."

"Maybe that is what we want," argued I.

"Not all of us, thank God!" exclaimed the pioneer, impressively. "You can't make me believe that. We are not turning our religion over to a mountebank. There is still a God in Israel, although some folks may seem to have forgotten his name. But Bob is neglecting the Lord's business for monkey business. If he were in the theatrical game he would have a team of double-breasted press agents, but having a pulpit and a radio he is his own barker—and a persistent one at that. He craves notoriety as a drunkard craves his rum. He would rather be in the glare of the calciums than in the dim, religious light of which the poet speaks."

"Well, that's the way it is nowadays," said I, soothingly. "People say their prayers to the accompaniment of a jazz band and in the new church the preacher will be giving his flock the details of the prize fight by rounds instead of touching on the humdrum and peaceful passages of the Twenty-third Psalm."

"You're crazy," snorted the veteran. "People want their religion pure and undefiled, just as they did in other days. They want to look up to the preacher, not down. They don't want the story of the crucifixion tangled up with the saxophones. I want a pastor who isn't pushing his beak into the city dump and the police court every morning. I want a loving and kindly preacher instead of a punk politician who behaves like a lion tamer. The people of Los Angeles are supposed to have elected Porter for Mayor, but he is porter only for the purpose of carrying the Shuler baggage. The rest of the time he is sitting on his hind legs listening for his master's voice."

"You seem to think that the preacher had something to do with the dismissal of the city prosecutor," said I.

"Sure I do," responded the ancient. "How can I help it? The prosecutor had the hardihood to talk about Bob over that radio and the next day his resignation is demanded. Out he goes—just like that. The preacher will brook no competition on the air. He wants it known that the ether is his personal property and any guy who invades his domain gets the hook. He is out of luck. Shuler needs all the air to spread the aroma of the garbage he has collected and will stand for no interlopers. He doesn't care particularly what sort of stuff he exudes as long as it is sensational and has a kick in it. It doesn't need to be true as long as it is lurid. The preacher's system is to speak first and investigate afterward. If he can spoil a reputation or bring disgrace upon some one in authority he goes to it with the zeal of a fanatic."

"Any reference to allusions?" quizzed I.

"No, I don't exactly mean that he inspires assassination, but I have a slight suspicion that he does not deeply grieve when one is pulled off. He would rather hurl harpoons at the carcasses of those in power than dwell in the tents of the righteous."

"I thought he was Old Man Righteousness himself," urged I.

"That's the trouble," replied the old man. "All his mischief is done under the cloak of the church. He represents God and morality and can do no wrong. All his screeds are in the name of virtue and he carries the flaming torch of the Christian crusader. He makes his own judgments and from them there is no appeal. He feels himself commissioned to right every municipal wrong. There may not be any, but that bloodhound beak of his will scent some out and his raucous voice will do the rest."

"So you think he runs the town?" said I.

"At any rate he has the politicians buffaloed until they think he does," replied the veteran. "Mayor Porter says his prayers to him and I don't believe he has ever done a thing or taken an important step without the advice and consent of the political preacher. Shuler demanded the scalp of the City Prosecutor because that worthy was reckless enough to suggest that Bob keep his mouth shut. Does he get the scalp? He does. This preacher is not one who forgives his fellow-man. He builds a nice fat bonfire, dips his victim in oil and sets him in the midst thereof. As an exponent of the Man of Galilee he is a total loss."

The girl who thinks no man is good enough for her lives to learn that no man wants her.

THE NEVADA WAY

Since Law insists that we must slay the man who sheds another's blood, Nevada tries to show the way, dispensing with the sickening thud. She has no creaking gallows-tree, she has no hot electric chair; no guillotine is there to see, the patient breathes in poisoned air. They lead him to a little but where deadly chemicals are stored; the window's closed, the door is shut, his soul to other spheres is soared. We're slaying killers at the time, with rope or chair or poison gas; and still runs on the wave of crime till Law seems much like sounding brass. The trouble is we only slay one in a hundred out of seventeen; the other fifteen get away, and romp and gambol on the green. Men of the sixteen dodge the rope, the poison and electric chair; they believe the current stops that Law is not exactly fair; sometimes think it would be wise to scrap the chair and gas and lows-tree, and just imprison deadly guys, until their friends get them free. If Law could only get them all, get all the killers when they slay, and hang them a bier and pall, the wave of crime might die away; murderers were sternly taught that killing surely leads to naught; they might indulge in some if they thought ere sending some up the flume. But they are taught the ghastly truth that sixteen killers get away, and Justice, in her somber garb, bids one prepare for Judgment Day. The hangman, he is paid strong, to lethal cells two men are sent; but there is something wildly wrong with all the scheme of punishment. It is as cricket to destroy one cricket in jail or pen, while others, chortling in their joy, go forth unleashed, to kill again.

TREATE DELAYS SURVEY ON DAM

Advising Personnel Board Stirs Arguments

Attorney's Office Wants Out-of-State Group

Committee Insists on One Los Angeles Man

Arguments as to whether or not city engineers should be the only ones chosen to survey the abandoned San Gabriel dam site yesterday consumed the entire time of the grand jury committee selected a week ago to name a group of surveyors to check up on the figures of the county flood-control department.

The inquiry was precipitated by reports of individual investigators who asserted that contractors had been paid for removal of 273,000 cubic yards of earth which never was moved.

After hearing numerous witnesses on considerable technical testimony on the subject, the grand jury decided to appoint a special committee which in turn is expected to select a group of competent engineers to make a survey of the dam to determine whether or not the charges are true or false.

Yesterday it was disclosed that a controversy has arisen between members of the committee and the district attorney's office. The District Attorney's office is understood to plead for a 100 per cent neutral committee of engineers selected from certain members of the grand jury committee are holding out for one of the Los Angeles engineer. This question will be argued today when the committee resumes its deliberations on the matter.

Mayor Porter Issues Talkie Proclamation

Announcement of the formal opening of the Greater Talkie Season was made yesterday by Mayor Porter, who, in a proclamation, calls attention to the opening date of August 15. He points out the supremacy of Los Angeles in the movie business. Local theaters are planning special celebrations for the date. His proclamation follows, in part:

"The theaters are on the eve of launching Greater Talkie Season for 1930 and 1931, a time when new achievements in entertainment may be looked for.

"The theaters are one of our most impressive enterprises and I trust that our citizens will participate in every way possible in the celebration of the Greater Talkie Season."

COURT PONDERS DIET FOR BABY

Alimony Fight Hinges on Milk Bill

Mrs. Maudie Fay Peukert and Baby

A FATHER who insists that 50 cents a day is enough to spend for milk for his 10-month-old baby appeared before Superior Judge Archbald yesterday to request that his estranged wife's appropriation of $1 a day for the infant's feeding be cut in half.

Judge Archbald, frankly confessing he would have to inform himself further on the subject of infant dietetics before returning a decision, took the case under advisement.

The father who raised the novel problem is William Peukert, who, pending the outcome of a suit for divorce brought by Mrs. Maudie Fay Peukert, is paying $18 a week for the support of his wife and child.

Yesterday he asked that this amount be reduced by $3.50, basing his application on the contention that Mrs. Peukert is spending twice the amount necessary on the feeding of little Jean, their child.

Mrs. Peukert, insisting that plenty of milk is necessary to keep a baby fat and happy, protested through John J. Craig, her attorney, that $1 a day is not exorbitant, and that the father should be compelled to continue paying his present alimony pending outcome of the divorce litigation.

"I confess this case raises fine points beyond the immediate power of the court to decide," said Judge Archbald.

Meanwhile little Jean continued to coo contentedly yesterday, not knowing of the unique quarrel of her parents.

Radio Pastor Faces Quiz on Police Permit

A complaint by the police bunko detail that Rev. Ethel Duncan, radio minister of the First Church of the Apostles, Long Beach, by broadcasting over KNX that she will answer questions for $1 is doing business in Los Angeles as a fortune teller and should be compelled to obtain a police permit, was referred by the Police Commission yesterday to the City Prosecutor for action.

The police detail reported that the pastor's broadcasting over a Long Beach radio station had been canceled by the station. It cited a number of answers to questions by Mrs. Violet Burney of 4547 North Griffin avenue, as tending toward discouragement instead of helping, as the pastor asserts. The detail reported the pastor is collecting as high as $40 a day.

"Since the dawn of government it has been the practice to tax every line of business possible," said Commissioner Drake. "So let nothing escape us. It will be interesting to see if we haven't found another business for taxation."

'DEAD JUSTICE' MARCH BARRED

Mooney Mass Meeting Plan for Advertising Foiled

Police Board Bars Parade of Hearse and Coffin

Socialist Assails Refusal in Inflammatory Talk

A request by William W. Busick of the Socialist party of Los Angeles county for permission to parade a hearse and coffin bearing banners reading "California Justice is Dead" on the streets of Los Angeles to advertise a mass meeting in Trinity Auditorium at 8 p.m. on August 2 to protest against the continued incarceration of Thomas J. Mooney, San Francisco dynamiter, was turned down by the Police Commission yesterday as "outrageous and revolutionary."

"I think such a thing would be disastrous and extremely radical," said President Thorpe when the Busick communication was read. "It would be appalling to symbolize that justice and law is dead in Los Angeles. I cannot conceive how such a request can be made."

Busick, who was present, boldly challenged Thorpe's statement, declaring "millions of men in the world are convinced that justice is dead in California.

"You allow the American Legion to use the streets to advertise gambling devices and the films to put up banners," declared Busick, "so why not allow us to advertise our meeting."

"There is no parallel in this demand," declared Commissioner Walkup. "None of us will admit that justice is dead."

"My vote is against it as the most outrageous request I have ever heard," declared Thorpe. "The hearse is the emblem of death and such a thing would be broadcast all over the United States and humiliate us. Wouldn't such a thing tend toward revolution against law and order?"

"The whole world already knows justice is dead in California," asserted Busick. "Millions are holding or planning to hold protest mass meetings against the imprisonment of Mooney. You didn't ask the American Legion or the films what they were going to put on their trucks. Why bother about what will be on the hearse? A revolution is not impossible. Strikes are in progress or pending over Mooney's incarceration."

Commissioner Walkup moved and Commissioner Coe seconded the motion to turn down the application and it carried unanimously.

CRIME PREVENTION BUREAU GETS CARS

The City Council yesterday appropriated $5950 for the purchase of seven light sedans to be used by the Crime Prevention Bureau.

'LOVELIEST MOTHERS' RECEIVE NEW HONOR

Paid Tribute

Mrs. Alvine Lyon (above) and Mrs. Vernie Kay.

Hollywood women recently adjudged to be among "America's loveliest mothers" yesterday received word that their portraits are occupying places of honor in the gallery at the fiftieth annual convention of the Photographers' Association, now in session at Milwaukee. They are Mrs. Vernie Kay of 1547½ North Bronson avenue, and Mrs. Alvine W. Lyon of 1334 North Harper avenue. The latter is the mother of Ben Lyon, screen actor.

The portrait of Mrs. Kay was awarded second and that of Mrs. Lyon third prize in the western division of the national contest for photographs of the loveliest mothers, sponsored by the association. Charles Aylett, president, and Miss Fannie Hurst and Mrs. Mary Roberts Rinehart, novelists, comprised the board of judges. Both photographs were made by the studio of Evansmith, 6805 Hollywood Boulevard.

TWO CLAIM POLICEMAN'S DEATH DOLE

Peter Muller Indicated as Bigamist in Life But Bachelor at Close

A marital mix-up of Police Officer Peter Muller, Jr., who was shot and killed under mysterious circumstances near 116 South Flower street while investigating suspicious characters on the night of April 13, last, was revealed yesterday when the pension awarded by the police pension board to his widow was suspended by that body.

According to records obtained by Secretary L. V. McCardle of the pension board, the officer, as George P. Muller, Jr., married Grace Costello in New York City and did not obtain a final decree of divorce until March 24, 1930, in Los Angeles.

The records show that he married Clara B. Smith on March 31, 1924, as George P. Miller, while an employee of the Los Angeles Railway.

His name on the police force was Peter Muller, Jr., and his widow was granted a pension of $85 a month by the pension board on April 15 and received payment for one month and seventeen days before the suspension was ordered.

McCardle learned of the situation when the father of Grace Costello Muller appeared and informed him that his daughter was entitled to the pension and not the Los Angeles wife. Apparently he knew nothing of Muller divorcing his daughter.

Under the board's ruling neither woman gets the pension, because the New York wife was divorced before Muller's death and the Los Angeles mate could not have been his wife because he already was married when the second ceremony was performed in 1924.

The board has copies of the two marriage licenses, an affidavit of identification of the officer as husband of the New York woman and copies of the first and final decrees of divorce from her.

Mrs. Clara Muller when informed of the suspension of the pension said she knew her husband had been married before but was told he had obtained a divorce.

Youth Burned in Setting Off Can of Powder

It was going to be great fun exploding the can of blasting powder which Eugene Boyd, 16 years of age, of 1215 Britannia street; Karl Colbert, 18, of 1954 Marengo street, and Kelly Fitzgerald, 18, of the same address, declare they found yesterday in a brick yard in Hollenbeck Heights.

They placed the can behind a small embankment in the neighborhood of their homes, ran a trail of powder to it, and ignited it, meanwhile retiring to what they thought was a safe distance.

It was safe enough for Boyd and Fitzgerald, but not for Colbert, who was hurled off the embankment by the detonation and suffered second-degree burns about the face and hands. He was removed to the Pasadena Avenue Receiving Hospital.

VETO HEARING CONDUCTED

Council Will Receive Committee's Report on Mayor's Disapproval Next Week

A report on Mayor Porter's veto of the final ordinance for the improvement of streets in the Olympic Boulevard and Stanley-avenue district, which includes two and on-half miles of paving in the great Tenth-street project, will be submitted to the City Council next Wednesday morning, it was announced yesterday by Councilman Randall, chairman of the Public Works Committee, which conducted a hearing on the veto yesterday afternoon.

Randall had no statement to make concerning the recommendations the report will carry.

Mayor Porter vetoed the ordinance on the grounds that the existing grades should be retained and that the proposed cuts be eliminated from the plans.

President McGuire of the Board of Public Works was present at the hearing on the Mayor's action and to admit that the careful engineering studies which preceded the adoption of the plans three years ago now are considered as being in error.

It developed at the hearing that the principal objection to this two-and-one-half-mile project is a cut of four feet near Longwood avenue.

David Barry, Jr., representing the Tenth-street District Association, and J. Arthur Johnson of the Greater La Brea Association, pleaded with the committee to override the veto and proceed with the improvement rather than to permit a delay of several months, which, it was pointed out, will be disastrous in the case of the improvement. A group of property owners asked that the grades be left unchanged and that the Mayor's veto be sustained.

It will take ten votes in the Council to override the veto.

LAKESIDE PARK BOND PROPOSAL CARRIES

The proposal to issue $65,000 worth of bonds for a water system in Lakeside Park, which is near Chatsworth Reservoir, San Fernando Valley, won by unanimous vote yesterday, according to figures announced last night by the City Clerk's office in Los Angeles. Only fourteen votes were cast. All were in favor of the bond issue.

Pastors' Group Lauds Hoover

The Retired Ministers' Association of the Methodist-Episcopal Church of Southern California has adopted a resolution expressing approval of President Hoover's attitude toward the World Court, the London Naval Pact, and "especially prohibition," F. D. Blakeslee, 915 South Carondolet street, president, announced yesterday.

"We deplore the opposition of those whose motives are largely inspired by greed and appetite and personal, partisan or political prejudice," reads the vote of confidence in part, "and we rejoice that one of such high Christian character and noble ideals is at the head of the nation." The original resolution has been mailed to the President.

Once Rich Man Gets Court Aid

John L. Deane, once a wealthy contractor, appeared in Superior Judge Crail's court yesterday and asked that his $5000 homestead be placed beyond the reach of creditors, as provided by law.

Deane's attorneys explained that their client some time ago married a woman 30 years his junior and the mother of nine children. He then put his property in his wife's name. When she died October 13, 1929, she left all the property to her nine children and only a few personal effects to Deane. Judge Crail granted Deane's petition.

LOS ANGELES WILL REVIVE OLD FIESTA

September 4 and 5, City's Birthday, to be Marked by Picturesque Fete

Los Angeles' La Fiesta de las Flores, initiated in the early nineties and abandoned some twenty years ago, is to be revived in connection with the celebration of the city's 149th birthday on September 4 and 5, according to plans of the general committee.

The two-day celebration is to be known as La Fiesta de Los Angeles and is to include a parade and all the other picturesque features of the early day celebration. Mrs. Christine Sterling, committee chairman, said yesterday.

Temporary headquarters are in the old Avila adobe on Olvera street. The festivities will center about the old landmarks of the pueblo of Los Angeles.

"C" Car Line Action Delayed

Because the Home Defense League asked for additional time in which to file supplementary briefs against the proposal to reroute Los Angeles Railway "C" line cars through the Third-street tunnel in order to eliminate traffic congestion at Fifth and Hill streets, the Board of Public Utilities and Transportation, in special conference yesterday, granted a delay. The league will inform the board later of the date on which it will complete its case.

The rerouting is asked by the Central Business District Association and eighteen improvement and district organizations to eliminate congestion and to make the first move for a cross-town car line on Third street.

Announcing

New Hollywood Crane Exhibit Rooms to serve you, your architect, your master plumber and heating contractor

For three-quarters of a century Crane Co. has paced the needs of builders, through materials, through distribution, through service.

Now, on its 75th anniversary it gives evidence of continued growth by opening new and completely equipped Exhibit Rooms for Hollywood.

These Exhibit Rooms will place more fully at the command of home-owners, architects, builders, and contractors, in Hollywood and its environs, the vast manufacturing and distributing resources and experience of Crane Co.

Everyone interested in building is cordially invited to visit them. The full line of plumbing and heating materials on view will suggest many practical as well as decorative bathroom ideas. The automatic water systems, water softeners, and water heaters will help you plan a more modern, comfortable, convenient home. The high quality valves, fittings, and piping materials will show the way to trouble-free service from fixtures and to lasting construction of residences and business buildings.

The materials displayed can be purchased through any reliable plumbing or heating contractor and only through reliable contractors. For purchase and complete installation under the Crane Budget Plan for 10% down and the balance in small monthly sums, consult a Crane Qualified Contractor-Dealer. He is always a highly skilled registered or licensed master plumber or heating contractor.

Of Interest to Women

Society

by JUANA NEAL LEVY

One of the charming visitors to Southern California this summer is Miss Mary Hyslop of Minnesota, who is the house guest of her cousin, Mrs. Harry Bowman Lamport. One of the lovely affairs given in honor of the visitor was the buffet luncheon and bridge with which Mrs. Lamport entertained Friday afternoon at the summer home of her mother, Mrs. H. S. Hazeltine, in Balboa, Bay Island.

A swim preceded the luncheon and the decorations for the latter were effectively carried out with yellow blossoms and a profusion of greenery. Covers were arranged for thirty-two guests.

Entertains Sorority

Miss Kay Hance of Berryman avenue was the gracious hostess at an attractively appointed bridge party when the guests were members of Delta Tau chapter of Delta Theta Tau Sorority, those included being Mrs. Fenton Hamilton, Mrs. Jack Gerely, Mrs. Wilbur Bradley, Miss Peggy Kolb, Miss Frances Shaw, Miss Dorothy Dean, Miss Keith Godfrey, Miss Alice Mason, Miss Sally Stewart, Miss Dorothy Reise, Miss Margaret Mills, Miss Myrtle Wilson and the hostess.

Visitor Honored

Honoring Mrs. Charles Epstein of New York, who is passing the summer in Southern California, Mrs. A. H. Epstein entertained with a dinner in the terraced gardens of Mme. Helene's Rose Villa, Flintridge. A profusion of deep-tinted zinnias and ferns centered the table, where covers were arranged for, the hostess, honor guest, Mrs. V. V. Vicheer, Mrs. J. J. Webber, Mrs. Conrad Lerbell, Mrs. R. H. Hockberg, Mrs. Charles Smith, Mrs. M. M. Tuttleman, Miss S. Hockberg of Seattle and Miss Vera Hain.

Return from World Tour

Mr. and Mrs. Harry E. Parker, 1759 North La Brea avenue, Hollywood, returned recently from a world tour which occupied six months. It is the third such trip that Mr. and Mrs. Parker have taken.

Will Visit England

Mr. and Mrs. Julius Prahl of Milwaukee announce the marriage of their daughter, Miss Lorraine Prahl, to Robert F. Kerr, son of Mrs. A. L. Kerr, recently of London. Mr. and Mrs. Kerr will visit England and the Continent.

Senior at Stanford

Many delightful affairs are being given in honor of Miss Ruth Beede of Antioch, who arrived recently via airplane to visit her uncle, Joe Menchen, at the Hollywood Knickerbocker Hotel. Miss Beede is a senior at Stanford and formerly attended Mills College.

Graduation Gift

An extended trip abroad will be in the nature of a graduation gift for Robert Jenkins Clark, who will accompany his parents, Dr. and Mrs. Eugene Perry Clark of South Virgil avenue, on a tour of the European countries during the summer months. Robert was graduated from Los Angeles High School in June.

Betrothal Party

Announcement of the engagement of Miss Lucille Pettit, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Louis M. Pettit, to Dorward K. Lewis, grandson of Mrs. Rosa Wheeler, formerly of Wilshire county, England, was made at a charmingly appointed dinner given recently by the parents of the bride-elect. The wedding date has not been set.

Felicitations

Congratulations are being received by Mr. and Mrs. J. Marcy O'Brien, 827 North Alpine Drive, Beverly Hills, on the arrival of a son, at the Hollywood Hospital and by Mr. and Mrs. J. Byron Cole, 829 Sherbourne Drive, on the birth of a daughter, Joan Ora Cole.

At Beach Club

Miss Lucia Arnerich, 2355 Crenshaw Boulevard, was the hostess at a luncheon and swimming party given recently at the Pacific Coast Club. Miss Arnerich was graduated from the Immaculate Heart High School in June. Many of her classmates were among the guests.

Wedding Party

Miss Virginia Dempsey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas R. Dempsey, whose marriage to Wellman Perry Thayer, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. N. Thayer, will be an event of next Saturday has selected her attendants. Her sister, Miss Ida Dempsey, will be maid of honor and the bridesmaids will be Miss Marjorie Hill, Miss Priscilla Thayer and Miss Durlene Branham. The bridegroom-to-be has selected William Bardin as his best man and the ushers will be James Bardin, Robert Oaks and Ferdinand Mendenhall.

Among the many lovely affairs given in honor of the bride-elect was a bridge-luncheon, the 12th inst. at the Deauville Beach Club. Included among the guests were Miss Ida Dempsey, Miss Helen Post, Miss Thayer, Miss Hill, Miss Enid Hendricks, Miss Jean Burke, Miss Betty Snyder, Miss Margaret Boyd, Miss Jane Ellis and the honoree.

Arrasmith-Yeltman

The Wee Kirk o' the Heather, Glendale, was the scene of an attractive wedding recently when Miss Mildred June Arrasmith became the bride of Glenn Yeltman. The bride, who is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. Arrasmith of Fillmore, was beautifully gowned in white satin and wore a long tulle veil caught at the sides of a lace cap by clusters of orange blossoms.

Attendants of the bride were Miss Violet M. Lindenfield, Miss Helen Farries and Miss Corrinne Webb. They were gowned in various shades of chiffon. Donald Arrasmith served the bridegroom as best man and the ushers were Robert A. Farries and James K. Hakes. The marriage service was read by Rev. George W. Hunt of the Long Beach Methodist Episcopal Church.

The bride was graduated from the University of California at Los Angeles and the bridegroom received his education in Osceola, Neb.

MINISTERS HEAR FITTS GIVE TALK

Protection for Citizenry Declared to be First Duty of Any Government

"The first duty of government is to provide protection to its citizens," Buron Fitts, Republican candidate for Governor, declared in an address yesterday before a conference of Methodist ministers at Pacific College. "When government fails to protect its citizenry and that citizenry's property, it is not a success, regardless of whatever else it may do for the people."

Fitts's address to the ministers was one of three given by him yesterday at meetings in Los Angeles.

This evening, Joseph Scott, attorney, will speak in Fitts's behalf over a State-wide radio hook-up using the Columbia chain. Scott's address will be broadcast over KHJ, Los Angeles; KFRC, San Francisco; KMJ, Fresno, and KGB, San Diego.

A broadcast over KFWB also is scheduled for this evening. The speaker will be J. W. Buzzell, secretary of the Central Labor Council, which recently indorsed Fitts. Scott will speak from 9 to 9:30 p.m. and Buzzell from 8 to 8:10 p.m. from KFWB.

A Church Brotherhood meeting of 800 men will be addressed by Fitts at 7:30 p.m. at the Figueroa Boulevard Church at Fifty-seventh and Figueroa streets. At 8:30 p.m. Fitts will speak before the Ocean Park Boosters' Club. At noon, he will be guest of honor at the All-Veterans' League luncheon to be held at Boos Brothers Cafeteria, 646 South Broadway.

Fitts veteran headquarters in the Lankershim Hotel reports increased activities throughout Southern California. Veterans' "Fitts-for-Governor" clubs are being organized in every city of the ten southern counties. The latest was organized at Whittier last night with C. W. Longnecker, past Legion post commander, as president. Monrovia and Arcadia will combine to form a club this evening, and a movement is under way to establish a veterans' group in Hollywood, where a branch headquarters already is located.

Another leader in veterans' circles announced his support of Fitts yesterday. He is D. M. Messer, past commander of the eighteenth district of the Legion. Messer is located in San Francisco. In his letter of indorsement, he reported that Fitts is gaining strength rapidly in the north.

HOUSEHOLD SUGGESTIONS

No Place for Economy

Don't try to economize by buying poor grades of tea and coffee. These articles appear at every meal and should be most enjoyable. Besides, poor grades of tea and coffee usually mean lack of strength and more of the article is needed than a better brand and so the economy is lost.

Health for Baby

Never allow anyone to kiss baby on the mouth.

Never allow anyone having a bad cold to hold baby.

Never permit the use of a pacifier to obtain temporary quiet.

Never romp with baby just before putting him to bed or directly following feedings.

Will Last Longer

If a small hole appears in the fine chiffon stockings, take time and mend it when you remove your stockings. Then it will not develop into a large hole during the washing process and the hosiery will last longer.

CHEF WYMAN'S RECIPES

Every Tuesday and Friday at 2 o'clock Mrs. A. L. Wyman will conduct a free class and demonstration of good cookery in the lecture room of the Southwest Building, 130 South Broadway.

JELLIED HAM IN RING MOULD

Three cupfuls of cold boiled ham diced, three tablespoonfuls of chopped sweet pickles, two cupfuls of hot ham stock, two tablespoonfuls of gelatine, one-fourth of a cupful of chopped celery, four pimientoes chopped fine, four tablespoonfuls of cold water, one slice of onion, two whole cloves, two tablespoonfuls of gelatine. Simmer the ham stock with the onion, celery and clove for fivem inutes. Strain and measure two cupfuls. Soak the gelatine in the cold water for five minutes, then dissolve in the hot stock, combine the remaining ingredients, and add to the stock when the latter has cooled. Rinse out a large ring mould, with cold water, and glaze it with some of the pure stock, place thin slices of lemon on the sides and bottom of the mould, when the lemon is set, fill the mould, with the ham mixture, and place in the ice box. Turn out onto a bed of lettuce hearts, and serve with mayonnaise. If wished the center can be filled with diced avocados, that have been marinaded in French dressing.

FROZEN CHOCOLATE SOUFFLE

Yolks of two eggs, one-half a cupful of sugar, one-fourth of a teaspoonful of salt, one-half cupful of whipped cream, two squares of unsweetened melted chocolate, one teaspoonful of grated lemon rind, one-third of a cupful of lemon juice, four tablespoonfuls of sherry, the whites of two eggs. Beat the yolks of the eggs and beat the sugar into them, add the sherry, salt, lemon rind, and lemon juice, and beat well. Place in the double-boiler and cook slowly until the mixture thickens, being careful not to cook it too fast, or it will curdle. Remove from the fire, add the melted chocolate, cool and fold in the stiffly beaten whites of the eggs. Then fold in the stiffly whipped cream. Place in individual moulds, or in the glasses from which it will be served, and place in the ice box to harden.

BERMUDA SOUP

Six medium-sized onions, two tablespoonfuls of butter, two cupfuls of cold water, one tablespoonful of butter, three tablespoonfuls of flour, two cupfuls of milk, a seasoning of salt, a few grains of cheyenne pepper, the yolk of one egg, two tablespoonfuls of finely chopped pimientoes. Chop the onions fine, place the butter in a sauce pan, add the onions, and cook slowly until light brown in color, add the water and boil for thirty minutes, or until the onions are tender. Rub through a fine sieve, melt one tablespoonful of butter in a sauce pan, add the flour, and when bubbling slowly stir in the milk, and heat to the boiling point. Add the onion puree, seasoned with salt and cheyenne pepper. Just before serving stir in the slightly beaten egg yolks and chopped pimientoes. Pass either grated American or Parmisan cheese when the soup is served.

Mrs. Wyman does not reply to letters, but requests for recipes are answered in the department. PRACTICAL RECIPES, published every Friday.—(All rights to reproduce reserved by A. L. Wyman.)

Health and Diet

ADVICE

by DR. FRANK McCOY

Author of "The Fast Way to Health"

THE CURE OF PILES

In the cure of piles or any form of rectal trouble, the first thing to do is to adopt the enema habit. The rectum should be thoroughly cleansed at least once or twice a day with a warm enema. This may be taken while sitting on the toilet and permitting the water to run in and out so that all the membranes in the lower bowel are thoroughly washed. This keeps the rectal membranes free and clean of bacterial and food irritations and at the same time is soothing to the nervous system.

It also is advisable at the beginning of the treatment to use a liquid diet so that there will be less bulky material in the lower colon. The orange, grapefruit or grape juice fast seems to be especially beneficial. Following the enema, the patient should use some exercises while lying on the back with the hips elevated so that the internal organs will be carried by gravity away from the lower pelvic region.

Following the exercises a good local treatment is to apply ice to the piles. A good way is to break off a small piece of ice, whittle it into a cone-like shape and carefully insert the small end into the rectum, holding it there with a thick towel. This should be done with the hips elevated so that the piles are drawn internally.

The ice cone then should be carefully forced farther in until it melts. This treatment should last only four or five minutes while the ice is melting. The cold of the ice causes the blood vessels to contract and the circulation is improved after each treament. This will stop the progress of the hemorrhoids and materially reduce their size and finally, through the contraction, will develop the muscles inside the walls of the veins.

After the ice treatment it is a good plan to place a small piece of cocoa butter into the rectum. Permit this to remain in all night. This will assist in soothing the inflamed surfaces.

Following the fasting regime the diet must be of a kind to procure a relief from the constipation which practically always exists.

This regime of exercising and the application of ice and cocoa butter should be continued until all the symptoms disappear. Then if the patient will take care to live on a nonconstipating diet there need not be any return of the local trouble.

When there is a liver congestion one should always take care to reduce the heavy foods, such as the proteins and carbohydrates, so as to give the liver a chance to catch up with its work and normal functioning.

Permanent results in the cure of piles may be expected from the use of these local treatments if at the same time the other causes I have mentioned are removed.

EGRET GOES HIS WAY

For freedom there can never be A substitute, we all agree.
—Old Mother Nature.

Egret was feeling better every day. That is to say, his wing was feeling better where it had been wounded. Each day he tried lifting it a little more. Farmer Brown's Boy saw this and was glad. Yet he was sorry, too. He had grown fond of the beautiful white bird, and he didn't like to think of the time when he would see it no more. But, of course, Egret must go. Farmer Brown's Boy hadn't the slightest idea of keeping Egret a prisoner.

"He isn't a prisoner," explained Farmer Brown's Boy to Mother Brown. "People in hospitals are not prisoners. They are just patients. That is what Egret is, a patient. And when he is well he will be set free."

"Don't you think it would be nice to keep him as a pet?" asked Mother Brown. "He is such a handsome fellow, and so unusual, that I should think you would like to keep him as a pet. You could clip one of his wings, so that he couldn't fly."

Farmer Brown's Boy sighed. "I'd like to. But it wouldn't be fair to Egret. You know, to be happy Herons want to be where it is marshy and swampy and where there is peinty of water. Egret couldn't be truly happy up here. No, I shall let him go as soon as I am sure that his wing is strong and he is quite able to take care of himself."

Meanwhile, as often as possible Farmer Brown's Boy took Egret down to the Smiling Pool to catch his own meals. And he did. He proved himself a good fisherman. It was indeed a spry minnow or frog that got away after once coming within reach of Egret. While he was waiting for fish or frog to come, Egret would stand motionless, looking off into space. Yes, sir, that is what he would do. And Farmer Brown's Boy, noticing this, would feel sure that Egret was dreaming of his freedom. And Farmer Brown's Boy was right. Egret was thinking of his freedom. He was dreaming of the days when those great, broad wings of his carried him wherever he wanted to go, and he was wondering if ever again he would take long journeys on them. He loved these visits to the Smiling Pool, but at the same time they made him homesick.

Then came a day when Farmer Brown's Boy untied the string from the leg of Egret. Egret didn't know it. He didn't know that when

Up, up went Egret and over toward the Big River

Farmer Brown's Boy set him down on the edge of the Smiling Pool he was as free as ever he had been. He began fishing as usual. Farmer Brown's Boy withdrew a short distance. It suddenly came to Egret that he was walking more freely than usual. Still, he thought nothing of it. After a while he tried his wing, as he had so often tried them of late. Always before there had been a gentle tug at one leg where the string was fastened. This time there was no tug. Egret went up, up. That wounded wing was strong now.

With long legs stretched out behind him, his neck folded back so that his head rested between his shoulders, the great white bird mounted into the air. Perhaps you can guess how he felt. Farmer Brown's Boy could. Up, up went Egret and over toward the Big River. Then he turned, swung about in a circle and came back over Farmer Brown's Boy. It was as if he had returned to say good-by. Perhaps he had. Who knows? Anyway, Farmer Brown's Boy was quite sure that he had.

Egret circled around the Smiling Pool, then once more headed for the Big River, and this time he kept right on going. Farmer Brown's Boy watched him disappear above the tree tops. Then, with a little sigh, he turned and made his way home.

"I'm sorry and I'm glad," said Farmer Brown's Boy. "And, oh, how I do hope that no killer with a dreadful gun will ever have a chance to shoot Egret again."

JAPANESE PASTOR DIES AT SANITORIUM

Rev. I. A. Takaoka, 45 years of age, pastor for the last ten years of Hollywood Japanese Independent Church, died yesterday in Doughty Sanatorium, Belvedere. He leaves his widow, Mrs. K. Takaoka, and six children, Mide, Mary, Hal, Myrtle, Cannan and Samuel. Memorial services will be conducted tomorrow night in the Hollywood church at 4527 Lexington avenue, to be followed by funeral services at 2 p.m. Friday in Japanese Union Church, 120 North San Pedro street.

PLAYING YOUTH HANGS HIMSELF BY ACCIDENT

In a spirit of play Donald Wright, 12 years of age, yesterday leaped from a stool toward a noosed rope he had hung from a rafter in the garage at the rear of his home, 2349 Merton avenue, Eagle Rock.

He merely meant to swing from it, according to the theory of the police. But in some way, it is said, his head went through the noose, and while he was hanging there, either already dead from a broken neck, or strangling to death, his mother was awaiting his return to the house, wondering why he took so long to perform the small chore to which she had assigned him.

Donald, his mother and sister were to have gone yesterday on a visit to the children's grandmother, but just before they were ready to start the mother had directed the boy to take a bundle of old newspapers to the garage.

In this garage Donald had spent much of his leisure since returning with his family from Texas a few weeks ago. In Texas the boy had worn a cowboy suit and had also acquired a lariat in which he took great pride, and which he fastened to a rafter in the garage after returning to Los Angeles. Fastening a pillow in the loop he used it for a time as a punching bag, but he had returned the pillow to the house.

Mrs. Wright searching for her son when he failed to return to the house found his lifeless body hanging from the rope.

TREE-SITTING PASTIME BRANCHES OUT IN CITY

Endurance tree-sitting has captured the fancy of Los Angeles youth. It is sending scores up in the air, including parents who have ruined the aspirations of many would-be contenders. Reports last night from all sections of the city showed that so far there are four tree-sitters entered in the endurance test and many more are busy at work preparing a perch.

Salvadore C. Scarpitta, Jr., 11 years of age, of 2684 North Beachwood Drive, Hollywoodland, with 129 hours to his credit at 6 o'clock last night, leads all contestants. Donald Ainsworth, also 11, aloft fifty hours at 2003 Vista Del Mar, is second. Rupert Everett, 15, and James Meek, 15, up in a tree twenty-nine hours at 1063 West Thirty-ninth Place, are runners-up.

Unless some other contenders are holding out until all the rest of the boys come down it looks as if the contest will run along on an even keel.

Salvadore, the leader, yesterday was examined by doctors, who declared that he is in a better condition physically than before he started the contest. Salvadore asserts that he will outsit all the other sitters in California and has gained for himself the name of "Sal-the-Sitter."

Donald Ainsworth has made his perch a regular house with a dining room, guest room, and separate sleeping compartment. Donald reports that he is having a very good time and feels "right at home."

NEWS OF THE CAFES

Olsen and Johnson, revue comedians, will be guests of honor at George Olsen's new club in Culver City tonight when one of the most elaborate programs of the season will be put on in addition to the regular performance of the current summer show.

In keeping with the spirit of the occasion, George Olsen and his orchestra will introduce a special medley of musical numbers from "Monkey Business" and other revue hits in which Olsen and Johnson have been featured. Olsen's modernistic club, now entering its fourth month, continues to attract the elite of filmdom. Reservations for tonight's program forecast a gathering of stage and screen stars, directors, composers and other "who's who" of Hollywood.

B. B. B. BENEFIT

A benefit performance will be given tonight at the B.B.B. Cellar Cafe in Hollywood. A number of players are scheduled for personal appearance, including Abe Lyman, Joe Frisco, Rose Perfect, Nate Spector, three Boswell sisters, Ken and De Bard brothers, Margaret Padula, Phil Arnold and others. Dancing, entertainment and features start at 9 p.m.

YACONELLI TO PLAY

Frank Yaconelli, accordion player, has been engaged as an added attraction for Mme. Zucca's Silver Slipper Inn on East Market street. He is a former Orpheum circuit player. George Fabregat and orchestra will entertain at the daily luncheon dansant and evening dinner. There is no cover charge at any time.

Staff Changes Made by Fitts

William McKay yesterday was named chief of the District Attorney's complaint department.

As a result of McKay's appointment, D. H. Clark, former chief of the complaint department, is transferred to the trial department.

Dist.-Atty. Fitts declined to comment concerning his reasons for the transfer.

Your Baby and Mine

by MYRTLE MEYER ELDRED

HERNIA SHOULD NEVER BE LEFT UNTREATED

Because this is not a medical department, we feel it out of our province to mention subjects which demand medical attention, but—umbilical hernias are so common among young babies that we may be pardoned for mentioning them in the column.

A large majority of babies have protruding navels. How large a proportion I do not know, but it is markedly noticeable. The reason for it is a simple one. The muscles over the abdomen are not properly knitted together. This is just a condition that denotes improper or incomplete development of the baby at birth, or it may develop after birth if the child is poorly nourished, the muscles weak and of poor tone and thus easily ruptured.

CONSULT DOCTOR

The best help for the young baby is proper strapping with adhesive tape. This the doctor will do, showing the mother how it is done, so that she will feel able to remove the tape when it is getting too loose to be of service, and to replace it exactly as before.

The use of ether on the outside of the adhesive will dissolve the glue so that it can be peeled off without any pain to the child.

If this strapping is continued for a long period, sometimes as long as a year, and isn't successful in [illegible] courageing the muscles to [illegible] gether, then some [illegible] method will have to be used. [illegible] is entirely a matter for the doctor in charge to decide.

With the older child who develops a rupture it is [illegible] mind, whether the [illegible] be successful, but at least [illegible] no harm in trying them. [illegible] hold the rupture in place and prevent the real danger of the bowel becoming entangled. The [illegible] of bowel which protrudes through the rupture must be kept [illegible]

DON'T LEAVE UNTREATED

Mrs. V. G. asks this question: "I have a boy close to 7 years old who has a protruding navel. Is it dangerous and is there a way of working it back into place? I shall certainly thank you for comment on this."

I would take the child for a thorough physical examination, Mrs. G., and let the doctor decide if dangerous it would be for the rupture to go on without operation. If he feels that strapping the navel will hold it in place, then he will instruct you about removing and replacing the tape when necessary. There are various methods of dealing with umbilical rupture, but only a doctor is competent to decide them. One thing we are sure of in saying, which is that the rupture is to be left untreated.

TARZAN AND THE LOST EMPIRE

By Edgar Rice Burroughs

When the first frightened natives deserted the expedition of Erich von Harben to return to their villages with the alarming stories that had finally driven Tarman of the Apes upon the young man's self, the young explorer himself continued fearlessly on. But one morning he awoke to find completely deserted. Even his body-servant, Galuli, had left him.

A hasty survey of the camp revealed that his followers had stripped him of everything. All of his supplies were gone, and his gun carriers had decamped in the night with his rifles and all of his ammunition, with the exception of a single pistol and its belt of ammunition that had been in his tent with him. He was now alone on the slopes of the Wiramwazi Mountains.

He looked toward the rugged heights above him. It had come a long way to reach his goal, which now lay somewhere beyond that serrated skyline, and he was of no mind to turn back now in defeat. A day or a week in these rugged mountains might reveal the secret of the Lost Tribe of legend. There were known dangers behind him in the jungle. Ahead of him dangers that no man knew.

It did not take the young man long to reach his decision, and presently he turned back to his tent and entering it, packed a few necessities that had been left to him in a light haversack, strapped his ammunition belt about him, and stepped forth once more to turn his face toward the mystery of the Wiramwazi. He felt as light-hearted as in the days when he had scaled the Alps.

CITY SUMMONS GAS OFFICIALS

Day and Cline Get Call to Appear as Witnesses

Scattergood Ends His Story in Injunction Suit

History of Power Relations Traced by Engineer

A. B. Day, president of the Los Angeles Gas and Electric Corporation, and W. B. Cline, chairman of the board of directors, today will be called as witnesses in the city's suit to enjoin the corporation from using certain streets to distribute electrical power other than lighting. The injunction suit is being tried in Superior Judge Collier's court.

The corporation officials are being called by S. B. Robinson, special counsel for the city, for questioning regarding the company's asserted expenditures in opposing power bond issues.

E. F. Scattergood, chief electrical engineer of the city Bureau of Power and Light, yesterday completed his four days of direct examination. During the course of his testimony, he traced the history of the city's relations with the power company since the municipality's entry into power distribution. He testified yesterday that the defendant company opposed before the Railroad Commission the city's taking over of the Edison Company in 1922. Scattergood will be cross-examined later.

Attorney Garrett McEnerney of San Francisco, heading the defense counsel, yesterday admitted that the corporation opposed bond issues in 1911 and 1914, backing taxpayer suits to test the validity of the bond issues.

SEVEN MORE CASES OF PARALYSIS LISTED

Seven new cases of infantile paralysis were reported to the county health department yesterday, making a total of eighty-seven cases since the 1st inst. Officials point out that the disease is not spreading to an alarming degree, but nevertheless urge that children avoid crowds and that other fundamental rules of health be observed. Youngsters whose parents insist upon their children obeying these rules are not apt to be stricken, it is asserted

Ingram Announces Marriage to Singer

E. Snapper Ingram and His Bride

COUNCILMAN INGRAM yesterday startled his colleagues from their sedate quietude of hearing citizens protest about assessments by the announcement that on Independence Day he was joined in wedlock in Reno, Nev., with Mrs. Anita Clark.

Being unable, at present, to absent himself from his duties in the Council and to take a honeymoon, Ingram asked for three weeks leave of absence beginning September 15.

The bride is a singer of some fame. So is the bridegroom, being a member of the Shrine Chanters and other musical organizations. The couple are living in West Adams Gardens.

ASSESSMENTS CONFIRMED

The City Council yesterday confirmed the assessments for the extension of Sherman Way to Van Nuys Boulevard at the curve north of Van Nuys. The hearing of protests against the improvement of streets in the Cross avenue and Eldred street district was continued until January 19.

NEW NAVY AIRPLANES AWAITED

Three of Thirty Vought Corsairs Will Leave East Saturday for Coast

The first three of the thirty new Vought Corsair fighting-observation planes secretly perfected by the Navy for battleship use will leave Hartford, Ct., Saturday and will be delivered via transcontinental flights to the battle fleet here in early August, it was announced yesterday. Six others will arrive during a fortnight period.

The nine planes, officially designated as OSU-1's, will be ferried across the continent by nine Navy aviators now on duty in the Bureau of Aeronautics. The first group will be flown to the Coast by Commander R. K. Turner, Lieutenant-Commander G. D. Price and Lieut. C. S. Ring. The second group, of four planes, leaving the East on August 2, will be flown here by Lieutenant-Commander H. R. Bogusch, Lieutenant-Commander O. B. Hardison, Lieutenant-Commander J. E. Ostrander and Lieut. A. C. Miles. The last two planes will leave the Chance Vought factory on August 9 and will be piloted by Lieutenant-Commander J. M. Shoemaker and Lieut. M. T. Seligman.

Announcement also has been made of the appointment of Capt. Frank R. McCrary to command the aircraft carrier Saratoga, as relief of Capt. Frederick J. Horne, who has been named commander of the scouting fleet aircraft squadrons. Capt. McCrary, who will relieve Capt. Horne about August 15, now is commandant of the North Island Air Station at San Diego. He is one of the few officers of his rank qualified as a pilot of both heavier-than-air and lighter-than-air craft.

MAY STORE EMPLOYEES PAY TRIBUTE

Words of Founder Quoted to Show His Great Faith in America's Future

Employees of the May Company assembled in the store auditorium yesterday to pay tribute to the memory of Col. David May, the founder, in observance of the third anniversary of his death. The high point of the ceremony was reached in an address by J. J. Buell, general manager. Buell placed especial stress on the principles which had guided the great merchant to success.

"David May started his first store," he said, "in an America that had not heard of antiseptics, electric lights, paved roads or plumbing. His memories bridged the gap from Pony Express to automobiles and airplanes, and perhaps it was the endurance of the crudities and cruelties of that period that helped him in his determination to surmount obstacles.

"In an interview shortly before his death he said: 'Any imagination that doesn't view Tomorrow with eagerness and confidence is an ingrate to heritage and opportunity. What may not be expected of a land that has generalized so much comfort, convenience and enlightenment in the space of a single lifetime. No pessimistic opinion should quell enthusiasms or halt plans based on expectation of continuous prosperity and limitless progress. Every look behind should hearten us to push boldly ahead!' These are expressive words because they bespeak vision, faith, hope, loyalty, gratitude and courtesy. We cannot all be David Mays financially, but all of us can and should be his loyal exponents."

WARNERS ACCUSED OF COPYRIGHT VIOLATION

Declaring that Warner Brothers Pictures, Inc., Warner Brothers Downtown Theater Corporation, Warner Brothers Hollywood Theater Corporation, and two other unnamed corporations infringed upon a copyrighted musical production, Strike Up The Band, Inc., filed suit yesterday in United States District Court against the companies named. Strike Up The Band, Inc., seeks a restraining order against further presentation of Larry Ceballos Band, and $100,000 damages. It is charged that portions of "Strike Up The Band," presented in a New York theater, were used in the Warner production.

SKIES MAY LURE RUTH LAW AGAIN

Ruth Law as She Looks Today

With an envious glance skyward at an aviator winging over her home in a modern plane, Ruth Law, outstanding woman flyer of a decade ago, yesterday declined to affirm or deny reports current in flight circles that she is contemplating resumption of her spectacular career.

"Who can tell?" she replied. "I was in the game for ten years. Now I've been out of it ten years. And I don't know what I'll do in the next ten years."

Miss Law today is living in retirement with her husband, Hudson Oliver, at Beverly Hills. But, prior to her marriage, which resulted in her passing from the public eye, she was the world's solitary great aviatrix. Her daring exhibition with antiquated "pusher" type planes won her undying fame during the years that her brother, Rodman Law, was electrifying crowds with balloon ascensions and parachute leaps. At one time she held all altitude and distance records for women.

In her own day Miss Law flew "purely for the love of flying," which she states she cannot say for the women flyers of the present.

PLANS LAID FOR DEBATE ON SHULER

Mass Meeting to Discuss Activities of Pastor to Include All Elements

Names of members of the committee sponsoring the mass meeting at the Olympic Auditorium Friday night which has been called to discuss the activities of Rev. R. P. Shuler made public in part yesterday, disclose representatives in all walks of life and from all sections of Los Angeles.

Delegations from points outside the city will be present, according to Leo B. Lesperance, temporary chairman. A large representation of employees of the Los Angeles Railway is being organized to attend, says Lesperance, as well as delegates from a number of women's organizations and clubs.

Denial was made last night by Aimee Semple McPherson that Mr. Shuler delivered an address over the Angelus Temple radio station last Sunday afternoon.

"I have received a number of telephone calls from radio listeners regarding the reports that Mr. Shuler's voice was heard over the radio Sunday," said the Angelus Temple leader. "It wasn't the voice of Mr. Shuler that delivered the civic sermon at our Sunday-afternoon services, but Rev. Charles Walkum of Ventura, whose voice and mannerisms greatly resemble the Trinity Methodist minister's," she explained.

A reply to recent talks of Shuler will be given by George W. Rechester, former Senator, tonight in a half-hour address over KMTR, starting at 7 p.m.

COVERED-WAGON PIONEERS MARCH IN PARADE TODAY

It's a far cry from the covered wagon of the past to the luxurious motor coach of the present, but it will be typified today in a quaint parade that will be part of the all-day program at Santa Monica in commemoration of the 100th anniversary of the first trek of pioneers from St. Louis to the Pacific Coast. The parade will illustrate the development of transportation. It will form at Ocean avenue and San Vicente Boulevard at 10:30 a.m. and proceed along Ocean avenue to Broadway to Lincoln avenue, to Santa Monica Boulevard to Third street to Wilshire Boulevard and to Twelfth street, where it will disband.

Scores of covered-wagon pioneers and their descendants are to march in the parade. All expect to wear the apparel of a by-gone era and some will carry bullet-riddled flags that saw service in the Civil War. The parade will be headed by Frank M. Hauser, grand marshal, assisted by Henry Englebrecht, Guy Bundy and William Sharpies. Music will be provided by four bands.

The celebration will end with the dedication to covered wagon pioneers of a $10,000 plaque set in the sidewalk in front of the Pioneer Market, 1436 Third street, Santa Monica. Mayor Rolph of San Francisco, Mayor Michel of Santa Monica and A. R. Pratt, president of the Santa Monica-Ocean Park Chamber of Commerce, will speak at the exercises, which are to be broadcast over KTM.

TORCHES FREE MAN HELD PRISONER BY ELEVATOR

Acetylene torches were called into play yesterday to liberate a man imprisoned by a freight elevator in a freak accident at 746 South Los Angeles street. The victim of the mishap is E. Cotterell, 55 years of age, 338 West Ninety-fourth street. He is in Georgia-street Receiving Hospital, where surgeons last night prepared to amputate his left leg in an effort to save his life.

With C. A. Lux, superintendent of the Grayco Building, Cotterell, a relief elevator operator, was loading machinery into the lift on the eighth floor. From some undetermined cause the elevator started suddenly upward. Cotterell leaped aboard to stop it, but slipped and fell face downward on the floor. The elevator continued its ascent, stopping only after it had crushed Cotterell's leg between the ceiling and the edge of the lift platform.

Cotterell, conscious, suffered nearly an hour before relief could be administered. While firemen with acetylene torches were cutting holes through which to free him, Police Surgeon Trotter and Nurse Reddy tried to give him ether, but, this operation being impossible because of his inaccessible position, they were forced to return to the hospital for gas tanks. They then lowered tubes through upper openings and administered the anesthetic.

POLICE TO SWEAR IN AIR FORCE

Twelve Airmen Including Noted Flyers to Become Officers Tomorrow

Twelve aviators, most of them famous for Arctic, trans-Atlantic and transcontinental flights, will be formally sworn into the Los Angeles Police Department as its aviation division tomorrow morning at 10:30 o'clock at the Municipal Airport, it was announced at the Police Commission's meeting yesterday by Commissioner Walkup, who has shown much enthusiasm in the formation of the voluntary unit.

The ceremony will be conducted by City Clerk Robert Dominguez in the presence of the Police Commission, the Mayor and other city officials.

The division was created several weeks ago to aid the department in capturing criminals accused of major crimes and to assist the department during any possible disasters. Also the division will be used as an aerial escort during the visit of any famous flyers.

The membership, at first limited to ten, has been raised to twelve, consisting of the following:

Col. Arthur Goebel, Lieutenant-Commander George Noville, Col. Roscoe Turner, Lieut. Rufus Pilcher, Lieut. Paul Richter, Waldo Watterman, Lieut. W. E. (Tommy) Thomas, Lieut. Bud Campbell, Director of Municipal Airports R. B. Barnitz, Assistant Director Woodruff De Silva and Sergt. J. K. Carls of the police department.

The division is to be furnished with detective lieutenant badges and insignia of the police department for planes and uniforms. The latter, like the planes, the oil and gasoline, are furnished by the aviators.

Fund for Study of Point Fermin Earth Slip Voted

After several minutes spent in debate, the City Council yesterday voted, 11 to 2, to appropriate $1500 to be spent in appraising the property involved in the Point Fermin earth slip. The purpose is to set the machinery in motion to purchase the property from the owners.

Councilman Henning described the situation as "distressing." He said the earth movement continues at the rate of an inch or two per week. The total slide, he said, amounts to eight feet outward toward the sea and two feet downward.

Councilmen Jacobson and Williams voted against the proposition, expressing themselves as being doubtful of the wisdom of establishing such a precedent.

TIRE STORY FIGURES IN DIVORCE OF FORDS

Two Fords and a tire figured yesterday in a divorce suit tried by Superior Judge Bishop. Mrs. Gladys Ford complained that when a collector repossessed an unpaid-for tire her husband, Herbert W. Ford, became angry and knocked her out. Her mother-in-law picked her up, she continued. Judge Bishop granted Mrs. Ford a decree.

BY PAUL MICKELSON
Associated Press Sports Writer

CHICAGO, July 22. (AP)—Charles [illegible] Evans, Jr., the Bobby Jones of yesteryear, came back for more golfing renown today by wedging into a two-way tie with another Chicagoan, Johnny Lehman, in the fight for the western amateur championship medal.

His big wallops on a strikingly almost regulation way back in 1923 when he won his twelfth and last golf crown of any description, clicked so brilliantly today he carded a 72, one over par, the stubborn championship Beverly course, and pulled up from behind is tie Lehman with a total of 147 strokes.

But for a hooked shot into a trap on the final green, where he took one over par, he would have stood out in front alone tonight with the medal on his

The pair were tied at 159 and in the play-off Vincent Do'n of Portland, Ore., and Gus Fetz of Chicago, won places in the qualifying bracket. Evans won his place with a par 4 on the first hole while Dolp scored a par 5 to win on the second.

Other favorites came through handily, however, including the two Chicagoans, Cyril Tolley and T. Phillips, who qualified with 152 and 153 strokes, respectively.

Evans and Lehman won their medal tie by four big strokes over Ben Armstrong of Aurora, Ill., and Ira Couch, one of the leading players in the Chicago district. Five strokes away with 152 came Tolley, and a pair of Chicago stars, George Dawson and Andy Knepper, who like Evans is attempting a comeback, tied for others were deadlocked with 157's. ANGELS DEFEAT SACRAMENTO IN ELEVENTH, 5 TO 4

How Night Baseball Premiere Looked at Wrigley Field

Opening Night Draws Crowd of 17,000 Fans

Here's how the fans took to "Owl League" baseball in Los Angeles last night when Sacramento played Los Angeles. Business Manager Oscar Reichow of the Angels estimated that 17,000 fans found their way into the park to see the ball players perform under the arc lights. It was by far the biggest week-day crowd of Wrigley Field history.

TED GOLFER BACK IN SHAPE

Up from Behind With 72 for 147 Total

Dunlap's Failure to Qualify Surprises

Tolley Among Stars in Title Tourney

BY PAUL NICKELSON
United Press Sports Writer

CHICAGO, July 22. (AP)—Charles "Chick" Evans, Jr., the Bobby Jones of golfdom, came back for more golfing renown today by wedging into a two-way tie with another Chicagoan, Johnny Lehman, in the fight for the western amateur championship medal.

His big war clubs on a strike almost regularly since way back in 1923 when he won his twelfth and last golf crown of any kind, clicked so brilliantly today as he posted a 72, one over par effort on the championship Beverly course, and pulled up from behind to tie Lehman with a total of 147.

WARNE, BOWEN TAKE HONORS

American Track Stars Win in Stockholm Meet

STOCKHOLM, July 22. (AP)—Tommy Warne of Northwestern and Reginald (Pete) Bowen of the University of Pittsburgh recorded victories in their specialties on the third day of an international athletic meet here today.

Warne won the pole vault at 13ft. 9 9-16 in. H. Lindblad of Sweden was second at 13ft. 1½in., and B. Anderson, Sweden, third at 12ft. 5½in.

Bowen captured the 400-meters run in 48.2s., with J. Buechner of Germany second and O. Hammargren of Sweden third.

George Bullwinkle, College of the City of New York, finished second to B. Kraft of Sweden in the 1000-meters run. A Larsen of Denmark was third. The time was 2m. 32.2s.

Edwin Gillemeister of Germany won the 100-meters dash in 10.8s. with Katz of Finland second and M. Pendleton, United States, third.

EDITH CROSS DEFEATED

Defending Champion Conquered by Miss Hilleary in Essex Country Club Net Match

MANCHESTER (Mass.) July 22. (AP)—Edith Cross of San Francisco, third ranking woman tennis player and defending champion in the Essex Country Club's invitation tourney, today was eliminated by Virginia Hilleary of Philadelphia in a quarter-final match, 7-5, 6-3.

The California girl, who reached Boston from England, late Sunday night with Sarah Palfrey and Mary Greef, her Wightman Cup team-mates, played her poorest tennis against Miss Hilleary.

It was evident she had not recovered from her long sea trip, for many times during the match she was caught on the wrong side of the court and forced to stand helpless as Miss Hilleary lashed placements.

In a second-round match, Miss Cross had easily defeated Fanny Curtis, Boston, 6-0, 6-2.

Sarah Palfrey, outstanding of the four tennis playing Brookline sisters, gained the quarter-finals in easy fashion, defeating Mrs. E. K. Nash, Boston, 6-0, 6-2, and Ruth Bailey, St. Louis, 6-1, 6-3.

Mary Greef, Los Angeles, the third Wightman Cup player in the tourney, gained a third-round bracket by defeating Rosamond Newton, Boston, 6-1, 6-1, and was trailing Mianne, second eldest of the Palfrey sisters, five games to two, when a downpour halted play.

Joanna, and Polly Palfrey were defeated in second-round matches. The former did not win a game against Marjorie Morrill of Dedham, who then became a quarter-finalist by defeating Edith Sigourney, Boston, 6-2, 6-3. Polly's defeat by Miss Bailey, 6-2, 6-2, was later avenged by Sarah.

The quarter-finals bracket also included three Californians and a fourth from that State will enter that round tomorrow. Marjorie Gladman of Santa Monica, became one of the last eight by upsetting Eleanora Sears, prominent Boston sportswoman, 6-2, 6-0; Ethel Burkhardt, San Francisco, defeated Mrs. J. D. Corbiere, Boston, in a hard-fought, 8-6, 6-4 match and Dorothy Weisel, Sacramento, moved into the

PALOS VERDES TOURNEY OPENS

Invitation Tournament to Draw Fine Field

BY EDWARD LAWRENCE

Palos Verdes's annual invitation tournament begins this morning when the van of what promises to be an exceptionally strong field tees off for the first two days of qualifying play.

A large number of golfers have secured starting times for today, while the majority of low-handicap players entered plan to qualify tomorrow and then remain over for the Calcutta dinner, which will be presided over by Don Lawyer and Les Henry, the latter secretary of the club.

Match play will start on Friday in ten flights. Two rounds are scheduled for the opening day, semifinals on Saturday and finals in all flights on Sunday morning. A number of feature events, mixed foursomes, a consolation round, a tournament for the members of Southern California Golf Association greens committees and other events fill out a well-rounded program.

That the caliber of the competition will be high is attested by the entry of W. L. "Bill" Jelliffe of Girard, winner of the recent Los Angeles city championship; Russell "Bud" Thompson of Oakmont, National Elks champion; Harry Eichelberger Jr. of Los Angeles, California Invitational winner; and Phil Carter of Rancho, Southland amateur medalist, not to mention Winston Fuller of Los Angeles, Jack Gaines of Girard, Howard Jones of Girard, Fred Aberle of California, Ernie Combs, Jr. of Virginia, Paul R. Jones of Rancho, and Dr. C. K. Manhart of Fox Hills.

Those who have played Palos Verdes need no introduction to this interesting course, but for benefit of those who have never had the opportunity of playing there it may be said that the course is one of the finest in Southern California. The layout while not particularly long is a splendid test of golf, demanding accuracy from tee to green. It challenges both the low and high handicap man, and is a most pleasurable course to play.

Under the care of Ike Sample, chairman of the greens, the course has been put in the best of condition for the tournament.

SPRECKELS CUP ON EXHIBIT HERE

Trophies for the seventh annual A. B. Spreckels Cup tournament which will be played over the Coronado Country Club course the week of August 18 to 23, are being exhibited at the A. G. Spalding and Bros. sports goods store. The winner is presented each year with a large punch bowl of exquisite

Extra! Helen Dodges Match

SAN FRANCISCO, July 22. (AP)—Helen Wills Moody turned down a chance to play tennis with the Governor of California today. Telling news cameramen and sound-reel photographers, who had assembled to record the event, she didn't want to be "mixed up in politics," the women's tennis champion of the world refused to appear on a California Tennis Club court with Gov. C. C. Young, who is a candidate for re-election. Frederick S. Moody, father-in-law of the former Helen Wills, is a member of the State Highway Commission under Gov. Young.

SEATTLE WINS OVER VITTMEN

Zahnizer Holds Hollywood to Four Hits

SEATTLE (Wash.) July 22. (AP)—Seattle staged an eighth-inning rally to win the first night baseball game here from Hollywood, 5 to 4. The game is said to be the first formal baseball game on the Coast. Tuxedoes and formal dress were much in evidence. Heath and Carlyle, both of Hollywood, homered.

NIGHT PREMIERE DRAWS 12,463

Arnold Statz Hammers in Winning Run

Yerkes Goes to Rescue of Art Delaney

Game Under Lights Appeals to Ball Fans

BY BOB RAY

Los Angeles fans had plenty of time in which to decide whether they liked night baseball last night at Wrigley Field, where Jack Leilvelt's Angels nosed out Sacramento, 5 to 4, in an overtime inaugural struggle that went eleven innings.

A throng of 12,463 curious customers, a rather disappointing turnout considering that it marked night baseball's local debut, saw the struggle. On the other hand, however, drawing 12,463 fans out for a Tuesday game is nothing to be sneezed at, considering that it would take President Hoover pitching against Babe Ruth to draw that many out for a Tuesday afternoon game.

Jigger Statz was first the goat and then the hero of the first night struggle. With the Angels leading, 4 to 3, two men on and two out in the ninth, Jigger sent the athletes into extra innings by dropping Myril Hoag's line drive to let the tying run score.

STATZ ENDS CONTEST

Statz made up for that bobble in the eleventh, however, when, with two men out, Carroll Yerkes on first and the fans settling back for at least another inning of baseball, he slashed one of Lefty Flynn's offerings down into the right-field corner for a triple that broke up the struggle before midnight.

This night ball seemed to meet the approval of most of the fans for it is just as easy for them to follow the ball as in the daytime. The players, however, can't see the bulb as well and it's apple sauce for anyone to say that they can.

One very noticeable thing we discovered was that the ball doesn't travel so far and so fast in the heavier night air. There wasn't a sign of a home run last night although several of the balls were pretty walloped.

THREE TROJAN NETTERS ENTER PLAY IN EAST

Three University of Southern California tennis players will open an intensive campaign for eastern tennis laurels when play begins next week in leading Atlantic seaboard tournaments with the departure of Helen Marlowe, last of S.C.'s representatives, for the East, last night.

Mary Greef, sixth ranking feminine player in the country and a junior at the University of Southern California, is entered in the Seabright (N. J.) invitational, which is scheduled to begin next Monday, the 28th inst., together with Helen Marlowe, her younger Trojan class-mate, who holds the national girls' hard-court championship. With the announcement that Helen Wills will confine her tennis activities in the East this summer to the women's nationals at Forest Hills, the youthful S.C. co-eds are expected to go a long way in this tournament, for both are developing at a rapid rate.

Jack De Lara, sophomore ace of the Trojan squad, who was runner-up in the national municipal championship last year, will participate in the Atlantic Coast championships, scheduled to begin Monday at Ocean City, N. J. At the present time, the S.C. southpaw star is playing in the Canadian national championships at Hamilton, Ont.

A fourth Trojan player, Bob Gates, captain of the 1930 S.C. net squad, is closing his summer tennis campaign this week at Denver, where he is participating in the Colorado State championships.

PEDLEY AND BOESEKE APPEAR IN POLO TRIALS AGAIN TODAY

NEW YORK, July 22. (AP)—With Capt. Tommy Hitchcock back in the saddle after a ten-day lay-off, the American polo forces will engage in their second match for the international team tomorrow at the Piping Rock Club.

Hitchcock will ride with "Pete" Boswick, young Earl Hopping and Winston Guest against a combination composed of Eric Pedley, Elmer Boeseke, Jr., the two California candidates, Stewart Iglehart and J. C. Rathborne, the former Yale stars. Pedley will have his first trial at No. 1 while Boeseke again will be tested at No. 2.

PRIMO MAY BE GRANTED STAY

Chance of Fighter Getting More Time Here

WASHINGTON, July 22. (AP)—Labor Department officials looked over the record in the case of Primo Carnera today and said they saw no reason for giving the gigantic prize fighter any more time in this country.

The six months allowed the boxer has expired and immigration inspectors have recommended that the big Italian be given no more than the usual period allowed aliens.

Officials said, however, if Carnera or his manager cared to introduce further evidence a reconsideration might be given him.

If this is asked by Carnera's representatives it might serve at least to delay his departure and would, if successful, give him six months more to continue his prize-ring appearances.

NEW YORK, July 22. (AP)—Byron Uhl, immigration commissioner at Ellis Island, said today that Primo Carnera, massive Italian fighter, had been notified his six months' visitor's permit had expired and that he must leave the United States immediately.

Uhl said Leon See, Carnera's manager, also had been admitted under a visitor's permit and was ordered to leave with his fighter.

No definite time was set for their departure, the government allowing them several days to settle their business affairs and make reservations, Uhl said.

A dispatch from the Washington bureau of the World-Herald quotes W. W. Husband, head of im-

BROOKLYN (N. Y.) July 22. (AP) Hollis Thurston, one-time American League hurler, made his second start for Brooklyn and won his first victory, outpitching Wild Bill Hallahan in a close game. Thurston allowed the St. Louis Cardinals only three hits to triumph, 1 to 0.

HOLLIS THURSTON.

Thurston's pitching feat put the Robins back into first place in the National League, as Chicago divided a double-header with New York and lost a half game. Brooklyn, having played fewer games, is four points ahead in the averages.

An error by Frank Frisch led to the only run. Frisch fumbled Frederick's grounder and the Brooklyn lead-off man scored on Bressler's infield single to Frisch, on which Orsatti failed to cover first.

Chick Hafey made two of the three hits off Thurston. Score:

CORBETT AFTER THOMPSON

Italian Backers of Northern Southpaw Raise $60,000 for Title Go in Los Angeles

With a check for $60,000—money pooled by the Italian backers of Young Corbett III—Larry White is expected here today from San Francisco for a conference with Promoter Jack Doyle.

The purse is to be offered Young Jack Thompson for a title bout with Corbett in Los Angeles. The money is to be deposited in escrow in a bank here if arrangements are completed for the match.

YOUNG CORBETT III.

This is the information received here yesterday concerning the latest gesture of the admirers of the Fresno southpaw who has whipped two world's champions in a few months time in overweight bouts.

Having decisioned Jackie Fields when he held the title and Thompson shortly after the negro whipped Fields the Corbett faction believe that winning the championship is a mere matter of getting Thompson at the weight.

At a recent meeting of the California boxing commission here an ultimum was issued to Thompson to defend his championship against Corbett within six months or forfeit his right to box in this State. The ring body named Corbett as the chief welterweight contender.

Since that time White, who is one of Corbett's managers, has been busy trying to raise a purse big enough to tempt the management of Thompson into the open.

Ray Alvis, manager of the Negro title-holder, left for Chicago last Sunday and will arrive at his destination today. He is in touch with the local situation and is said ready to talk business after feeling out New York and Detroit over a proposed Thompson-Jimmy McLarnin match.

New York at one time bid $75,000 for Thompson to defend his crown against McLarnin, but is believed to have cooled out on the proposition after learning that McLarnin wanted $50,000 as a challenger.

White is prepared to offer the bout to Promoter Doyle for 60 per cent, which sounds like a reasonable figure.

Maurice Cain, who is representing White here, sounded out Doyle and the Olympic promoter told him to produce White and the $60,000 for a confab.

FLYWEIGHT HERE

Midget Wolgast will arrive here this morning at 7:30 over the Southern Pacific lines from New York. The flyweight champion of New York is here to box Speedy Dado at the Olympic next Tuesday night in an overweight bout.

The club will return to its regular Tuesday-night date next week, as the Monday night receipts for the spectacular Billy-Townsend-Joey Medill contest were not satisfactory. The show drew $4600 and when the same pair boxed two weeks ago there was $6000 in the house, the show being held on the regular Tuesday.

Wolgast is accompanied by Johnny Keys. He will go into training at once. The champion defeated Ernie Peters on the Sammy Mendell-Al Singer card last Thursday night at the Yankee Stadium.

Dado is working daily at 1:30 in the Main-street gymnasium and is ready to stake himself against the champion. It will be the Filipino's seventy-ninth fight and his first meeting with a recognized champion.

Matchmaker Wadhams is trying to book the sensational Townsend back for August 5 with Johnny Lamar at 140 pounds. The weight is the only snag in the way of the bout. Lamar made 135 for Goldie Hess, but figured he was weakened at the poundage. Townsend weighed 142½ last Tuesday night when he stopped Medill in a minute and forty-four seconds.

ALLEN STARS

NEW YORK, July 22. (AP)—The Giants sent the Chicago Cubs back into second place in the National League standing today by winning the second game of a double-header to get an even break for the day while Brooklyn was gaining the decision over St. Louis. The Cubs won the first game, 5 to 4, and the Giants captured the seven-inning second, 6 to 1. Rain stopped the second game.

Etham Allen's home run was the most important blow of the Giant victory. It came in the third with the bases full and drove Bud Teachout from the mound. Bush and Nelson followed him.

Charley Root held the Giants in check through the first game until the end was in sight. He weakened in the final inning, allowing Frank Hogan to hit a home run and two others to single, and Teachout had to retire the last man. Score:

PHILLIES BEST

PHILADELPHIA, July 22. (AP)—Phil Collins pitched and batted the Phils to an 11-to-5 triumph over the Pirates today.

The ace of Shotton's hurling staff hit successive home runs in the fourth and fifth innings, the first with one man on and the second with the bases empty. The twirler also had a single and accounted for four of his team's runs. The Pirates could do nothing with his delivery until the closing minutes.

Pinky Whitney hit a home run inside the park in the sixth frame, the first time the trick has been turned in some years. Score:

AVILA, COLIMA MIX

Clem Avila and Babe Colima will box the top half of a double feature at Ontario, Wednesday night. Leo Domingo faces Ky Wolfe in the semi-feature. It will be Wolfe's debut into the top bouts and his many friends are anxious to see him succeed. Both bouts are scheduled for six rounds. Joe Macy and Young Pete Latzo meet in the special. Two fours are also carded.

AVERILL BAGS TWO CIRCUITS

Red Sox Nose Out Pale Hose in Ninth Inning

CLEVELAND, July 22. (AP)—The "presentation jinx" turned against the New York Yankees today and gave the Indians both games of a double-header, 6-5 and 10-8.

EARL AVERILL.

Before the game a delegation of Manager Bob Shawkey's admirers from his home town of Brookville, Pa., presented him with flowers. During the two games Shawkey saw six of his pitchers sadly battered, saw his infielders make eight errors and finally was chased from the field for arguing with Umpires Campbell and McGowan as the Yanks lost their second game.

Willis Hudlin pitched a fine game in the opener but had trouble due to four Cleveland errors. The Indians finally won in the ninth, scoring two runs on an error, Myatt's double and two singles. The second contest was a close slugging match in which each team used four pitchers.

Earl Averill gained the decision for Cleveland with two home runs. The second broke an 8-8 tie in the eighth inning. Scores:

UHLE DELIVERS

DETROIT, July 22. (AP)—Pitcher George Uhle came to the plate as a pinch batter in the eighth today and delivered a single which scored two men and enabled the Tigers to defeat the Philadelphia Athletics, 6 to 5.

Lefty Grove, who relieved Bill Shores in the seventh, was charged with the defeat, his first at the hands of the Tigers out of five games this season. It also was his fourth defeat of the year.

The game was featured by heavy hitting, with ten two-baggers recorded. Hayworth and McManus each got two. Score:

It was the second consecutive day the Browns managed to shove across a victory, although they were out-

OLD ALEX'S FIRST OUTFIT OFFERS HIM HURLING JOB

GALESBURG (Ill.) July 22. (Exclusive)—An invitation to pitch the remainder of the season with a team here where he made his debut into organized baseball twenty years ago, was wired today to Grover Cleveland Alexander.

The Galesburg Independents, among whose supporters "Alex" has many friends from the days when he pitched his first league ball, is the team seeking his services, now that he has been released by the Dallas club of the Texas League.

Alex came here from his home in St. Paul, Neb., to join the Galesburg club of the old Illinois-Missouri League when he was 22 years of age. His salary was $100 a month.

CHISOX LOSE

CHICAGO, July 22. (AP)—Three timely hits and an error by Bill Cissell with a double play in sight cost the White Sox a ball game today to the Boston Red Sox, 4 to 3.

Dutch Henry almost got away with his third victory of the season when the little roller came to Cissell and went through his legs. A double play would have sent Boston to the field again with the score tied. Score:

Oregon State in East, West Turkey Game

CHICAGO, July 22. (Exclusive)—Melvin A. Traylor, president of the First National Bank, was named today as chairman of the civic committee supporting the first annual Thanksgiving Day football classic from which money will be raised to form a permanent maintenance fund for the Chicago unit of the Shriners' hospitals for crippled children.

The football classic, Chairman W. H. Wade pointed out, will be a revival of Thanksgiving Day college football in Chicago. The Thanksgiving Day games between leading college elevens of the East and West are expected to make possible also the expansion of the Chicago unit.

A contract has been signed to bring the West Virginia University and the Oregon State College elevens here for the first classic, Mr. Wade said. A contract has also been made with the South Park board for the use of Soldier Field during the next ten years for Thanksgiving Day games.

SIREN IS WINNER IN YACHT CLASSIC

MACKINAC ISLAND, (Mich.) July 22. (AP)—The Siren of the Chicago Yacht Club won the 22rd annual yacht race from Chicago to Mackinac Island today, taking the title for the fourth time. The Milwaukee Yacht Club's mahogany entry, Vagabond, was first to cross the line at the end of the 331-mile cruise, but had to yield to the Siren because of an allowance of three hours and 21 minutes. Princess, of the Jackson Park Club of Chicago, took second.

George has done everything asked of him in his local bouts, and his aggressive, smart style of grappling has caused him to be made a favorite. He is reported to have perfected some sort of a defense for the backward body slam, and therein lies his chances for victory. He has been speeding up in recent workouts, and speed is essential against Malcewicz, for they don't make 'em any more slippery than the Utica veteran. George expects to weigh about 215 pounds and Malcewicz about 200.

Lutze is a young veteran. He isn't much older than Wycoff, but he has been in the professional game for a number of years, and his long string of successes against top-notchers classes him as a real gray-beard of the business.

In Wycoff Lutze is meeting a youngster who is trying hard to follow in the footsteps of Marshall and George. An expert with toe holds, he uses that attack to weaken his opponents and then tosses them with anything handy. He made good showings against both George and Marshall, although beaten by both, and is a favorite to upset his bronzed foe tonight. Lutze isn't the best wrestler in the world, but he's far from the worst, and if Wycoff wins it will be only after a terrific battle. This bout, like the main clash, is for two out of three falls.

In the opener Steve Strelich will hook up with Joe Stamaty, claimant of the Greek light-heavyweight title.

SUDDEN GENEROSITY

THERE is some talk of a welterweight championship fight in the air. Young Jack Thompson is to put the title on the block for Young Corbett III to shoot at, and Jack Doyle is to stage the venture at Wrigley Field.

There is probably as much news in this report for Mr. Doyle as other readers of the daily papers.

At any rate Mr. Larry White, reputed manager of Young Corbett, is said to be on his way to this city to wave a fat check of $60,000 before Mr. Doyle's eyes.

Now a sight of a $60,000 check is apt to make Mr. Doyle commit most anything—even a hole in one at Brentwood some of these fine days.

The object of this check is to guarantee Young Jack Thompson its face value for a championship battle, and all that is required of Mr. Doyle is for him to act in the capacity of a promoter.

Now, that seems fair enough, but there are pertinent questions that arise in connection with the venture.

Just why is Mr. White so good to Los Angeles? Young Corbett is a nobody down here. He's a hero in San Francisco.

It's perfectly true that Young Corbett whittled Young Thompson into slivers in a recent bout at San Francisco. But that was a nontitle bout, and wouldn't the dear natives of the North be interested in seeing their favorite lift the crown from Thompson?

Until I can discover a reason for Mr. White's generosity please pardon the skepticism.

A KNOCKOUT HERO

BILLY TOWNSEND knocked himself right into the limelight by stopping Joey Medill in less than a single round at the Olympic the other night.

Although fewer persons saw the rematch than the first bout the news of Billy's feat has traveled far.

He's a cinch to be a real card whenever he appears again, almost regardless of the opposition. The real knockerouts are so few and far between that a boy with a dynamite sock is a joy forever.

Jimmy McLarnin was one of the most marvelous boxers in the universe at the bantamweight poundage, but his gate powers doubled and trebled when some of his boxing ability was replaced with a knockout punch.

McLarnin has since made more money in the lightweight and welterweight divisions than the champions of either class.

Townsend now wants a crack at Young Jack Thompson, and he may be humored in the near future.

He has the stuff to crown black Jack if he ever gets a pot shot at Jack's chin as he did at that of Medill's the other night.

THE "DRUG" BUGABOO

IT SEEMS that even with the passage of years no champion can lose his title without the ancient "drug" story being revived.

Twenty years ago this summer Jim Jeffries was knocked out by Jack Johnson at Reno, Nev., and the papers were full of how Jeff was doped before the battle.

Coming down to more recent years Jack Dempsey lost his crown to Gene Tunney in a rain-soaked ring at Philadelphia.

That was four years ago.

Dempsey was drugged, they said.

And now, it's Sammy Mandell, who, deprived of his lightweight title in less than a round, has the old story revived for his benefit.

In reality, Sammy's case is the same as Jeff's and Dempsey's and others.

Sammy was getting ring worn. He had been fighting ten years, and boxers in the racket that long are old men.

They can't make weight and retain their strength.

Ask Tommy Loughran.

Youngster Picked to Kayoe Frankie Abendino

Young Papke fights as a preliminary boy at the Hollywood American Legion Stadium, but he has as much drawing power as main eventers. Papke will make his fourth start at the stadium Friday night in the special event. He fights Frankie Abendino and Papke is favored to cop by a kayoe. He has three knockouts to his credit since he started on the big time at Hollywood.

BENNY MILLER

The main eventers will be Benny Miller and Romero Le Mon. Miller is surprising his most ardent admirers. His wins over Oakland Jimmy Duffy and Babe Anderson at the stadium were a credit to Benny. In Duffy he beat a smart old-timer. Duffy has lost his sock that made him a great fighter in his day but he is still a crafty ringman. Miller beat him easily. Babe Anderson was next on Miller's list. Young Jack Thompson wouldn't fight Anderson so Miller took him on and the fight was full of action with Miller winning and scoring a couple of knockdowns. Miller looked better beating Anderson than he did when he fought Duffy.

"Red" Humphries hasn't been seen at Hollywood for many months. He fights Jimmy Alvarado in the semi-wind-up. Humphries should be favorite.

Armand Emanuel and Al Morro, Jim Jeffries's heavyweight, fight the main event at Hollywood next week. This shot should be a sell-out.

DE MILLE AND HUGHES WILL MEET TOMORROW

Plenty of action is promised the cash customers by Promoter "Cy" Saenz at his Culver City Stadium tomorrow night. In the main event, a scheduled eight-rounder between Tommy Hughes and Augie De Mille gives promise of upholding "Cy's" contention. The semi-spot is well covered by a scheduled six-rounder between two sensational 135-pounders, Al De Chaine and Herb Russell. The following complete the card: Tony Randolph vs. Cecil Myart, heavies, six rounds. Jack Pettibone vs. Johnny Gardino, four rounds, 126. Linton Evans vs. Fletcher Robinson, four at 163.

American and French Davis Cup Squads Take Hard Workouts

TILDEN, COCHET IN FINE SHAPE

Big Bill Defeats Lott in Three Torrid Sets

Foreign Tennis Ace Whips Christian Boussus

Many Spectators on Hand to Watch Training

PARIS, July 22. (AP)—Tennis of the slam-bang, six-shooting variety was indulged in today by both the American and French Davis Cup teams in the last strenuous practice matches before the challenge round test Friday.

Bill Tilden

Big Bill Tilden, bad ankle and all, defeated George Lott, his singles mate, 6-3, 6-8, 6-4; Henri Cochet, ace of the cup-defending squad, wiped up the courts with Christian Boussus, youthful Frenchman.

Both No. 1's, Tilden and Cochet, took chances in stroking which, while producing a maximum of errors, provided remarkable placements.

"What a pity there is so much at stake in the Davis Cup that the players cannot afford to take such chances," was the regret of about 1000 spectators who had paid to watch the practice. Amateur tennis is taking a leaf out of the professional book, charging ten francs—40 cents—for the privilege of witnessing the training.

The committee and selection work was completed today for the challenge round as the teams were definitely formed and for the first time since the United States defeated Italy in the interzone final the players had their innings.

Besides the Tilden-Lott and Cochet-Boussus matches, Wilmer Allison and John Van Ryn, the American doubles combination, played five hard sets against the professionals, Martin Plaa and Karel Kozeluh. Johnny Doeg and Gregory Mangin staged a battle royal on one of the side courts and the only nominated Davis Cup player on either team who was idle today was Jacques Brugnon, who thought he had "had enough tennis since April."

On the showing today Tilden and Cochet, as in other years, again stood out, and the real battle for the cup appears once more to be a fight between them. "Whichever way the Tilden-Cochet matches go probably will go the Davis Cup" was the comment of the experts.

List Several Changes for Cup Defender

NEW YORK, July 22. (AP)—Nearly $40,000 already has been spent on alterations to the Whirlwind, America's Cup defense candidate, but her owners still are not satisfied.

The Whirlwind, a disappointment in the trial races sailed so far, has been undergoing changes at a City Island shipyard. Yesterday a bowsprit was built on her bow to increase her fore triangle. Twice previously the Whirlwind's mast was stepped forward in an effort to eliminate a bad-weather helm.

POLO CALLED OFF BY HARD DOWNPOUR

RUMSON (N. J.) July 22. (AP)—A heavy downpour of rain caused postponement of today's match in the national junior polo championships with the United States Army team leading Greentree, 9 to 5, at the end of five chukkers. It was announced tentatively the last three chukkers of the match would be played Friday.

Capt. C. A. Wilkinson scored five of the Army goals and Stewart Inglenart counted four times for Greentree.

ANGELS TRIM SOLONS

Crowd of 12,463 Fans Watches Locals Win Eleven-Inning Game from Senators

Maybe this night ball will solve the rabbit-ball situation, which will be something, anyway.

Although it was not a warm night, none of the fans seemed to be bothered with the cold. In fact, it was very pleasant out there as far as we were concerned and we had no overcoat.

The fans seem to get a big thrill out of all outfield catches. In fact a lot of catches that wouldn't get much of a tumble in the daytime were cheered quite lustily last night. Jigger Statz, Johnny Moore and Frank Osborn, however, did pull off three rather sensational running catches, while the Angels also made one double-play, which also met the fancy of the crowd. Double-plays look something like those Pop Warner reverses under the big lights.

FLYNN HURLS ROUTE

Flynn pitched the full eleven innings for the Senators and it was errors that ruined his mound performance. Three of the Angels' five runs were the result of Sacramento miscues.

Art Delaney was the starting Angel hurler, but he was replaced by Yerkes in the eighth when the Solons rallied across three runs to tie the score. Two of the Sacramento scores were unearned while the one in the ninth was the result of Statz's error. Yerkes, after yielding that ninth-inning rally, pitched steady ball to get credit for the victory.

The night ball apparently bothers the hitters for there were fifteen strikeouts, Flynn getting seven of them and Delaney and Yerkes splitting eight.

The Angels started the scoring in the fourth inning, rushing across three runs, two of them coming in on a wild throw to first by Ray French on a play that would have retired the side. With one away Schulmerich walked and Jacobs followed with a single to left. Haney flied to Osborn but Johnny Moore singled to right, Schulmerich scoring and Jacobs going to third. Hannah then hit a slow one down to French, who threw the ball over Coyle's head into a mess of photographers in back of first base. Both Jacobs and Moore came home but Hannah was out trying to take second, Coyle to Wirts to Backer.

SOLONS TIE SCORE

After blanking the Solons for seven innings Delaney wobbled in the eighth when the Sacs tied the score on three hits and an error. Backer singled to left for a starter but was forced by Osborn. Hoag hit a slow roller down the third-base line that Haney failed to come up with. It was scored as an error but it's doubtful whether Haney could have retired the flying Hoag at first even by cleanly handling the pellet. Brick Eldred then bounced a double off the left-field fence to score both Osborn and Hoag. McLaughlin was out on a called third strike but Wirts singled over second and Eldred raced home with the tying tally. Yerkes then took the mound and disposed of Flynn for the third out.

The Angels again took the lead by scoring a run after two were out in their half of the eighth when Carl Dittmar doubled to the base of the left-field tower and counted on Schulmerich's one-base shot to right.

Yerkes fanned French to open the Sacramento ninth but Koehler, batting for Bryan, singled to left. Vinci ran for Koehler. Backer also singled. Demaree, batting for Osborn, popped to Sigafoos. Hoag then lined to center and Statz dropped the ball after getting it in his hands, Vinci scoring and the runners going to second and third on the error. Eldred was walked and Yerkes proceeded to end the inning by fanning McLaughlin.

The Angel eleventh started with Hannah reaching first on McLaughlin's low throw. Yerkes forced Truck at second, Hannah doing a fancy dive after tripping over French's foot. When Sigafoos fanned for the second out it looked as though it was all over, but along came Statz with his winning triple to right and night baseball was a success as far as the Angels were concerned. Quinn Leading Race Drivers

By winning three of the six races on last Saturday night's auto racing program at the Legion Ascot Speedway, Jimmy Sharp, 'matinee idol' of the dirt track game, gave his standing a big boost in the competition for the 1930 championship of the Southwest, it was disclosed yesterday by statistics released by A. C. Pillsbury of the American Automobile Association.

A similar 'clean sweep' for the San Pedro youngster in this Saturday night's second afterdark program of the season would put him ahead of the veteran Francis Quinn, it was stated. Quinn has 335 points to his credit, amassed by spectacular driving of his Miller Special, while Sharp, who has been compiling a phenomenal winning streak at the helm of his Garnant Special holds 297 points toward the year's crown.

Walt May, who has changed mounts and will henceforth be seen at the throttle of the Padre Special No. 1, a car which was on the suspended list for some time but which has just been reinstated by Pillsbury, is in third place with 237 digits to his credit.

Standing of the pilots who will go to the post in Saturday night's six-event program was announced yesterday as follows:

Driver—	Points
Francis Quinn	335.76
Jimmy Sharp	297.18
Walt May	237.26
"Swede" Smith	149.30
Charley Gelston	90.58
"Speed" Hinkley	86.43
Ernie Triplett	82.81
"Shorty" Cantlon	72.20
Carl Ryder	77.06
Melvin McKee	59.70

Alma Triumphs in Border Race

AGUA CALIENTE (Mex.) July 22.—Alma, 5-year-old Sir Martin mare, found a spot where she could win this afternoon and took down the Rainier Claiming Handicap, featured number on the race program here. Alma dropped down in class from her last efforts to easily trim the field of eight by a length, drawing away.

Second race, five and one-half furlongs, claiming—Rendezvous, first, (Stranak;) Woodcut, second, (Logan;) Bush Buck, third, (Fischer.) Time, 1:07 4-5.

Third race, five furlongs, claiming—Puss Budget, first, (Johns;) Speedy, second, (Turk;) Ella Madeline, third, (Wood.) Time, 1:00 1-5.

Fourth race, seven furlongs, the Shasta, claiming—Hopeless, first, (Woolf;) Heroakel, second, (McHugh.) Flora La Breton, third, (Johns.) Time, 1:27.

Fifth race, one mile, the Rainier claiming handicap — Alma, first, (Johns;) Money's Worth, second, (Dalsell;) Shasta Nut, third, (Miller.) Time, 1:40 2-5.

Sixth race, six furlongs, claiming—Sunny Corn, first, (Jones;) Telcolote, second, (Rinue;) Captain Gilbert, third, (Vernier.) Time, 1:13.

Seventh race, seven furlongs, claiming—Bad Boy, first, (Bertschy;) Trinket, second, (West;) Verdevale, third, (Johns.) Time, 1:27 2-5.

First race, five and one-half furlongs claiming—Unjucky, first, (Logan;) Hereakel, second, (Turk;) Emma Moagland, third, (Bertschy.) Time, 1:07 2-5.

Max Aquires Country Villa

NEW YORK, July 22. (Exclusive)—Joe Jacobs, his American business agent, received word from Max Schmeling, world's heavyweight champion, today that Max just had purchased a villa in Badsaarow, in a health resort garden spot not far from Berlin. There Schmeling will rest for two or three months to recover from the groin injury he suffered when Jack Sharkey struck him the blow a month ago that gave the German the title. Jacobs plans to sail for Europe to superintend Max's convalescence as soon as he has attended the New York premiere of Schmeling's first motion-picture starring vehicle, "Liebe Im Ring," to be screened here August 8.

champion, just barely got in with a 158, while Lloyd Nordstrom, the dark horse from Davenport, Iowa, who topped the field yesterday with a 72, took a bad 84 today for a 156.

This only resemblances to an "upset" all day were the failures of two college stars, Harry Moller of Quincy, Ill., and Gibson Dunlap of Los Angeles, to qualify. Both had comfortable scores yesterday but ripped up their cards in disgust today.

Lehman, whose chief bid to golfing fame heretofore has been the Big Ten championship he captured three years ago while at Purdue, shot the steadier game today. He was one over par on four greens but made up slightly by bagging a pair of birdies. He was out in 37 and back by the same score and his total was but one stroke higher than his 73 of yesterday.

Evans literally burned up the homeward stretch and would have equaled par except for the bad eighteenth. He went out with a 37 one over par and came home with an even par 35, for a 72, the lowest round of the day. Poor putting and hooked shots off the tee netted him a 75 yesterday.

second and last round by eliminating Virginia Rice, Boston, 6-1, 6-3.

Two other Californians, Mrs. L. A. Harper of San Francisco, winner of the Longwood tourney last week, and Josephine Cruickshank, Santa Ana, were deadlocked in a second-round match at six games all, when the rain stopped play.

The draw will bring Sarah Palfrey and Miss Gladman together tomorrow, when Miss Weisel and Miss Hilleary clash. Miss Morrill will meet the winner of the interrupted Mianne Palfrey-Mary Greef match and Miss Burkhardt will engage a sister-Californian, either Mrs. Harper or Miss Cruickshank.

The doubles play, slated to start this afternoon, was delayed by rain.

In the second round Miss Cruickshank defeated Mrs. Mary Lamme, 6-1, 3-6, 6-3.

Miss Weisel defeated Margaret Blake, Lenox, 3-6, 6-1, 7-5.

Mianne Palfrey defeated Louise McFarland, Pasadena, 5-7, 6-4, 9-7

PROS TO STUDY JONES'S SHOTS

Superspeed Camera Used to Catch Technique

Professional Golfers Body Back of Test

Hope to Standardize Method of Teaching

ATLANTA, July 22. (AP)—A photographic study of the golfing wizardry of Bobby Jones which one golf expert described as the "greatest forward step in golf teaching" ever made has been completed here with a super-speed camera taking 3200 pictures a second.

BOBBY JONES

Details of the study, made for the Professional Golfers Association of America at the East Lake Country Club, Bobby's home course, yesterday, was revealed today.

C. Francis Jenkins of Washington, inventor of television and broadcasting of motion pictures; George Sargent, former president of the P. G. A., and John W. Ogle, a cameraman, were in charge of the work.

The world's greatest golfer executed his strokes in actual shots while the camera, one of four of its kind in the world, roared wildly as its highspeed mechanism recorded the strokes for posterity.

After the tests Jones demonstrated a few practice strokes on the fairway and ended the afternoon by dropping one 180-yard iron shot into the hole.

Sargent said there has been "too much guess work and tradition in the teaching of golf" and the machine "is the only thing we have found that will show what actually takes place in a golfing stroke, in every detail. It is the purpose of the P. G. A., to make a complete set of shots by Bobby Jones, the greatest of the modern golfers; and of Harry Vardon, greatest of the old masters of golf, and of Miss Joyce Wethered, greatest of women players," he said.

"When these three sets are completed, carefully selected strokes will be printed for distribution among the members of the P. G. A., for their own study and guidance in the teaching of golf. It is my firm conviction these pictures will clear up for the first time, and for all time to come, the disputed and misunderstood details and phases of the golfing stroke." He said the tests were the greatest forward step ever taken in golf teaching.

The superspeed camera is operated by an automobile starter with two batteries attached, giving it eight horsepower. O. B. Keller, golf writer for the Atlantic Journal, describing the tests, said "The 200 feet of film shot through it in one second with a noise like the ripping up of 40,000 linen sheets. I told Bobby he never need do any flinching because of gallery noises, any more. He didn't seem to mind the fiendish racket at all."

Bobby, himself a graduate in mechanical engineering at the Georgia School of Technology, evinced intense interest.

PRESIDIO CITY
REPRESENTING AN ENTERPRISE OF NATIONAL IMPORT
In every city of railroad significance throughout the nation, wherever you listen to investment conversation the name of PRESIDIO is now being heard in ever increasing volume.

Our organization procedure in California will require the services of salesmen with subdivision experience and those familiar with Landowner's (oil) Royalty.

We present our enterprise at Presidio to salesmen as a deal with a conscience. It is our conviction, from the standpoint of the investor and high earnings for the salesmen, that nowhere in the United States today can there be found a combination of conditions and happenings that can equal those now existing at Presidio.

RADIO BROADCAST
2 STATIONS!
Here's a deal that will keep your selling morale up to 100% and if you will follow instructions you can be assured of high earnings.
